NEW O.-W. R. & N. SCHEDULE OUT.—Beginning September 1, the Haszalo will leave the beach park, and the Oregon-Washington Railway and Navigation Company will revise its schedule of service from Portland to Megler. The sailing of the Haszalo from Megler Sunday, August 30, will be the last from there this year. The steamer Potter will operate on the present schedule of the Haszalo, leaving Portland Monday, August 31, at 9 P. M. and Monday, August 31, at 9 P. M. Instead of 9 A. M. Sunday she will leave at 9 P. M. On Labor day, she will leave from Sunday, she will leave at 9 P. M. The Harvest Queen, assisting in the schedule at this particular time, will leave Megler at 9:30 A. M. Tuesday, September 8.

ONE BLOW COSTS $10.—George E. Bartness, driver of an auto truck, was fined $10 by Judge Dayton in District Court yesterday for striking L. Euvensky with his fist and knocking him down in front of the latter's residence, 441 Second street. Bartness declared Euvensky turned the horse on him as he was passing the house and gave him a thorough wetting without provocation. This angered him, and he jumped from his truck and landed one punch on Euvensky's face.

OFFICIALS TO INSPECT RAILROAD.—J. P. O'Brien, general manager; M. J. Buckley, general superintendent; and R. E. Miller, traffic manager for the Oregon and Washington Railroad & Navigation Company, left Monday night for Eastern Oregon on a tour of inspection. They expect to go over the new short line to Spokane, which will be thrown open about September 15, at the completion of the Spokane terminals and the bridge over the Snake River.

OREGON ELECTRIC SCHEDULE CHANGED.—Train schedules on the Oregon Electric have been largely rearranged for the purpose of saving five minutes in the time consumed in going from the North Bank to the Jefferson-street station. All of the Forest Grove trains, except the late night train, leave the North Bank station a few minutes later, make the trip to Jefferson street five minutes sooner than the present schedule and make up the difference in time on the double tracks between here and Garden Home. The Tualatin train will leave five minutes earlier, and numerous minor changes have been made.

VAGRANT GETS SIX MONTHS.—William C. Lander, a waiter, who was held on the charge brought by his wife that he lavished his attentions upon too many women, was brought before Judge Dayton yesterday and sentenced to six months' imprisonment for vagrancy, the more serious charge being withdrawn. Through an error, 416 Mill street was published as the number of the house where Mrs. Lander lived and where the alleged theft of her jewelry and money occurred. The address should have been 137 Eleventh street, the Mill-street house being a former residence.

EXTRA FERRY ASKED FOR PAIR.—That additional ferry service will be needed to handle the crowds between Portland and Vancouver, Wash., during the week of September 7-12, when the Columbia River Interstate Fair will be in progress at the latter city, has asserted by the Vancouver Commercial Club. The club has asked Multnomah County Commissioners that the ferry be operated during the week of September 7-12, when the Columbia River Interstate Fair will be in progress at the latter city, has asserted by the Vancouver Commercial Club. The club has asked Multnomah County Commissioners that the ferry be operated during the week of September 7-12, when the Columbia River Interstate Fair will be in progress at the latter city, has asserted by the Vancouver Commercial Club.

WIFE APPARENTLY FORGOTTEN.—Dr. Hickey's groans attracted the attention of his 19-year-old son, Leroy, according to the latter, and the son discovered his father lying in a pool of blood and with a deep gash above the right ear. Mrs. Hickey telephoned the police, and his father was removed to the hospital, where an emergency operation was performed by Dr. Mackenzie. All day Monday and until yesterday Dr. Hickey was unconscious and frequently muttered the name of his wife, Dr. Mallie B. Hickey, also a dentist.

SON REFUSES TO TALK.—"I have nothing to say," remarked Leroy Hickey, the son of the dentist, to Deputy District Attorney Dalsh, who had arrested him yesterday. "I've done all the talking I intend to do and I don't want to be bothered any more. I'm sick of it all," he said. "The police is held without ball and is under investigation in connection with the attack upon his father. He steadfastly maintains his innocence, and to mother visited him yesterday, and to her he talked freely about the case. Mrs. Hickey defends her son.

MOTHER ADMITS SON'S FORGERY.—Mrs. Hickey admits that her son forged his father's name to checks amounting to about $400 some time ago and went East. After his father had made good the checks, he returned and Dr. Hickey placed him in the Oregon Dental Supply Company, DeKalb building, of which Dr. Hickey is owner, to learn the business. Detectives Craddock, Vaughn, Swensen and P. Moloney and Deputy District Attorney Dalsh hinted last night that they were working on a clew which, if reported true, will result in the fastening of the crime upon the guilty person or persons. The officers say the expected evidence may be secured some time today.

NEW THOUGHT LECTURER WILL SPEAK TONIGHT.—The movement of pickers to the hop fields is growing and the next few days will see a great exodus to Willamette Valley points. Picking will be general throughout the state by Monday. About 500 persons headed for the hop yards left Portland yesterday morning on Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric trains and 100 embarked on the steamer Oregon. The Oregon City Transportation Company expects to handle about 1500 pickers before the close of the week.

GEORGE L. ROBERTS DIES.—George L. Roberts, one of Portland's most prominent abstract men, manager of the Fidelity Abstract & Title Company, died yesterday morning of paralysis, at his home, 196 East Thirtieth street. Mr. Roberts was born in Utica, N. Y., 57 years ago. For several years he was in the customs office at Duluth, Minn., during the Cleveland Administration. The family came here eight years ago.

MAN ACCUSED WOULD DIE.—Casper Helm, 807 Montana avenue, a boiler-maker, attempted suicide in the rear of his home yesterday afternoon by hanging himself to a tree a few hours after he had been arrested on a charge of wife beating. A neighbor cut the rope. Helm revived in a few minutes. Mrs. Helm accused her husband of beating her and their 4-year-old child. In Municipal Court Judge Haney continued sentence after Helm promised to reform. Motorcycle Policeman Coulter arrested Helm and he is charged with attempting suicide.

STREETCAR COMPANY WANTS COSTS SPREAD OVER LONG TIME. Tight Bond Market Makes Concern Fear Collection of Assessments If Work is Pressed.

So that the cost of street improvements assessed against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company can be properly financed, company officials urged the city to arrange its improvements so that the bills will not all be due at the same time.

LONG LINE PAYS TAXES

Rush Made to Avoid Penalty of 10 Per Cent for Delay. A line has started to form at the pay windows in the tax department at the Courthouse, but more wickets will be opened and additional men put on duty as needed to receive second-half tax payments.

CLUB PHALANX BACKS BILL

Northwest Lines Up for Vigorous Support of Harbor Measure. The Portland Rotary Club, the Realty Board, the Ad Club and the Progressive Business Men's Club, have addressed a joint letter to trustees and officers of the Chamber of Commerce, pointing out the advantages created by the passage of the Harbor Bill to be passed promptly and urging the necessity of representation in Washington.
