LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 13 .- (Spe-LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 13.—(Special).—Los Angeles took two games today from Portland, the first by a score of 7 to 3, and the second, in the afternoon, by 3 to 6. The victories placed the Angels in third place.

The home team made its first run in the fourth inning of the afternoon game. Lober's muff of Maggert's fly landed him on second. Abstein hit him around to third and he came in on Ellis' single.

In the eighth maggert space Actes, who was forced to quit the game. Los Angeles scored two in the first, when Kores threw Wolter's grounder over Derrick, Metzger was safe on a fielder's choice, while Maggert and Ellis both singled. Moore's walk, his theft of second and a wild throw by Bancroft gave another in the fourth.

Maggert singled in the fifth, stole second and scored when Lober fumbled Abstein's single. An infield hit by Maggert, an error by Rodgers, a fielder's choice and a timely hit by Page sent over three in the fourth.

Singles by Doane and Yantz and a sacrifice fly developed Portland's first run in the fourth. Yantz scored two more in the sixth, with a double and a low throw to the plate by Ellis.

CRACK $22,000 PITCHER, WHO MAY CONSTITUTE BALANCE OF POWER IN NATIONAL LEAGUE BACE.

Fate is cruel to some people. For instance, take the case of Marty O'Toole, pitcher sold by St. Paul to Pittsburg a couple of years ago for $22,000. O'Toole was not a success with the lowly Pirates, so Pittsburg sold him a few days ago to the New York Giants.

If the Giants beat Boston for the National League championship it will mean world's series coin for Marty.

Yes, indeed, the fates are cruel to some humans.

Roscoe Fawcett Argues That Loss by Beavers Might Improve Coast Ball.

LEAGUE IS IN 12TH YEAR

All Home Victories Have Been Wo. in McCredie's Reign-Venice Reported Rent by Jealousy. American Gets Mays.

By Boscob Fawcett.

The Pacific Coast League is closing its twelfth year, the National League its thirty-ninth year, the American League its fifteenth and the Pederal League its first.

So we have all sorts of longevity and tradition.

In our own AA circuit Portland has carved out a remarkable record of achievement. Of 11 past pennant races our sole non-California team has won four championships and bids fair to capture a fifth in the current dash down the pennant turnpike.

For the good of baseball on the Pacific Coast it would be better that Portland not win this year's title, just as baseball would be stimulated in the East by a Boston victory over the New York Giants. But, from the way the Beavers have been plodding through the foe during the past two months no team looks formidable enough to tumble the Mackmen from their proud position on top of the heap.

All these Portland championships have been won since Walter McCredia assumed the management—years 1906. 1910, 1911 and 1913, with the chances rosy for 1914. Los Angeles has captured four pennants, Tacoma one and San Francisco and Oakland one aplece. In the American League Philadelphia has won the gonfalon five times, Chicago thrice, Boston thrice and Detroit thrice. Cleveland, Washington, New York and St. Louis have yet to put a winner in the field.

Chicago has hogged 10 pennants in the National Circuit. Boston eight, New York seven, Pittsburg four, Brooklyn three, Baltimore three, Providence two and Detroit one. Philadelphia, Cincinnati and St. Louis have yet to land a National bunting.

As an interesting sidelight on the race in the Pacific Coast League Harry Cart of the Lous have yet to land a National bunting.

Oakland has been clamoring long for its full schedule of games at home and the Coast League magnates have decided to give the Oak fans a tryout. So, instead of forcing the Oaks to play most of their home games in San Francisco, the Missions have been given the open spaces in the Seal schedule and the Oaks shunted back aeross the bay.

This arrangement doubtless will remain in effect for at least another season because of the exposition in 1915.
