Contributions may be sent to R. S. Howard, treasurer of the Associated Charities, at Ladd & Tilton Bank; to V. R. Manning, secretary, 411 Commercial block, or to The Oregonian. Contributions of clothing should be sent to the Associated Charities, 411

While the contributions to the fresh air fund of the Associated Charities received yesterday were slight, the fund is nearly up to $1900 and it is probable that the $3000 sought will be provided before the season closes.

Secretary Manning yesterday went to Beaverton and vicinity to look over property in that section for a suitable site to be considered for the location of the proposed fresh air farm which will be purchased and developed fiext season if the funds over and above the expense of the fresh air outings of the present season are sufficient. Property at the seasone and in several other localities also has been in-

Mork Goes On Merrily.

In the meantime, the outfitting and departure of children to be entertained at the homes of generous people in the country goes forward and scarcely a day passes that does not see three or four children made happy in the beginning of a fresh air vacation.

Mrs. C. W. Allen, of Purdy's Landing near Newberg, wrote to the Charities asking them to send two little colored boys to her for a vacation, since she feared that some of the colored children might have falled to get pfaces and been disappointed. Yesterday Charles and Richard Johnson, outfitted children might have fathed to see and been disappointed. Yesterday Charles and Richard Johnson, outfitted for the trip and fairly gleaming with delight at the prospect, were started on their way to Purdy's Landing to be guests of Mrs. Allen.

Vaughn, of 144 East Thirty-Fifth street, reading in The Oregonian of the effort that is being made to find someone who will take "Charlie" to his grandmother in Pendleton, yes-terday offered to take care of the child until a person could be found who would take him to Pendleton. When she reached the office there were four either little fellows there in the same was parterned. Parker said she did not believe other little fellows there in the same desolate condition as Charlie.

fellows until arrangements can be made for them.

The woman who had Charlie while he was in Silverton has written the Associated Charities asking that if any arrangements can be made she be permitted to adopt the child legally.

Among the people who offered places for mothers for fresh air outlings yesterday were Mrs. C. A. Lindeman, of Crabtree, and a woman in Wheeler who said she would antertain a mother and two children.

VISIT PROMISE

Merchants From All Parts of State Write of Intention to Attend Convention and Activities Are Planned for Week.

Of the first four prospective vistors to Portland during Buyers' week, August 10 to 15, to ask for places on the Ad Club luncheon programme, August 12, for one-minute talks boosting their home towns one is a woman, Mrs. A. Rosenthal, of McCleary, Wash. Mrs. Rosenthal is a dealer in dry goods, furnishings and shoes. She was here during Buyers' week last year and was one of the central figures in the activities.

The prospect of delivering a booster the brospect of delivering a booster the prospect of delivering a booster the brospect of delivering a booster than the brospect of delivering a brospect of delivering a booster than the brospect of delivering a brospect of delivering a talk before a large assemblage, which probably will be composed mostly of men, evidently has no terrors for her for she says tersely in her letter: Kindly enter my name as one of the competitors in the one-minute talk. It is hoped that other women may follow her example as a galaxy of women orators would prove quite a novelty, especially if they should win one or more of the prizes, of which there will be three.

Molalla Editor Gets Chance. G. J. Taylor, editor of the Molalia loneer, writes that "the boys here rish me to enter my name for the ne-minute contest boosting the home He will be given a chance. G. Newport wants to tell about the wonders of Hermiston, Or. M. A. Lynch, of Lynch & Roberts, general merchants, is on the programme to boost Redmond. There is still room for 16 more.

"I shall endeavor to attend the Buyers' convention next month," writes George T. Baldwin, of the Baldwin Hardware Company, Klamath Falls. "The idea of a reunion of the merchants of the state is a good one and, and from any purchases they may real other localities also has been investigated recently.

A fresh air farm similar to that conducted by Life is contemplated, which will assure a permanent haven whither children and tired working mothers may be sent and cared for during the hot weather every Summer. If the farm can be established much of the uncertainties that attend the fresh air work as conducted will be removed. It was planned last year to raise a fund sufficient to establish the farm and it looks now as if this dream might be realized before another season.

Work Goes On Merrily.

FRANCHISE IS ACCEPTABLE

Portland & Oregon City Company her husband would kill himself, but Will Proceed With Advertising.

> The Portland & Oregon City Railway Company will acceptathe franchise for an interurban line on the East Side to connect up with a line now being built from Oregon City to Portland, according to announcement made yesterday to City Commissioner Daly by L. M. Lepper, attorney for the company. The franchise as fixed by the Council last week will be advertised at once. It was sent yesterday to the Dock Commission for approval under the Zeigler common terminal amendment.

There was some question about the company being willing to accept the franchise because of the amendments put in last week providing for the granting of six fares for 25 cents and giving the Council the power at any time to require the company to remove its tracks from street to street as traffic conditions necessitate. Mr. Lepper said yesterday that the company had decided to take the franchise with these provisions included.

The franchise will be adventiged.

Public hearings on the alleged cause of industrial unrest will take place under the direction of B. M. Manly, of the United States Commission on Industrial Relations, August 19-22, probably in one of the rooms of the Federal building. This commission was created by Congress, and its members are visting various cities taking evidence.
