Portland had baseball yesterday, but fans might have been better pleased had the rain put on the damper for a day longer, for Venice trimmed the Beavers, 7 to 2.

McCredie had plenty of reserves and each battalion individually seemed to be the "goods," but somehow the whole lacked unity and the allies, under Hap this Summer and in several others.

That marked the setting of Evans'sun. Eastley went all right in the fifth. Then Rodgers made another error, at first, and Wilholt, who had replaced Risberg, was safe. Then followed four hits, one of them a double by Carlisle, and the result was four more rights.

Carlisle Caught at Third.

Carlisle Caught at Third.
Carlisle himself was caught at third trying to stretch the lucrative double.

A batch of three hits in the first inning netted Portland its first run, scored by Derrick. The second came in the fifth, when Lober's touch was stamped by Bancroft's hit.

Venice was all snap. The palm goes to Carlisle in particular for a couple of catches out in left. The prettlest one was his reception of Doane's fly. This kept going and going and Carlisle twisted and squirmed like a Dervish and then stabbed it with one hand. and then stabbed it with one hand.

Only 27 Batsmen Face Leiffeld on Coach Will Rely on Speed in Oakland Grounds. OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 17 .- On their adopted home grounds the Missions fell mercilessly upon Pitcher Leifield, of San Francisco, today, defeating the Seals 3 to 1. Leifield presented nine IDAHO TAKES ONE PLAYER hits and three runs in seven innings facing 27 Mission batsmen during the presentation. Couch, who succeeded him in the eighth, stopped the hitfest. Downs and Del Howard marred the progress of the Missionite holiday in the third inning when they tilted with the umpire. Both lost the argument and occupied the bench as a result. The

I started business as a merchant tailor in Portland about three years ago, without knowing anyone, without a single customer. Today I have on my books the names of thousands of Portland's best citizens. Why? Because this business has been built up on merit alone. The highest skill of hand and brain goes into the tailoring of my Suits and Overcoats. It is the uniform excellence of my materials and their careful tailoring that has placed me where I am today, at the pinnacle of success.
