Howard Confident and Seems to Be Basing Hopes for Victory on Fanning.

PERNOLL MAY BE OPENER

Krause Is Likely to Be Portland's Twirler in First Game—Hospital List of Champions Still Is Important Factor.

Pacific Coast League Standings.

Howard's Seals today will throw out their advance guard on the Vaughn-street battleground in an attempt to feel the strength of the victorious and unbeaten Beavers. Howard has been a hard nut to crack in previous encounters and has sent word up north that he is confident of taking the Beavers' number again. The games today and tomorrow will not start until 3:30 o'clock to allow the circus crowd to get away for the game.

Howard seems to be basing his hopes mainly on Fanning, whose winning is once more in good shape, as is evidenced by his victory last week over Happy's hope, Klepper, when he was invincible in the pinches.

Southpaw Hub Pernoll is almost certain to be the opening pitcher for the visitors, with probably Portland's Krause on the mound for Walter.

In the meantime Sacramento will be at Oakland and Los Angeles will visit Venice.

Figures of Sunday's ball game show that Oakland was not deficient in hitting, for the team ran up a total of ten hits off Hig and eight in the second game. The 18 hits brought them a total of four runs, while Portland's 19 bingles amounted no less than ten. The reason for the difference lies in the difference between the swats.

Portland has more long-distance clouters than any other team. Kores and Lober alone have a pretty good record between them. They have nine triples, 20 doubles and ten home runs to their credit, while the Dutchman numbers 25 doubles, four triples and four home runs among his swats.

Davis, Spears, Rodgers, Derrick and Ryan are all long-distance hitters. On the Oakland mound, however, stand the only two who could be considered in the light of long-distance clouters, and in Sunday's games neither of the two got a single hit.

Turning to the Seals, we find a trio of handy swatmen in Schaller, Downs and Howard, while Los Angeles' best are Walter, Maggert and Rube Ellis. Venice has Bayless, Kane, Elliott and Borton, while Sacramento is nearly as bad off as the Oaks, with only Moran and Coy.

Injuries to players is still a factor to be dealt with by the Portland magnates. Bill Spears hobbled to the plate Sunday as a pinch hitter, but he was had to run for him. Ryan is still out of the game and Fred Derrick is not yet right, though he may get into the game again this week. While Hi can circle the bases, he is still a pinch runner, his trusty arm is still sore.

While both the Judge and Walter are as alien as the grave with regard to the question of the Cleveland transferees and the future of Pape, the probability is that Pape will not last out the season with the Beavers. September 1 is the last day for the magnates to make up their decision, but in the meantime the oracle prophesies that Pape will go.

"Times" baseball are none too good," was the only enigma that could be obtained from Judge McCredie on the question. The prediction is based on the smile that followed the remark.

GUS FISHER HOLDS HIS OWN

Baver Catcher Retains Batting Honors and Club Also Tops List.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—In the race for batting honors of the Pacific Coast League, the tables this week show that Gus Fisher, the Beaver catcher, held his own against Del Howard, the Seal's manager, by the slender margin of one point, which is just what he did the week before. They now stand: Fisher .352, Howard .352. They stood then: Fisher .344, Howard .342.

The Beavers' successful campaign last week against the lowly Oaks is reflected in the club batting averages, which again return to the Portland club at the top, with a percentage of .278, against .270 for Venice. Although San Francisco is within a point of second place in the game batting average for the week with the weakest of the league, Vnic, with .253, was a bar point better, just as he led by one point for second place.

In club fielding, on the other hand, the tables show it exactly turn and turn about. At the bottom of the batting averages, Lober and San Francisco top the fielding column with .967 and .963 respectively. Club fielding doesn't seem to amount to much in the general results, however, for Oakland, the tall-order, is a point behind San Francisco and heads Portland, the league leader, by three points.

The same men continue to stand out far in front week after week in heavy hitting and base running. Rodgers, of Portland, with 62 stolen bases is so far in front that there is no second, and Lober, of Portland, and Bayless, of Venice, are the two heaviest sluggers.

Lober has nine home runs and Bayless eight, but Bayless is credited with 17 three-baggers while Lober has only enough to get into the summaries. Neither man's general batting average is anything to boast of. Lober stands at .265 and Bayless at .238.

TENNIS FAVORITES WINNERS

was beaten, the tournament probably will lose its international flavor. Two matches were played on the grandstand court during the day. The usual gaily-dressed crowd saw I. C. Wright, of Boston, who holds the Southern championship, defeat W. M. Hall, of New York, in a four-set match in the morning, while in the afternoon William M. Johnston, of San Francisco, disposed of C. M. Bull, Jr., of Brooklyn, in a three-set contest on the same court.

The afternoon crowd also saw Champion McLoughlin in a three-set contest with F. J. Strudy, Jr., of New York, during which the title holder showed no disposition to be lenient with his opponent.

The heat was so great that two players defaulted in the middle of their matches. A third player, A. M. Kiddle, of Princeton, sprained his ankle during his contest with L. Beekman, of New York.

The doubles championship contest will hold the grand court tomorrow, when M. E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, and Thomas C. Bundy, of Los Angeles, will meet Dean Mathew, of Cranford, N. J., and G. M. Church, of New York. The champions were the favorites in the betting tonight.

WEE MOUSE ALARMS

Stenographers Mount Desks. Screams Fill Office.

MAN CAPTURES RODENT

Milk Bottle Used by Official at First Hailed as Hero, Later Looked on With Suspicion—Who Turned It Loose?

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Albert Rejall, secretary to Charities Commissioner Kingsbury, is the hero of the Municipal building. Armed with a club and an empty milk bottle, all alone and single-handed, he subdued and captured a mouse and rescued from their chairs and desks tops the charities department's force of fair stenographers.

Rejall used the club to defend himself and subdue the mouse and the milk bottle as a receptacle into which to drive it.

A shrill and distinctly feminine scream emanating from Mr. Kingsbury's office was the first intimation Rejall had that his services were needed.

Commissioner Kingsbury was not in at the time. Rejall, from his office into that of the commissioner, Rejall spied Miss Anna Lohman, the commissioner's confidential secretary, enacting on top of her desk. When he appeared she screamed some more.

Club and Bottle Weapons.

Rejall didn't see anything of the mouse, but he knew from the signs that there was a mouse about, so he armed himself with the club and milk bottle before going any further.

His idea was to get the mouse into the bottle, but the mouse did not approve of the idea and scurried into the next room, where several stenographers were rattling away at their typewriters. Result—more confusion and more scrambling on top of furniture, the latter move being much hampered by the prevailing fashion of narrow skirts.

Finally, however, the secretary cornered the mouse and got it into the bottle. Then all the stenographers climbed down and consented to be normally agitated by their relief was of short duration, however.

Only One Foot Kept on Floor.

The news came back shortly that the bottle in which Mr. Rejall had incarcerated the mouse had been upset and that it was at large again. It did not reappear, but the stenographers continued their day's work intermittently and with only one foot on the floor.

As has been said, Rejall was hailed as a hero for rescuing them from the mouse, but as time wore on several questions arose in the stenographers' minds. If Rejall had really wanted to rescue them, why had he not dispatched the mouse instead of rescuing it, they inquired.

Furthermore, how had a mouse got all the way up to the tenth floor of a mouseproof, fireproof building? Gradually a tendency developed to view Rejall with suspicion instead of admiration, but he wore a look of injured innocence.

Percy Brooks, a Spokane 140-pound boxer, arrived in Portland yesterday on his way to the Coos Bay county, where he hopes to obtain a few matches. Brooks will remain here a few days visiting relatives.

The Peninsula baseball team defeated the Brooklyn nine Sunday 4 to 1. In the second game of a series of three to be played for the championship of the public playgrounds, the Brooklyn team won the first game. The championship will be played next Sunday on the Mulholland field.

The football contest was the pitching of Prescott, of the victorious team. He allowed only three hits. Sullivan, outfielder for Peninsula, made a three-base hit which brought in the winning run.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Incidentally the Cubs crept close to the heels of the leaders, and their adherents again are rooting for them to win the pennant.

Sounding the Sport Reveille

POOR Roger Peckinpah, captain of the New York Yanks and, incidentally, former Beaver favorite, is being ridden by the crowd these days. The effect it is having on him is all too plain, for in one of the last games he struck at several balls that were away over his head. The pity of it is that they were at crucial moments in the game, too.

Seeing that Larned and Brookes were opposed by an Austrian and a Frenchman, no one should be surprised at their victory. What chance was there for Larned and Brookes when they were at this date and in these stirring times?

Cincinnati's claims for holding the Olympic games, certainly, make these days look to be a foregone certainty that they'll not be held in Germany proper for some time to come; so why not hold 'em in the suburbs?

France, with glee, announces hourly, "Germans in full flight!" Germany, in reply, Maurice writes, "Have won great fight!" England, stern and solemn ever, claims "We hold our own." "Lagers forts abandoned?" "Never!" Say the Belgians in loud tone.

No one yet can tell who licked or lost, or who won fame, Might as well try pick the victor In the "no-decision" game!

The United States National tennis singles title in the last 23 years has been won by 13 players, the first of whom, R. D. Sears, held it for seven successive years. W. A. Larned also won it seven times, and A. S. Campbell and M. D. Whitman were three times winners. H. W. Slocum, Jr., took it on the Public Playgrounds. The Brooklyn team won the first game. The championship will be played next Sunday on the Mulholland field.

The football contest was the pitching of Prescott, of the victorious team. He allowed only three hits. Sullivan, outfielder for Peninsula, made a three-base hit which brought in the winning run.

Choose Tires More Carefully

THE TIE-UP of navigation has had a tremendous effect upon the rubber industry. The present situation offers great temptations to gather in whatever kinds of rubber are available. The supply of the finer grades from South America, Island of Ceylon and other sources has been practically shut off.

Only the London and New York markets are now open. In these markets are large accumulations of "rejected stocks" and "off lots."

With such temptation to "take a chance" facing tire manufacturers, we think it timely to remind car owners of this fixed Firestone Policy—

Under no conditions will the extra fine grade of rubber in Firestone Tires be lowered; and under no conditions will the extra volume of this fine rubber be reduced.

Remember that Firestone Tires are the tires that have never known an "off" season. There never has been a "bad lot" of Firestone Tires. There never will be. We would rather suspend manufacture than sacrifice quality.

Keep the cost per mile in mind and you'll demand Firestone Tires—

Most Miles per Dollar

It is no time to "experiment" when the temptation to use cheap rubber is twice as strong as usual. Your dealer has Firestones, or can get them at once. Be sure you get them.

SEPTEMBER MORN SHOCKS

Woman in Union Suit Creates War for Lively Half Hour at Beach.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 20.—"September Morn" was never better portrayed in real life than here recently, when Josephine Hewlett, of Los Angeles, was arrested by Police Sergeant Randall and taken to the police station, where she was later released.

The woman had come to the beach for the day and had dressed in an only suit of underwear of the union variety at the foot of Hill street. She plunged into the surf, and created quite an exciting half hour before the police got on the scene and took her to the station. She was sorry to have broken the rules of law, and said that she thought it was a mistake. It would not matter, but she never would have done it in Atlantic City or any Eastern coast resort.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 20.—Preparations for the calling of a National boycott against eggs, beef and veal are under way, according to Frank S. Krause, president of the "Thirty Cent Egg Club."

He declared that the move would force prices downward within three days. "The only way prices can be brought down is to stop buying," said Mr. Krause. "I have received many letters urging a boycott, he says."
