The telegram was signed by Huescher, of the Swiss Legation at Washington, with authorization from Minister Ritter. Further contributions, until committees are sent out to solicit funds, should be issued by the German war office today." Disputants varied in their opinions as to whether the orders were sent to the Russian or to the German army. "It looks splendidly simple either way," remarked one bulletin-board veteran. "If it went to the Russians it unmistakably orders them to check their advance. If it went to the German army it is equally unmistakable in its wording and its aim. "The war office simply says 'Stop it!' "Just like that—and then turns its attention back to the troubles on the western frontier. That's what we call poise and self-confidence, and nothing of finality and definiteness."

The play centers about a young woman who, after having been left by her unfaithful lover, is the victim of her malicious cousin and his accomplice, "Gyp the Gash," who try to take her money. The man of law, a most interesting character, and she rewards him with her love. Maurice Costello appears in "Through Life's Windows," a play showing how the selfish and self-sacrificing leaves his home to another man because his wife loved the other. There is a laugh in every inch of "The New Stenographer," a comedy in which Lillian Walker, "the girl of diamonds," Flora Finch and "Cutey" Van are featured. Pictures of British military life are well received.

GLOBE HAS PATRIOTIC BILL

"Birth of Star-Spangled Banner" Portrays War of 1812. Two big features, as well as a Bunny comedy and the Hearst-Selig Weekly, are on the bill at the Globe Theater. "The Birth of the Star-Spangled Banner" depicts the happenings of the war of 1812. In the fight on Fort Mifflin in 1814 Francis Scott Key was held prisoner on an English prison ship. He watched the flag waving over the fort, and was inspired to write the song that made him famous. The picture shows all these war scenes. "David Garrick" is another feature of the Globe's bill. James Young's portrayal of the part has been characterized in the East as "the greatest piece of acting on his great feat." The young woman in love with Garrick, portrayed by Clara Young, Garrick, to cure her infatuation, acts like a drunken man, but she finds out that he is only acting. John Bunny and Flora Finch are seen in the farce, "Such a Hunter," in which Bunny tells of his great feat, by means of defeat at the hands of a tame bear. The Hearst-Selig Weekly contains scenes of the wiping out of Germans in labor relations, views of the European war, the golf championship games and news scenes.

C., returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he had gone to attend the hearings of the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations. Dr. O'Hara has been working in Portland for the past two months in co-operation with the Oregon committee on seasonal unemployment, and has prepared a report on conditions in the West which will be filed in a short time with the organization which he represents. TANNED CROWD AT OAKS

The new bill proved good in many respects. The crowd, almost equaling that of the Novelty Four, one of the best quartets the Oaks has ever known. Their imitation of a circus callopo was so entrancingly real, coming so soon after the visit to Portland of a real circus callopo, that the crowd gave the singers an unusual reception. Harry, the child Alice Lloyd, was suffering from a bad cold, which marred her act. She is said to have a very fine voice for a youngster. Her dancing was capital, was investigated much more fully in San Francisco than at the hearings which the Commission held in Portland. Dr. O'Hara has been working in Portland for the past two months in co-operation with the Oregon committee on seasonal unemployment, and has prepared a report on conditions in the West which will be filed in a short time with the organization which he represents.
