

WHITES VICTORS IN FINE POLO BATTLE

Thrilling Match Brings Out Best Play Ever Seen on Waverly Grounds.

BOTH SIDES SHOW FORM

Vancouver and Home Teams Evenly Matched, Riding of Visitors Is Praised and Victory Is Credited to Heroic Effort.

After losing the first game to the Vancouver players, the Waverly Country Club's polo team, with a different lineup, evened up the score yesterday, winning by a short head in the fastest and most exciting match ever witnessed on the local grounds.

The field itself was faster than it ever has been before, which naturally had its effect on the play, while the Waverly Whites wanted to show that they were just as good as the Vancouver Blues, and were exceptionally anxious to even up the games against the visitors.

To Harry Robertson should go much of the credit for the victory, for he played the right game against such hard and clean-hitting opponents.

Mounted on fast ponies and being naturally a long strider, he just set out to make the pace from the start and forced the game all the way through.

Team Work Laundered. Harry Corbett played a steady, sound game all the time, while Victor Johnson put up his best showing to date.

Between Clifford Weatherwax and Dr. George S. Whitehead, who alternated at one, there was little or nothing to choose. Each rode his horse and each was given the job at the time, either fitting into the combination equally well.

On the visiting side, Captain Chaplin stood out, in spite of the fact that he was not hitting as hard or as well as he did Saturday. It is in his generalship, though, that the main strength of the team lies, for it is his ability to take in and control the general attack, while losing none of his personal effectiveness in so doing.

Grosvenor, who, by his way, came a cropper here, long interval, showed some fine horsemanship, the Vancouver men, if anything, having a trifle the better of the local team in this respect, while their hitting was cleaner and harder.

Substitution Weakens Visitors. In justice to the visitors, it must be said that their combination lost something in the substitution of Van Boon for Snowden, though with Robertson in the Blues' lineup last Saturday, the game might easily have come Portland's way.

Defeat Narrowly Averted. By this time the excitement was intense, as but half a goal separated the two teams and a shot either way would settle the match.

With the last chukkah up the Vancouver men made a desperate effort to draw level, putting across two nice goals through Chaplin and Fordham.

With the largest gallery on the clubhouse side that has been known any day but a Saturday, the spectators showed intense interest.

The lineup: Vancouver, No. 1, Waverly Whites, E. Von Roon, No. 1, Waverly Whites, F. J. Grosvenor, No. 2, Victor Johnson, E. S. Chaplin, No. 3, Harry L. Corbett, J. G. Fordham, No. 4, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham, No. 5, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham, No. 6, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham, No. 7, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham, No. 8, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham, No. 9, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham, No. 10, Harry Robertson, J. G. Fordham.
