HEARINGS START TODAY

FEDERAL COMMISSION OF INDUS-TRIAL RELATIONS TO SIT 3 DAYS.

Chairman Walsh Says Evidences of Unrest Are Greater in Northwest Than in Big Cities of East.

Hearings of the Federal Commission of Industrial Relations which is tour-ing the country inquiring into the causes for industrial unrest will be opened in the assembly hall of the Central Library this morning at 10 o'clock and will continue for three days, with sessions each day until 4:30 management of the Barnum & Greatest Show on Earth, which Portland next Tuesday and P. M. Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the committee, arrived in Portland last night with James O'Connell and J. B. Lennon, and M. O. Thompson, counsel for the Commission. Other members of the Commission will reach Portland this morning in time for the opening of the hearings.

"In a general way there is greater evidence of industrial discontent and unrest in the Pacific Northwest than we have encountered anywhere else on because of a special investigation made on the problem of Asiatic immigration and the smuggling of aliens into the United States. That the hearing in Portland, however, will not last past the allotted three days is the opinion expressed by the chairman.

The Commission is accompanied by a large corps of secretaries and at-

NEW LEGISLATIVE MOVE ON

Washington Committee Wants Initiation of Constitutional Changes.

OLYMUIA, Wash., Aug. 19.— (Special.)—The joint legislative committee representing organized labor, the State Grange and farmers' unions, which has stood spensor for the seven sisters initiative measure, have announced a new line of legislative endeavor. Ef-forts will be concentrated to secure pledges from all legislative candidates to favor submission of a constitutional amendment providing that future amendments may be initiated by petition, instead of first passing through he Legislature.

Efforts for submission of such a con stitutional amendment having failed at the 1911 and 1913 legislative sessions, them this year.

MISSING MAN FOUND DEAD

Bullet Hole Pierces Head of Bruner and Coin Is Gone,

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—After a search lasting two days, the body of William Brunner, a resident of Isthmus Inlet, who had been missing for nearly a week, was found in the woods today by a searching party. The body was partially buried, the feet sticking out of the ground and a bullet hole pierces the head. Mr. Brunner went fishing Thursday, it is reported, with Perry Lanning, a real estate dealer, and was not seen afterwards. .

Coroner Wilson, of Marshfield, went to Henryville this afternoon and the body was taken to the settlement late this evening. Bruner had $18 on his person when he left his home, but no money was found on the body.
