The new Cosack effect is bound to be a favorite, and military lines are prominent. Tunics are a feature of almost every model, while the coats are longer and very much fuller. Broadcloth, gabardine, fine serges seem to be in the lead so far as materials are concerned, and colors are, without exception, rich and sober.

Come in and see the attractive Fall Suits now on display in our Garment Salons. Prices range from $19.50 to $62.50

OUR ONCE-A-WEEK Review of New BOOKS

"THE EYES OF THE WORLD," by Harold Bell Wright—A purposeful book is this latest and sixth consecutive work of Harold Bell Wright, which has just been received from the publishers. In the story Mr. Wright has offered his public, and will meet the approval of all lovers of decency, for its reason for being is admittedly a plea for cleaner and more wholesome art and literature. The setting is in California where the fair cities and the surrounding mountains furnish worthy material for the tale. The direct character story combines to make "The Eyes of the World" worthy the pen of this favorite writer.
Price, $1.50 Net.

"THE STORY OF WAINSTILL BAXTER," by Kate Douglas Wiggin—Wainstill and his sister, Polly, Penelope and Timothy—the loved creations of Mrs. Wiggin—live in a "house" story from start to finish—your sympathies are aroused at every turn, and you feel keenly the joys and sorrows of the quaint New England folk around whom the story revolves. Mrs. Wiggin's evident affection for the characters she evolves tends to make them human and lovable to a remarkable degree. And "Wainstill" is as sweet and lovely as any while the impetuous "Patsy" and irascible "Foxy"—the patient "Tory" and tragic "Bertie" add zest to the story.
Price, $1.50 Net.

"THE BLUE BUCKLE," by William Hamilton Osborne—The subtitle of this story is "A Tale of Mystery, Love and Adventure." Surely a trinity of motifs that promise the unfolding of the tale. It's an entertaining story from start to finish, and is adequately handled.
Price, $1.25 Net.

"THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS," by Zane Grey—None of the elements of a successful Western story are lacking—the frontier, the Quaker notions of the men of that era, the virginitude, love, adventure and mystery—all combine to make a tale of supreme interest.
Price, $1.50 Net.

ROSARIANS MAKE PLANS

PICNIC WILL BE HELD AT BONNEVILLE AUGUST 23.

Special Trains to be Provided and Band Taken—No Dull Moments Are Expected During Outing.

Preparations for the first outing of the Royal Rosarians, August 23 at Bonneville, are well under way. The various committees in charge are planning to have something doing from the time the special train leaves the depot until the arrival home.

Many special entertainment features will be introduced, both on board the train and at the picnic grounds. The Royal Rosarian Band will be with the party. A novel feature is the trip and admission ticket which every person must possess. It will be similar to those which tourists will be compelled to carry on a world cruise, and will be a programme and trip ticket combined.

MT. SCOTT THREATENED

DISTRICT WARNED TO REPORT OR FACE SMALLPOX QUARANTINE.

Dr. Marcellus Declares Entire Locality Is in Danger Over Cases of 15 Girls.

"Unless immediate action is taken by the individual residents of Mt. Scott, the entire southeastern part of the city is in danger of quarantine from smallpox," said City Health Officer Marcellus yesterday. This declaration by Dr. Marcellus was made after Ada Stephens, 13 years old, 4813 Twenty-ninth avenue Southeast, had been quarantined—the tenth case in three days. At a birthday party ten days ago in the home of a smallpox patient, it is believed 15 little girls contracted the disease. Nine of the girls have been found and each is declared to be stricken. Their homes have been quarantined. Dr. Marcellus is searching for the remaining six girls, whose identity and home addresses have not been ascertained by the authorities.

When Dr. Marcellus called at the Stephens home Sunday he was told by

BUTCHERS ROUT AUTO MEN

Springville Battle Reported as Lost by "Snoopin" Invaders.

That employees of the C. L. Ross Automobile Company were routed "with losses" yesterday afternoon in a pitched battle with workmen at a Springville slaughter-house is reported at the City Hall.

Scimitars, hog skinners, horn saws and other implements, it is said, were used by the slaughter-house men to hold the "fort" against the invaders. The slaughter-house employees say the automobile men were "snoopin' around" and the automobilers declare they were merely "inspecting meat."

After a few words were exchanged the mobilization order was given and the invaders were driven out by the "army" of meatcutters.

One of the automobile men exhibited yesterday a slight wound in the wrist, which he declares was received in the "battle."

SCHOOL POLICY FOR UNION

Division of Districts Opposed and Application Is Denied.

Division of school districts was declared against at a special meeting yesterday of the District Boundary Board at the Courthouse. The petition to create a new district out of District 15 and District 6, the latter a joint district, was denied. These two districts are known locally as Pleasant Home and Lusted.

The board took the view that the tendency is to consolidate districts rather than to divide them. It was believed that the action asked would be to create a new district at the expense of taxable property and a number of children of two existing districts, one of which would be left too weak to maintain a good school.

County Superintendent Armstrong declared himself in favor of consolidation.

AUTO ACCIDENTS HURT 13

DEFECTIVE GEARS AND BRAKES NEARLY WORK FATALITIES.

Walla Walla Taxi Turns Over, Braining Six While Another Car Falls Through Rotten Bridge.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Sunday automobile accidents put 13 in the hospitals, several of them narrowly escaping the morgue. One accident was due to a defective steering gear, the other to brakes that refused to work.

A taxicab driven by J. Stewart turned a somersault on the macadam road near Tum-a-Lum Park with the result that Stewart, Robert Maloney and Fred Osborne and Miss Ada Overturn were jarred up and bruised. Another woman in the car was unhurt.

Returning from Upper Mill Creek in a new auto with seven others in the machine, W. J. Martin was unable to make his brakes work and the machine struck one end of the Wickersham bridge, where the timbers had rotted. The car crashed through, dropped 10 feet, overturned, the party falling into the water.

Reta Martin, aged 5, was pulled out supposedly dead, but was revived later. W. J. Martin at first was also thought to be drowned. Fishermen came to their rescue. Everyone in the car was hurt. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Martin and two children, Mrs. Telford and two children, August Swart and an unidentified man.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL IS IDEA

Action Wanted Because Non-Resident Tuition Fees Are Raised.

A. P. Armstrong, County Superintendent, will address a meeting in the West Portland Schoolhouse next Monday at 8 P. M. for the discussion of the organization of a union high school district. The districts interested are West Portland, Alto Park, Hilldale, Maplewood and Garden Home, the last being in Washington County.

Since the advance in tuition rates for non-resident pupils made by the Portland schools, the question of establishing union high schools is receiving much consideration in the adjoining country. It is expected that three will be organized during the present year.
