

FACTORY OUTLET SALE

375 WASHINGTON STREET, CORNER WEST PARK

To Be Sold at Once!

$20,000 Stock Ladies' Coats, Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Petticoats, Waists

To Be Sold at Once!

ALL THOUGHT OF PROFIT MUST BE THROWN TO THE WINDS!!!

The Manufacturers Demand Their Money and Such Demands Mean QUICK, CONCERTED ACTION! The Conditions MUST BE MET, and to Meet Them We Inaugurate Today THE GREATEST BONA FIDE COAT AND SUIT SACRIFICE EVER MADE NECESSARY IN THIS CITY!

NEW STORE!

NEW LOCATION!

NEW FALL GOODS!

SUITS

LOT NO. 1—Garments formerly sold for $15 to $18

$5.00

LOT NO. 2—Garments formerly sold for $20 to $25

$7.95

LOT NO. 3—Garments formerly sold for $24 to $37.50

$9.95

COATS

LOT NO. 1—A special assortment—some excellent values

$1.25

LOT NO. 2—Here are some Coats that you have often paid as high as $15 and $18 for

$5.95

LOT NO. 3—An array of excellent Coats that formerly sold as high as $20 to $24

$7.95

SILK PETTICOATS, all colors, Special $1.47

DRESSES

LOT NO. 1—These Dresses formerly sold from $10 to $12

$3.75

LOT NO. 2—Values that run as high as $15 to $20

$6.95

LOT NO. 3—A choice collection of nobby Dresses, values as high as $20 to $30

$9.95

SALE STARTS FRIDAY (THIS) MORNING AT 9 O'CLOCK

No C. O. D. No Phone Orders

375 Washington, Corner West Park

No Approvals No Refunds

NEW SITE PROPOSED

Using Postoffice Block for Auditorium Is Urged.

EAST SIDERS BACK PLAN

Space for Federal Courts, Subpost-office, Postal Savings Bank and Public Market Provided—Senators Give Support.

Support of the Oregon delegation in Congress has been obtained by the East Side Business Men's Club in a campaign started to procure the old postoffice block at Morrison, Yamhill, Fifth and Sixth streets as a site for the proposed public auditorium. Word has been received from Senators Lane and Chamberlain that they have taken the proposition up with officials in Washington.

The plan provides for space on the lower floor for United States courts, a sub-postoffice and space for the postal savings bank. In the basement on the Yamhill side, it is proposed to make room for a public market.

The old postoffice block, reads a communication sent to the City Commission by the East Siders, "originally was dedicated to the city as a public market block by D. H. Lowndale et al., in 1852, and on September 2, 1859, the city, without right, decided this then market block to the United States Government for a postoffice block for a consideration of $15,000; some years later the city tried to get it back, but the United States retained title under the doctrine of estoppel, the city having accepted it for longer than the ten-year period, allowing the United States Government to improve it.

ness to make money, there is no good reason why, if Portland will get busy and all pull together, the city authorities, commercial and civic bodies, and take it up with the Federal authorities, even Congress if need be, that the Federal Government will not deed this block back to us as an equitable justice, or give us a perpetual lease at $1 a year, or the city tender $15,000 and have the Government deed it back to the city, if estoppel shuts out the reversion.

Uses Are Outlined. Then use the old postoffice block for a public auditorium, Federal courts, postal savings bank, general delivery sub-station and public markets. On ground floor, level with streets, on Morrison-street side, use one-quarter for the postal savings bank department and the other quarter for a general delivery sub-station. Use the south half on Yamhill street for public market purposes, for dairy and other products, as an adjunct to the curb markets now in operation; use the second floor for a public auditorium, arched over Yamhill street, if need be, to make the auditorium large enough, this giving 200x300 feet for the auditorium and stage. Then over the entrance and foyer and clear of the auditorium proper, so as not to kill the acoustics, let an up-structure run 10 or 12 stories high on the Morrison-street side for Federal courts, a historical museum and Federal offices."

ESSAYS AND LABELS DUE. Competitors in the Oregonian's home industries contest for July must have their essays and labels in the Oregonian office by tonight. Announcement of the winners and publication of the prize essays will be made in next Monday's issue. Six cash prizes for labels from Oregon products and five cash prizes for essays are distributed by The Oregonian every month. The essays are on the subject, "Why Oregon People Should Do All Their Buying From Oregon Manufacturers. Everything Else Being Equal."

NEW PERKINS HOTEL. Most conveniently located hotel in the city; every modern convenience; monthly rates, $15 up.—Adv.

2 CONFESS HOLDUPS

Officers Among Victims of Pair of Robbers.

TWO-STORY LEAP USELESS

Man Caught After Jump and Dash to Escape Detectives—Ex-Convicts Tell of Work as Highwaymen in Portland and Seattle.

Two men arrested yesterday morning by Detectives Pat Moloney, Swennes, Goltz and Coleman have confessed to six holdups in Portland within the past week, and also to a number of like crimes in Seattle during the Potlatch in Seattle, they said, and yesterday morning the men were arrested and charged with the crimes. When taken in custody at First and Burnside streets the men at first emphatically denied their guilt.

Martin is at present on parole from Folsom penitentiary, California, where he was serving a 17-year sentence for shooting Harry Foley, the well known sport promoter, a few years ago. He was arrested in San Francisco and convicted under the name of Sampson. Wilson served a term in Folsom penitentiary for highway robbery. The men will probably be arraigned before Municipal Judge Stevenson today on a highway robbery charge.

Wednesday night—G. A. Keith, 94 East Eighth street, held up and robbed of $1.60. R. H. Hedlund, of 961 East Thirty-sixth street, held up at Thirty-first and Mason streets, Alameda Park, but ran away and nothing was taken. Monday night—H. J. McEachran, of 341 Eleventh street, held up at the head of Jefferson street and $8 taken from him. Unknown man and woman held up in North Portland. Open-face gold watch secured. This robbery has never been reported to the police, but Martin and Wilson declare they held up the pair.

Friday night—Charles McCanta and woman in Washington Park. E. J. Billings, of 264 Twelfth street, held up by two men in front of his own house. He called for help and the men ran. During the Potlatch in Seattle, they said, they were walking in the park with a woman. A forest ranger, they said, was another of their victims.

Evidence that these two men were responsible for the numerous holdups in Portland has been gathered by the detectives within the past few days, and yesterday morning the men were arrested and charged with the crimes. When taken in custody at First and Burnside streets the men at first emphatically denied their guilt.

ACCUSED DOESN'T APPEAR

Bench Warrant Issued for Alleged Illegal Practitioner. Failure of attorneys for H. Dudley Young, a physician accused of practicing without a license, to produce their client in District Court yesterday led Judge Jones to issue a bench warrant and the Constable was directed to find Young.

The District Attorney had issued a warrant at the request of Dr. Harry McKay, president of the State Board of Medical Examiners, and the case had been set for next Monday. Through error the case had been transferred from Judge Jones' court to Judge Dayton's. Then, when Young was brought in Wednesday, he asked release until yesterday on account of illness in his family.

127 ARE BAPTIZED

Army of Cultists Brave Chill Waters of Willamette.

WOMAN, 80, IS IMMersed

Apostolic Faith Mission Holds Demonstration of Conversion at Fulton and Cool Breezes Set Teeth Chattering.

One hundred and twenty-seven converts to the cult of the Apostolic Faith Mission were immersed in the cold waters of the Willamette River near Fulton station yesterday afternoon in the annual baptismal service of the organization.

Several hundred others lined the river banks and sang weird songs and waved their arms to the shivering 127 people standing waist-deep in the muddy water as they were receiving the blessings from one who was termed "John."

The ceremony started about 3 o'clock. Several tents were erected on the river bank at Fulton, opposite the Oaks, and in these shelters the 127 converts changed their street clothes for others which, it is said, had been previously blessed by high officials of the church. One feeble woman, who appeared to be nearly 80 years old, stepped into the river and bravely made her way, assisted by a line of men in the water, to where the baptizers stood. Another woman, about 24 years old, underwent the immersion, and later stood upon the bank of the river. Her teeth chattered and she shivered violently. The men, however, did not appear to mind either the cold or the water. The immersion is an annual custom of the Apostolic Faith Mission. It is generally held at the close of the annual camp meeting, which this Summer is being held near Peninsula Park.

"BUG JUICE" REPLY WAITS

G. C. Mason, Investigator, Says Price Subject Is Committee Affair.

Chairman George C. Mason, of the "bug juice" investigating committee, one of the sub-committees of the general investigating body made up jointly of members of the Non-Partisan and Taxpayers' Leagues, to probe county affairs, will make no reply, publicly, to the open letter addressed to him yesterday through The Oregonian by County Commissioner Lightner. The subject, he says, will be handled before the committee.

Commissioner Lightner's letter quoted Mr. Mason's assertion that he had been offered the identical "bug juice" bought by the county at $1.75 a gallon, whereas the Commissioners have been paying $2, and asked him to show where the insect exterminator could be bought for that figure. The letter also sets forth that the manufacturers and their authorized agents say the price is never reduced and that no one has authority to sell the stuff at the rate quoted by Mr. Mason. A private meeting of the general investigating committee will be held this morning. This will be followed by a public meeting to which all interested will be invited. The date for the public meeting has not yet been set.

STREET EXTENSION IS HOPE

Residents in Vicinity of Colored Church Site Make Last Move.

In a last hope of being able to stop the construction of a negro church at East First and Halsey streets by street extension proceedings, property owners of that district will appear before the City Commission this morning and urge that body to commence condemnation proceedings against the property upon which the church is being built. When the condemnation proceedings are instituted it is proposed to have the Council by petition commence proceedings to extend Halsey street through the church property. The property owners have been trying for about two weeks to find some way to oust the negroes, but as yet have been unsuccessful. A lively fuss is expected this morning when the problem is presented to the Council.

SIX ARE CONSIDERED

SELECTION OF BISHOP SCADDING'S SUCCESSOR TALKED OF.

Candidates Before the Ecclesiastical Board Include Clergymen Stated in Various States.

The list of possibilities for successor to the late Bishop Charles Scadding of the Oregon diocese, Episcopal Church, now under consideration by the ecclesiastical board, has dwindled from a score or more candidates to six, a member of the ecclesiastical board reports. Those under consideration for selection as bishop of the Oregon diocese are: Rev. C. M. Lathrop, rector of the Church of the Advent, San Francisco; Dean Paul Matthews, of the Cathedral of Merciful Savior, Fairbairn, Minn.; Rev. J. H. Hopkins, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Chicago; Rev. D. L. Parsons, rector of St. Mark's Church, Berkeley, Cal.; Rev. Walter B. Sumner, dean of the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, Chicago, and Bishop S. M. Griswold, of Salina, Kan. The successor to the late Bishop Scadding will be chosen at the annual meeting of the ecclesiastical board, which will be held in Portland September 16. A report from Burska, Cal., that Rev. Maxwell B. Long, of Hyde Park, Cincinnati, was the probable selection of the ecclesiastical board as bishop of the Oregon diocese, was declared by a member of the board yesterday to be unfounded.

LOOT AGENCY'S DOOM SEEN

Detectives Say Arrest of Six Is Last of Worst "Fence."

With six persons in the City Jail charged with receiving stolen goods, Detectives Hellyer and Tackbarry believe they have broken up one of the worst "fences," or agencies for stolen property, in the Northwest. Edward Thorwald, a bartender, was arrested yesterday and W. H. Anstey, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. George Haase were seized Wednesday. They are all held under $1000 bail. In Thorwald's effects, yesterday were found numerous articles which the detectives declare are loot.