Thousands of letters were mailed yesterday to Portland residents who are believed to be friends of the poor, and in this way it is expected to reach many who otherwise might not get an opportunity to make their donations. The committee is confident that these letters will accomplish something in a tangible way, bringing in many subscriptions. Memberships are offered as low as $3 a year and few people, the workers believe, will feel they cannot afford to give that much to the aid of the helpless poor of the city.

It is proposed to have the Council ons go that way to pay their water pass an ordinance prohibiting the ental. signs. It will be contended by business men that the practice does the city a great deal of harm and should not be tolerated. It will be contended also that the Central Labor Council, which finances the "boycott" campaigns, can find other more satisfactory means of informing labor that certain institutions have done things which do not conform to the ideas of the labor interests. It is said that men carrying boycott banners have paraded in front of some of the business houses of Portland for years. In other cases the practice has been kept up for months at a time. It is said also that Portland is one of the very few cities in the one of the very few cities in the country that tolerates such practices.

It is probable such an ordinance will be fought by the Labor Council, even though it is understood that some of the members do not favor the boycott plan as it is carried out. The ordinance prohibiting the practice probably will be prepared after the meeting of be prepared after the meeting of Thursday, at which the proposition will be discussed in every detail.

"As a preliminary estimate, the crop may be put at somewhere in the neighborhood of 380,000 cwis, and as compared with recent years, will probably approximate most nearly to 1912, but this difference, that in 1912 the United Kingdom alone held a surplus in hand at the beginning of the season as large as that carried today by the whole world, and every consumer recognizes that the stock of hops held today by all brewers is the smallest on record."

FRENCH DEMAND CEASES

Country Offerings Fall Off. Close Is Nervous.

CHICAGO, Sept. II.—Wheat prices today failed to maintain a raily which started after the market had failen to a level 12 cents a bushel under the high point of Saturday last. The close was nervous at the same as last night to $2 cent down. Com finished a shade to $3 cent of, calls with a gain of $4 cent to $5 $2 cent. and provisions varying from 40 cents decline to an advance of $1.10.

Hearish advices from Liverpool had considerable to do with forcing weak holders of wheat here to drop out. Supplies were said to have become so shundant at the British nort that the asserted that French demand was a an end for the present. A quick recovery ensued, due in part to the fact that creeves ensued, due in part to the fact that creeves the super backed away, and the had been wheat out and for the off carred deliveries, $4 to $6 to besides.

Corn. like wheat, felt the effect of a smash in prices at Liverpool. Wet, cold weather in the domestic helt, though, proved nearly an offset later, especially after wheat had a temporary renewal of strength. Oats sagged with other grain at the start, but subsequently bulged on account of seaboard dispatches telling of foreign governments buying a million bushels or more in the last two days.

Provisions were unsettled, advancing early as a result of covering by shorts, and then averaging lower because of a continuance of liquidating sales that cut so important a fluore during much of yesterday. One of the chief factors was a lack of Southern demand for meats.

The week's shipments of foodstaffs, while considerably under the preceding week, were fully one-third larger than in the corresponding week of 1912.

That the cotton situation is assuming a more acute phase, hewever, may be judged from the fact that the Legislatures of some of the Southern states are to hold special estations is meet conditions in that commodity growing out of the European war. The known movements of money point to a material cash gain by the Clearing-House banks this week. The increase is estimated at from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000. Meanime, the paralysis of the financial markets is reflected in the further decrease in local bank clearings, this week's decline aggregating 17 per cent.

Mercantile buying continues of a catilous character, with an undertone of moderate optimism. There has been a better inquiry for commercial paper and a few loans, some extending into 1915, are reported, but as a rule banks are becoming increasingly wary of long-time accommodations.

The London discount rate was unchanged, but money was said to be in greater supply. Private advices to the effect that the exchangs there may resume business soon and that the bear faction in the market has begun to cover commitments were received with skepticism here.

Among the day's routine items were the August lonnage statement of the United States Sice! Corporation, showing a very moderate increase in unfilled orders, and a further decrease in infilied orders, and a further decrease in the car supplement, the of the old straddle interest were liquidated through the operations of the special cutton exchange committee, but the talk euggested increasing cheertoness as to the general situation and market outlook.

The fact that the offerings of spot cotton have not increased during the past several days of good ricking weather has been partially responsible for greater optimism, while the trade here has also been impressed by the various measures that have been adopted to distribute the burden of holding and filmacing the crop. It was rumored that local traders were trying to buy Decamber contracts privately at a considerable advance as compared with their bids earlier in the week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.-The progress the new $100,000,000 city loan overshadowed all other domestic financial developments today. The broad demand from out of town indicated that a very small amount would be left for public afterings.
Moreover, it is believed that many foreign holders of maturing notes, attracted by the higher interest yield, are likely to take their share of the new issue instead of cash for the old notes.
