Portland —Portland 4. San Francisco 0. Los Angeles—Los Angeles 9-7, Venice At Oakland-Sacramento 4-3, Oakland 2-4.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT.
In Irve Higginbotham Portland has great pitching staff. McCredie had to work his Dutch gunner out of turn yesterday to stem the assaults of the fast-rushing Seals, but he justified the boss' confidence—and then some,

It was the final game of the Beavers' three weeks' stay, and, just to show that he could come back strong with only two days' rest the bulky Teuton hurled the Seals back bleeding and wounded under a five-hit blanket. The score was: Portland 4, San Francisco 0.

The shutout duplicated his Thursday feat against Spider Baum, 4-0—
Portland's lone victory of the series up to Sunday—so one can hardly be biamed for remarking that without Higginbotham the champs would be as a motorcar sans gasoline.

Nearly 5000 fans were in the stand when the unmires announced that Higwhen the umpires announced that Hig-ginbotham and Southpaw Pernoll would be the rival hurismiths. About 4500 went home happy and satisfied.

Balk Alds One Run.

Pernoll pitched air-tight ball up to the sixth; then greased his own to-boggan chute. The Seal John Bunny tried to catch Bancroft off first base after his hit in the sixth, balked in the attempt and Bancroft was given a passport for second base.

Kores brought him in with a single to center field.

That one run would have been suf-to center field.

That one run would have been sufficient, but in the eighth, Bancroft and Kores again hopped onto the trajectories of the Grants Pass eugenics model and drove the clinching spikes.

Bancroft began by doubling past third base. Rodgers and Derrick proved easy outs and then Bancroft purloined third. Kores immediately doubled to right, scoring Bancroft; Speas doubled to right, scoring Kores, and Davis singled over second, scoring Speas.

Final, Portland 4, Seals 0.

The Seals left last night with four of the six games tucked under their belts, yet Sunday's defeat railroaded Del Howard's crew down to third place. Los Angeles won a double bill from Venice again yesterday and jumped to second place, within three and one-half games of the Beavers.

Hig's victory not only was his second of the week, but was his fifth consecu-of the week, but was his fifth consecu tive victory since the Mackmen re-turned to domestic soil three weeks ago. He has won more games this year than any other pitcher in the league and ought to top Vean Gregg's great record with the Beavers in 1910 Hig Wins Two of Each Three.

Gregg won 32 and lost 18 and with eight weeks to go Hig has already chalked up 24 wins as against 12

He fell into two or three bad situa tions yesterday. Under fire, however, the 33-year-old wisard dominated the doings like a chef is master of a slice of bacon. In the third he fanned schaller for the third out with two bases populated. Bobby Davis helped appreciably in the sixth, making a great stop and peg on Schaller's liner. The fielding of Bancroft and Corhan was another sparkling feature of the

Both teams departed for the south evening, Portland with 14 wins and seven defeats for the three weeks at home. Portland will stop off today for a barnstorming game at Yreka. Cal., and will open Tuesday at Sacramento for a 10-game series, with Mar. Southpaw Evans in the box.

in the new Seal park this week and a warm battle for second place impends. Standridge will pitch the opener for the seals.

Madly Around Arena. CENTRALIA, Wash., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Jim Parsons, driving a Roman special, was the whole show at the auto-race meet held this afternoon at the Southwest Washington Fair grounds half-mile track under the auspices of the Northwest Automobile Association. Before the first race was called Parsons went through the fair grounds' fence when his tire burst. About 50 feet of fence was torn out, but the driver did not receive a scratch. From then until the last race Parsons kept the crowd of 3000 on its feet by his sensational driving.

The 19-mile free-for-all and the Australian pursuit race, both of which were won by Parsons, were features of the afternoon. Parsons won the first in 13:14 after a warm brush with Earl Staley in a Studebaker and Joe Krause in a Velic. Staley finished second.

Krause being forced out by tire trouble. In the pursuit race, Parsons passed Lentz, Hess and Krause in less than three miles. Following are results of the afternoon:

Ray Lentz in a Farco, fifth, and Earl Staley, in a Studebaker, sixth. Time, Five miles-Steley, first: Lentz, second; time 6:42 Latta dropped out.
Five miles—Persons, first; Kruase,
