TRAFFIC MEASURE IS BEING ALTERED

New Features to Be Included and Consideration of Ordinance Set for August 13.

DANGER SIGNALS PROPOSED

Inspector Declares Chalk Lines at Intersections of Business Streets Are Big Factor in Controlling Pedestrians.

Extensive plans are being made to improve local traffic conditions and it is thought likely that Commissioner Brewster's traffic ordinance will be imon so as to include several new features.

The chalkline at the intersections of Third and Morrison, Third and Washington, Fifth and Washington, Sixth and Washington and Broadway and Washington streets, which have been in place for several days, will be made permanent, and it is planned to place chalklines at the intersection of all downtown streets and at various busy corners of the East Side. More than 100 signs warning pedes-trians, automobiles and streetcars of dangerous crossings and street inter-sections will be posted by the Depart-ment of Public Works. Most of these be placed at streets where the grades of intersecting streets are dif-ferent, such as at Eighteenth and Washington streets, where the sign will be placed about 200 feet from the intersection, north on Eighteenth, to enable automobiles to slow down before reaching the steep down grade to Danger Points Marked.

Another of these signs will be placed at Twenty-third and Washington streets to warn automobiles of the Portland Heights streetcars, which come down to Washington street obscured by a small depot. Accidents occur here frequently because of the steep down grade of the car track and the ignorance of autoists of the railway's location. location Mr. Brewster's traffic ordinance was scheduled to come before the council yesterday, but at his request the hearyesterday, but at his request the hearing on the measure was postponed until Thursday, August 13. The Commissioner probably will amend it to include several new features, one being the posting of warning signs.

The report of A. B. Kirkpatrick, traffic inspector, which was filed last night, following a close observation of local traffic conditions of more than one week, is in part as follows: "The following intersections within the congested district have been painted with traffic control lines to regulate pedestrian travel: Third and Morrison streets, Third and Washing-ton streets, Fifth and Washington streets, Sixth and Washington streets, venth and Washington streets. The figures compiled from the traffic survey data indicate the number of pedestrians cutting across each of these intersections, together with those crossing the street beyond same. "The total pedestrian movement over all five of these intersections in an average eight-hour day is 223,094 persons. Of this number there were II per cent, or 25,080, cutting through the intersections, and 19 per cent, or 22,809, crossing the streets beyond. "Observations conducted on all five of these intersections for the past week indicate a total of 2480 persons in eight hours cutting through or attempting to cut through the lines bounded by the curbs. This indicates a reduction of 22,510 pedestrians cuta reduction of 22,610 pedestrians cut-ting across the intersection, or an im-provement over the old conditions of 90 per cent."

IDLE MEN COST $12,000 56 READY Reports Made by Commissioner

Brewster and Health Officer. Assistance given to the unemployed last Winter cost nearly $12,000, according to statements filed by City Commissioner Brewster and City Health Officer Marcellus with the City Cour cil yesterday.

The Council appropriated $11,175.78 from the general fund to provide for payment of personal service in Commissioner Brewster's department yesterday. Mr. Brewster explained that large portion of the expenditure had been made for employment of men last Winter on the improvement of drive-ways in Mount Tabor park, an improvement which he had not contemplated making until next year. The remainder had been spent for tools such as ham mers and sledges for the unemployed which are of no further use to the de-

Health Officer Marcellus billed the general fund for $308.90, which he expended from the department fund to The Council transferred that amount from the general fund to the health fund yesterday.

SUNSET'S BILL IS BLENDED

'Circle 17" Being Produced at Star This Week Is Big Attraction, While Majestic Has Unusual Offering for Patrons.

At the Globe Theater today is being shown the best animal drama yet produced by the Selig Company, who are the leaders in this style of picture. The story is of a missionary lost in the jungle. He makes friends with the wild animals of all kinds and protects them when he can from hunters.

A traveler gets a snapshot picture of him, which, on being shown in Engiand, is recognized and a relief party sets out to find him. His daughter (Kathlyn Williams) goes with them. In this picture is seen wild beasts of all species, in action, and taken, all in all, is the most interesting of its kind yet shown. On the same bill is "Love the Clairvoyant." a drama with Maurice Costello in the lead. "Buddy's Downfall" is an excellent comedy, another experience in the evolution of shown the best animal drama yet proother experience in the evolution of Buddy as a man among women. Paul Kelly and pretty little Mary Anderson play the leads. The story is written by Buddy himself. This programme will be at the Globe Theater up to and including Saturday night.

The result of superstitious and exaggerated refigious fervor are portrayed in a wonderful photoplay at the Majestic Theater, "The Wrath of the Gods." The beautiful scenes are laid Gods." The beautiful scenes are laid in Japan.

The plot is woven about the belief that a certain Count and his family would bring disaster to the island if any more of the family married.

A sailor, stranded on the coast, falls in love with the daughter of the Count, converts them to the Christian religion and provokes the anger of the natives. After the marriage the natives kill the father and hound the couple. The gods were swift in their wrath and the island was soon in flames from a volcano.

The play is a most stupendous one. The characters are taken by Japanese. This is, perhaps, Miss Tsura Aoki's first appearance on a local screen.

The News Pictorial concludes the programme.

For really sensational features the seventh episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery," entitled "The End of the Auto Bandits," eclipses every attraction offered in weeks. The one big stirring feature is where an auto, laden with men, plunges over an embankment and is engulfed in a surging stream.

The Sunset Theater is offering an ex-ceptionally good example of a blended show in the new bill, which was shown for the first time yesterday. Rupert Julian and Elsie Jane Wilson, new acquisitions to the Rex Universal Company, are featured in a two-part drama, distinctly a surprise.

One of the funniest films that has ever been seen here is being shown. It is an animated cartoon by J. R. Bray, "Colonel Heza Liar, Explorer." The pictures take the old explorer. A dramatic production with a decided atmosphere of mystery about it is "Circle 17," which is being shown at the Star Theater.
