on satisfactory explanation. At the Mer-chants Exchange noon session yesterday 100 tons of white outs sold at $27.50. This is $1 more than the best bid of Monday.

It is conceded that there is a very good erop of outs in the Northwest and the local uption has certainly not increased consumption has certainly not increase ever last year. Some other reason, therefore, must be found for the bulge in the cats market. There have been rumors of Canadian buying of oats in the Pacific Northwest for shipment to England. It is said such in the pacific with the cats and the cats are cats and the cats and the cats and the cats are cats and the cats and the cats are cats are cats and the cats are cats are cats and the cats are cats and the cats are cats are cats are cats and the cats are cats are cats are cats and the cats are cats are cats and the cats are cats are cats and the cats are cats are cats are cats are cats and cats are cats onent to England. It is said such buy-has been done around Spokane and where in Eastern Washington and even the Willamette Valley. It does not teem plausible, however, that England buy oats here at the prevailing high rices when they can be bought much heaper in the East, freight considered. Burley has not kept pace with the ad-

There was no trading in wheat on the exchange yesterday, but milling grades were advanced half a sent. The country market was somewhat active. Bluestem was bought in the interior by Portland People on the basis of $1.03 and club at a price equal to $1 cents delivered. There is plenty of bluestem in the country, but farmers are letting go slowly. There is a short interest in bluestem which apparently is getting anxious to cover.

In Australia and New Zealand, in South Africa and throughout the Orient a precisely similar condition exists. Commerce and industry in all these widely scattered regions are going on precisely as usual, save for the temporary financial disturbance occasioned by the unexpectedness of the of the stuation, which will be speedily adjusted.

of the stuation, which will be speedily adjusted.

On August 15 the Panama Canal will be bened to the world, and many c' these markets, together with the entire West Coast of South America, will be brought thousands of miles nearer to the United States than ever before for both the transmission of mails and freight. This will mean an opportunity to the aggressive American manufacturer to secure a foothold in markets where he may have hitherto done little or no business, and extend the volume of his trade tremendously in the markets where his products are already known and he has trade connections established.

At this moment every American manufacturer should redouble the activity of his export eampaign, enlarge and stimulate his foreign buyers in the non-manufacturing countries of the world, and place himself in position to secure his share of the immense volume of buying orders that will inevitably flow to the United States until normal conditions are restored.

Another indication of the abnormal conditions prevailing across the water was found in a London-cable which stated that dealers in British consols had decided to postpone quotations for another week. Along with this was the aunouncement that a $10,000,000 subscription to the last Canadian loan fell due today.

In view of the effect which the war is already having upon this country's foreign commerce, the July statement of the United States imports and exports is noteworthy. The total figures show an increase of $14, 205,000 over July of 1913, due largely to excess of imports, Gold exports for July aggregaated $117,644,000 against $72,359,000 in the same month of 1913.

ADVANCES ON COTTON EXPECTED Traders Believe Currency Will Be Issued Against Warehouse Certificates.

Against Warehouse Certificates.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—While no increased activity was reported in the matter of closing out old commitments, thefe was a large attendance on the floor of the Cotton Exchange today, attracted probably by the hope of a definite announcement from the Washington cotton conference. Reports that the amount of money loaned growers would depend on individual banking transactions afforded little basis for conjectures as to probable minimum values, but the Washington news was quite generally regarded as indicating that enough currency could be issued against warehouse certificates to permit liberal advances.

BACK TO NATURE" FEAT AIMED TO HELP EDUCATION.

Hope Is People Will Be Attracted to Pessibilities of Sojourn in Forest Wilds.

BY JOE KNOWLES. BY JOE KNOWLES.
GRANTS PASS, Or., Aug. 25.—(Special)—There is a motive for all things and there was a reason why I went into the wilds of Oregon and lived as I did for 30 days. I did it as an object lesson to draw the people's attention closer to nature and everything connected with a natural wilderness. The animals, the birds, the fishes and the wild vegetable life are there and to possess a thorough knowledge of this wild life and of nature means an education in itself. It means an educa-tion that every boy and girl should have. A practical education in wood-craft and outdoor life will give them healthy bodies to go with their book-educated brain, and with this combina-educated brain, and with this combination they should be well fitted for their work in this world.

There has been a reel of pictures taken in the country where I have lived, and they show everything I did, how I did it and where. In fact, they cover my entire life for the 30 days I was alone in the woods and the mountains. I mention these pictures, as I believe they will truthfully show something that never before has been shown and something that is particularly of value to the boy scouts and to larly of value to the boy scouts and to everybody that is interested in the great outdoor movement. The picture I painted in full color with the cast-off material from nature I consider worthy of mention, as it shows that we can make something out of almost nothing. With a little re-sourcefulness we can make use of everything we find in a natural willerness.

I shall have something more from time to time to say about my "Back to Nature" life. Something that I hope will attract the attention of every lover of life in the open.

FISHING SEASON IS OVER

$1,500,000 to Be Distributed Among

Netters and Trappers. ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 25.—(Special.)— The Spring fishing season on the Co-lumbia River for the present year is a thing of the past. It came to an end promptly at moon today and this afternoon the gear is being stored away. The catch was light last night. away. The catch was light last night especially among the gillnetters. In fact, that has been the rule since the first of August.

The season as a whole has been a good one, the best in years, and nearly $1,500,000 will be distributed among the gillnetters, trappers and seiners. The demand for canned salmon is so strong that already several of the canneries are preparing to operate during the Fall season, which will open September 1. first of August.
