NIGHT RAID THREATENED.—"Some night we expect to take both of you out, make marks and welts on your backs like you did that little girl, and if you get a coat of tar and feathers you need not be surprised. We intend that you be punished for that hellish deed," is the text of a letter signed, "Lovers of Children," received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Greene, of 213 East Seventy-seventh street. Mr. and Mrs. Greene were recently before the Municipal Court for overwhipping their 7-year-old daughter.

ANTI-SHACK ORDINANCE CHANGED.—The City Engineer will aid in judging the condition of buildings which are to be razed by the city under provisions of a new anti-shack ordinance. The City Commission considered the ordinance at a meeting yesterday and after deciding that the City Engineer should take part in the proceedings for condemnation sent the measure back to City Attorney LaRoche for redrafting. The measure is aimed to open the way for the removal of unsightly, dangerous and unsanitary buildings in all parts of the city.

The accident occurred on May 6, and it is stated the lad was permitted and persuaded to ride on the wagon, which was brought into collision with another vehicle.

MORE VOTING BOOTHS ASKED.—Because of heavier registration figures, D. G. Tomasini, county sealer of weights and measures, yesterday recommended to the County Commissioners that additional voting booths be provided for the coming election. It was directed that a joint agreement with the city in regard to the matter be returned. The Sheriff was authorized to provide whatever supplies are needed.

Kirk and her address as 151 Seventeenth street was found late Thursday night at Seventeenth and Alder streets by Patrolman Earl Nelson. She was taken home by the officer, who asserts that she apparently had wandered away from home.

MORRISON BRIDGE CHANGES PROPOSED. —Changes on the deck of the Morrison bridge are proposed by which it will be made possible for automobiles to cross from the side roadways to the center in order to pass slow wagons. A committee from the East Side Business Men's Club has taken the matter up. The only change required would be to lay wooden strips along the outside of the guards, which now protects the street railways. This would enable the automobiles "to climb" over the guards, and still prevent slowly moving wagons and trucks from getting on the streetcar tracks. Chairman Holman, of the County Commissioners, is reported favorable to the change. The committee hopes to get action soon.

PORTLAND FRIENDS MEET.—Portland Friends Church quarterly conference opened last night at the Lents Church, the congregations of Sunnyside, Piedmont and Lents participating. Marion George, of Sunnyside, presided as superintendent. A workers' conference will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock when these topics will be discussed: "Christian Science," Rev. John Riley; "New Thought," Homer L. Cox; "Russellism," Tyler J. Coburn. The educational conference will be held tonight. Levi T. Pennington, president of the Friends College, of Newberg, will speak. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock S. W. Grathwell will speak on temperance.

FALLS TRACT IN COURT.—The ownership of the tract which includes Multnomah Falls, and which is to be given to the county by S. Benson, figured in a suit before Judge McGinn yesterday morning to quiet title to the property. The case was that of the administrators of the estate of George Wetherby against Mrs. Jennie M. Griswold. S. Benson has started condemnation proceedings against the same property. The court allowed five days for the acceptance of an agreement by which $5000 will be paid for the 130 acres. Failure to settle the matter in this way will bring it again into the courts.

ST. HELEN'S HALL PLANS MADE.—St. Helen's Hall, which was damaged by fire Friday morning, will open its Fall term the week of September 13, as announced previously, according to a statement yesterday by Sister Julia Francis, the superior. Day pupils will be received in all departments. In addition, accommodations will be provided for the boarding members of the senior class. Plans for rebuilding the hall are now under consideration, although the date when work will be started has not been announced. Meantime, the students will be housed in St. Helen's Hall gymnasium.

GRANGE VOTES ON INCREASED DUES TODAY.—Members of Evening Star Grange, which will meet today in the hall on the Section Line road, South Mount Tabor, will vote on question of increasing the dues from 15 cents to 25 cents a month. The object of this amendment is to do away with the present plan of providing Grange dinners mainly through donations. The membership is nearly 300 and it is estimated that the 10 cents from each member will largely take care of the dinners.

AMBASSADOR STONED IS REPORT.—According to word received by the Oregon News, a local Japanese newspaper, yesterday, from Tokio, Ambassador Sato was stoned by Austrian mobs at the time of leaving the Austrian capital. It went further to state that an anti-Japanese movement is being fostered in China by Germans. Japan has occupied all small German islands near Kiau-Chau and is clearing submarines from that vicinity said the dispatch.

DR. BAAR HEARD FROM.—Dr. Gustav Baar, the Portland physician who has been marooned in the war zone in Europe, has reached Liverpool, according to word received at his Portland office yesterday. REALTY BOARD MEETS

DAVID M. ROTH, MEMORY EXPERT, IS ENTERTAINER.

Paul A. Cowgill Acts as Chairman of Day and Dean Vincent Tells of National Gathering.

By passing several severe memory tests with virtually a perfect score, David M. Roth, memory expert, yesterday entertained the Portland Realty Board at its first weekly luncheon of the Fall season.

His first demonstration was memorizing the names and telephone numbers of the 75 present as they responded successively to the rollcall. Later he recalled every name as originally called and nearly all of the telephone numbers as requests were made on a hit-and-miss basis. He even remembered George Schalk's joking report that his telephone had been "temporarily disconnected."

Having numbered the front page headings of newspapers for various dates he distributed the papers among the audience and promptly gave the exact wording of each. As far back as early July he repeated correctly headlines of editions of The Oregonian, which were not among the marked copies.

By the use of charts he named lists of given words from memory by number. The practical side of his mental power was demonstrated when he identified immediately a pair of glasses that had been left beside a remote plate at adjournment by Elias Brong, of the Brong-Manary Company.

Mr. Roth was introduced by Paul A. Cowgill, chairman of the day, as a native of Germany, "born in Milwaukie, Wisconsin."

At the opening of the meeting Dean Vincent, president of the board, read a report of his recent attendance at the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges in Pittsburg.

WATER OFFICE WANTED

EAST SIDE PROTESTS AGAINST ORDER FOR REMOVAL.

Facts Presented to Show Demand for Station Is Heavy and Any Change Would Be Unjust.

Property owners and residents in East Portland, through the East Side Business Men's Club, yesterday filed a protest with Commissioner Daly against the closing of the water office on East Alder street.

This committee has gathered figures to show the amount of business done per month at this office. Collections for August, 1914, were $6213.40; average receipts per day, $202; number receipts per month, 5107; average daily collection, $273.15; average amount collected per month so far in 1914, $6896.97; delinquents paid at this office, 2000; average number of persons calling per month, 200; average for the month, 5200.

The committee sets forth that, if the office is closed, it will cost $68.96 to collect water taxes, at stores and citizens will pay $390 in streetcar fares to the City Hall.

"It will be not only a great injustice to the merchants and business men," said the committee in its petition, "but a great inconvenience to the people of this central district, as evidenced by the fact that more than 5200 visit this office per month, and the moving of the office will be a detriment and inconvenience, and a great injury to the East Side business interests, built up and established through the aid of this practically and centrally located East Side water office in past years."

Orders have been issued to close the East Side and Albina water offices October 1. The Albina Business Men's Club withdrew its objections to the removal of that office.

CAUSE OF REPAIRS SOUGHT

City to Determine Responsibility for Damage to Bridge.

To determine the cause of damage which has been done to the Grand-avenue bridge, making immediate repairs necessary, the City Commission yesterday instructed City Engineer Dater to make a complete investigation. It is thought the North Bank tracks under the bridge have been responsible for part of the damage and that the company should bear part of the cost. It is thought also that the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company tracks across the bridge have been partly responsible.

It is the plan of the Commission to have a scientific investigation made to determine the responsibility of these two companies, so that their share of the damage can be ascertained as well as the share to be borne by the city.

racks installed in the Rogue River near Grants Pass to catch eggs. The racks prevented the fish from going up the stream with the result that numerous complaints were made to the executive.

DENTAL BAN WILL PASS

COUNCIL APPROVES ORDINANCE AGAINST STREET PRACTICE.

Two Members Oppose Measure, Making It Impossible to Carry It With Emergency Clause Added.

Although it became apparent yesterday that a majority of the members of the City Commission favor the passage of an ordinance promoted by the State Health Department to prohibit Painless Parker from practicing dentistry on the streets, it was shown that the measure has sufficient opposition in the Council to make its enforcement impossible for at least six weeks.

The Council stood three for passage and two against. This means that the measure cannot be passed with an emergency clause. It will come up in two weeks for final passage and will then go over for 30 days before going into effect.

The measure as drafted originally provided against the practice of medicine, dentistry and surgery in any public place. It was referred to City Attorney LaRoche and changed to prohibit these practices in any street, highway or park.

Commissioner Daly moved to postpone the measure indefinitely.

Commissioner Brewster was champion of the ordinance. He said he considered the practice of dentistry in the street an unsafe and unsightly proposition. He favored immediate passage of the measure. Commissioner Dieck took the same view, while Mayor Albee said he considered it a matter of policy. "I do not take into consideration the fact that it may be aimed at some particular person. It is a matter of policy."

PAVING PROTEST USELESS

City Accepts Work Despite Property Owners' Complaint.

Over the vigorous protest of property owners in Ladd's Addition the City Commission yesterday, by vote of four to one, accepted the pavement as laid by the Warren Construction Company on East Harrison street, from East Twelfth street to the Central Park in Ladd's Addition. Property owners, headed by T. S. Lawrence, contended that the pavement was not properly laid and they wanted the city to refuse to accept it until improvements were made.

The property owners announced that they would take the question into the courts. "We will have the State Supreme Court decide whether we will pay the price," declared Mr. Lawrence. "We contend that the pavement is not up to standard and we are paying the full price for it."

Farm Named Apropos Benefetis.

ALBANY, Or., Sept. 4.—(Special.)—"Big Brother Farm for Boys" is the name registered by Professor Chester A. Lyon, of Lebanon, for his farm near that city. Though one of the most unique far mnames registered in the state under the farm name registration law, it is very appropos, because each Summer Lyon maintains a "fresh-air farm" for poor boys, keeping several Portland boys on his place for two weeks at a time during the vacation months.
