More Than 500 Attend Jacobs, Rich Companies' Sale.

SESSION CONTINUES TODAY

Gathering of Real Estate Brokers and Other Business Men Told Property in Portland More Destrable Than Elsewhere.

Five pieces of Portland property were sold subject to the owners' approval at the real estate auction conducted yesterday by the Fred A. Jacobs and A. J. Rich companies in the large dining-room of the Portland Hotel. More than 500 persons, including many representative business men and investors and virtually all of the lead-ling realty brokers, were present, as well as a large number of interested women.

The parcels sold tentatively, the locations and the highest respective bids were as follows:

A lot, 55 by 70 feet, located on the south side of Madison street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, $17,750.

The highest of seven bids given on a 10-room home, located at $25 East Twenty-fifth street, corner of Market street, in the Hawthorne district, was $7750.

street, in the Hawthorne district was $7750.

For a nine-room residence on a lot $5 by 100 feet at 304 East Seventeenth street North, in Irvington, a bid of $3550 was received.

Twenty-five thousand dollars was offered on the second bid for the residence and quarter block situated on the southwest corner of Twenty-fourth and Johnson streets.

Nine bids in all were advanced for a building located on East Twelfth and East Clay streets and containing four five-room flats. The last figure quoted was $7250.

quoted was $7250.

The names of the prospective pur-chasers of the various properties will not be made public until the owners and bidders have closed their trans-

The first five properties submitted attracted bids, but none ran high all attracted bids, but none ran high enough to make a sale, and each was withdrawn.

The sixth parcel offered was sold subject to the owner's sanction and from that time forward bidding became more frequent. It is believed by those conducting the auction that a livelier spirit will prevail at the closing auction session today. A total of 18 parcels were submitted yesterday and 22 remain to be put on the auction market today. Those pieces of property which were offered yesterday but withdrawn because of insufficient bids will not be offered again. Unless the bids offered equaled the minimum price set upon them by the owner, Mr. 18th reserved the right to withdraw the property from the auction market.

"We did as well today as could have been expected, considering the state of times against which we contended," said David Rich, of New York, after yesterday's auction. "The people were naturally timid at the first big auction they have ever witnessed, but I believe there will be more activity today." The sixth parcel offered was sold naturally timid at the first big auction they have ever witnessed, but I believe there will be more activity today."

During the auction, Mr. Rich, who acted as auctioneer, took occasion to tell the audience that Portland was in as good, if not better, shape than San Francisco or Los Angeles and that Beattle couldn't compare with it. He styled Portland as one of the cleanest-cut cities of its size in the United States and assured the audience present that there would be no timidity in realty speculation as soon as the present troubled conditions were remedied.

MEAT DECISION IS DUE

Judge Gatens to Pass Upon Validity of City Ordinance Today.

Judge Gatens will give his decision this morning in the suit lately heard in his court to test the legality of the new city ordinance prescribing regulations for slaughter-houses and meat packers operating in Portland and within one mile of the city.

The title of the suit is Sterret &

Oreric Packing Company and others versus the City of Portland. The Judge took the matter under advisement after hearing arguments of attorneys.

earing arguments of attorneys.

This action was the result of an atack upon the ordinance by independnt packers, who set up the contention nat they were being discriminated gainst. A hone was prescribed in high the objectionable ordinance would be effective. It was argued by attorneys for the plaintiff that the or-dinance as drawn would not restrict packing-houses situated at a greater
