Trafalgar Square by some of the labor parties, protesting against war, but these meetings did not express the sentiment of the people.

Dr. MacLachlan left the Continent but two days before war was declared and was in London at the time. The White Star liner on which she sailed was trailed by a German cruiser, which was lost sight of when the English cruiser Sussex started in pursuit.

When in Germany Dr. MacLachlan studied at Freiburg, Baden, where she had visited hundreds of mothers who had been much discussed of late, has become famous. It is the treatment which is said to do away with the pains of childbirth, and hundreds of mothers have visited the famous clinic in that German city.

"It is not imagination but a positive success—but probably will not be introduced in this country for a long while," declared Dr. MacLachlan.

"The 'Twilight Sleep' is meeting with much opposition from physicians in America, mainly because it requires so much of the doctor's time to administer it. Also, it has been tried in this country but found unreliable—only because an unstable solution of the drug was used. The new solution used in Freiburg is durable.

"In some cases the use of the drug may be risky for the child, though this is an exception in the Freiburg treatments. Some physicians here doubtless will make use of it, but it will be a long while before it is general practice. Personally, I am very enthusiastic over its success and believe in its merit."

The Women's Store Is Fully Prepared To Show You All the Latest Modes in Autumn Apparel

With the New Coats

—While every season there are many new ideas brought out in coat styles, it has been left for this new season to surpass them all for originality and beauty. —For these new coats are indeed beautiful—finest of soft Duvelyn coats, fully lined with satin. —Smart looking coats of tweeds and handsome plaids for traveling and week-end trips. —Coats of imported Hindu lynx, of wool plush, pony cloth, pebble chevot, broad-tail-zibeline, and many novelty materials that have all the appearance of soft furs. —They show the flare skirt, cape effects and pleated styles—in the richest of deep-toned colors—and can be had as low as $10.00 to $100.00. —Third Floor

With Handsome New Suits

—Women are constantly asking what they are like—dozens of new models answer this question. —The long, graceful lines predominate, and every new model boasts of some kind of a tunic, either on the skirt or attached to the coat. One charming style gaily flaunts a fine pleated skirt part to the jacket with a plain gore, though flared, skirt of plain black satin, and gracefully draped with a sash of the satin. Nothing more attractive could be imagined than this combination of black satin and dark blue serge. —Some suits are distinctly cutaway in the front, others with wide belts, long pleated and flare tunics, plain or pleated skirts. —There are many broadcloth models, others of fine serges and gabardine, poplins and corduroys—and the predominating colors are dark blue, black, brown, Russian green and plum. Many of these handsome models sell at $18.50 and others range in price as high as $125.00. —Third Floor.

With the Advent of the Basque Dress

there seems no end to the many and various modes of trimming and combining cloth with silk materials. No style in years has been found to be so generally becoming as these newest of new basque dresses. —You will find them in Serges, Crepe de Chine, Gabardine, Charmeuse, Crepe Meteor and Silk Poplins. —The sash is conspicuous on the majority of these gowns, most often passing twice around the waist and knotted carelessly low in the back or at the side.

The Newest of New Waists

—With so radical and complete a change in the bodice lines of the gowns for the new season it is most apparent that a similar change has been effected in the design of the separate bodice. —A new tendency is to combine satin with long loose bishop sleeves of chiffon, and this idea has been most cleverly carried out in some new models of dark blue and black satin with white chiffon, the chiffon also being used for the vest and collar. —Extremely clever is a bodice of flesh tinted and white chiffon combined, which produces the most exquisite effect imaginable. —Other models there are, too, of satin, which continue well below the waist line in draped hip girdle effect. —Also new models of laces, nets and fine voiles in plain colors and Roman stripes. —Priced at $12.50 to $75.00. —Third Floor.

Separate Tailored Walking Skirts

—Needless to say the tunic style predominates, many being accordion pleated—and many combine satin with serge—and wide graceful sashes of satin or messaline are being used on these separate skirts. You will find these new skirts developed in serges, gabardines and handsome plaid effects. $5.00 to $10.00 each. —Third Floor.

Roman Striped Trimmings on Petticoats

—Many of the new petticoats are trimmed with handsome Roman stripe silks—others of all-silk messaline, Jersey silk and combinations of silk with jersey. Specially priced at $1.95, and others selling to $5.00. —Third Floor.

In the Junior Specialty Shop on the Fourth Floor Is An Exhibition of the New Suits, Dresses and Coats

—Charming dresses of serge and satin, the basque styles—showing the long tunics, and others with a plain one-piece back—collars of white satin— one very charming style shows a nosegay of old-fashioned flowers nestling quaintly at one side of the collar. All unusually graceful and especially becoming to the youthful figures. —New Suits of serges, chevots, wool poplins and broadcloth. —New Coats for the girls from 2 to 6, 6 to 14 and 14 to 17 years. Of velvet, plush, fancy mixtures, plaids and crepe effects. —Fourth Floor.
