Not one word of news has come through for several days concerning British military or naval activities. Censored dispatches from Brussels and Paris have frequently referred to the presence of British troops arrayed against the forces of Germany, but not one word has been allowed to come through from any source to indicate what the numerical strength of the British field army may be, or where the units may be located.

Equal secrecy shrouds the movements of the British warships believed to be holding the German fleet in check in the North Sea.

Not one word has come through of the position of any of the British or German battleships, cruisers or torpedo-boat in these waters. So far as the general public is concerned, naval activities in European waters are a sealed book

The British War Council has decided to exclude correspondents from the forces, and it is announced that the French War Department intends to take the same action, and that probably war correspondents in Belglum will be ordered out of that state.

The Brazilian government yesterday instructed its minister at Berlin to ask for explanations and the punishment of those guilty of the alleged attacks by German soldiers on Bernardino Campos, ex-president of the state of Sao Paulo, and his wife, who are reported to have been beaten and forced across the Swiss frontier.

In fact, dealers in imported liquors will quote only prices from day to day. The supply held in this country is considered entirely inadequate for any long-continued period. Importers are cutting down orders from jobbers to 25 per cent of the order.
