GERMANY APPROVES STAND

LEWISTON, Idaho, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—A letter under date of August 12 has just been received here by William F. Kettenbach, of this city, from his sister, Mrs. Grace Pffafflin, who is sojourning in Berlin, where Dr. Pfafflin is attending clinics in connection with his profession, which gives some interesting illustrations of effects the war has caused. The letter, in part, says:

"One of the girls in the house just came in and told me that they had said at the embassy that we could write letters and they would put them in the Ambessades' and the same and the would put them in the Ambessades' and the would put them in the Ambessades' and the same and the would put them in the Ambessades' and the same and the would put them in the Ambessades' and the same and the same could be the real estate profession, he said.

E. L. Thompson, John H. Hartog and C. Lewis Meade also spoke along similar vein.

"One of the girls in the house just the real e came in and told me that they had said at the embassy that we could write letters and they would put them that they had said at the embassy that we could write letters and they would put them that they had said at the embassy that we could give the said that they would put them that they had said at the embassy that we could be said the embassy that we could be said the embassy that we could be said to b in the Ambassador's private mail sack and would be allowed to go through. I hope this report is true, as I know how worried you must be, not knowing the true conditions here. We have not, up to this time, been allowed to send letters or cables to any country. In fact, there have been no trains run-ning out of Berlin or any steamers to America, but I presume now arrange-ments have been made, as the Germans are much pleased at the stand Amer-ica has taken in relation to their coun-try, and, in consequence, we are the most popular foreigners here most popular foreigners here.

"Of course, the English language is not popular, as that nation is looked upon with hatred, so to distinguish us in the minds of the street mobs, we all wear small silk flags pinned to our coats. We speak German altogether when in public places; otherwise you would subject yourself to rudeness, even violence, if you didn't happen to have your passport handy. Everyone carries their passport. The women wear them around their necks attached to ribbons.

Through Bankers' Proposal,

Probable.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—After an all-day conference between the Federal Reserve Board and a committee of bankers, it virtually was agreed tonight that the Board will approve the bankers' proposal for the raising of a $100,000,000 gold fund to be used in meeting American obligations to Europe. This fund will be in addition to the $60,000.600 to be raised by the New York Bankers' Proposal,

I do not know when we will get out of here. There is a report to the effect that America is sending ships for us. But even the Ambassador doesn't verify it, but they are taking the names of the Americans alphabetically (A. B. C), and say, if the ships come, the people will leave according to their name. If it will be possible to leave from Antwerp September 12, as we had planned, we should prefer to do so, but as yet we know nothing definite. I haven't time to go into the war question, as my friend is waiting to take this letter to the embassy."

obligations across the Atlantic.

Final action was not taken by the Board tonight. The plan will be presented in writing tomorrow, but its adoption may not be moved until Monday, in the absence of several Board members over the week-end.

Probably $25,000,000 of the total amount will be asked for at once, and members of the Board are confident to-night that such a sum would prove sufficient to meet all demands. National banks throughout the country will be asked to subscribe to the fund, as in the original plan of the bankers. The gold will be deposited in the Ottawa branch of the Bank of England.

"The agitation for the recall of public officials in Portland is doing the city harm," declared Mayor Albee, after being upped to approach 5.

"The agitation for the recall of public officials in Portiand is doing the city harm," declared Mayor Albee, after being urged to announce a reason for Portiand's lack of optimism, which he at first withheld because it might be interpreted by some as personal with him. "This recall turmoil gives the impression to the country that Portland is in a wild and crude state, where conditions are unsettled.

"Another reason why Portland does not do better is because of the presence of so many pessimists who knock, knock, absolutely without cause, "But an encouraging factor is that a spirit of optimism is reaching into the hearts of labor and capital alike. Laborers and capitalists realize more than ever before the need of each other, and a realization of the necessity of 'give and take' is growing with both classes.

These states are not essentially manufacturing states, but they depend largely upon crops, which are this year good. Just remember that things are going to be better and you will be happier and will be better able to spread the disease of optimism."

Cheers greeted J. Fred Larson when he rose to quote figures that nailed the migrepresentations that Portland was not holding its own in population. "City Commissioner Daly told me yesterday that there have been 1600 more new water taps installed during the first eight months of this year than during the same period of last year," said Mr. Larson, "The school census shows an increase of about 2000 over the enrollment of this time last year. One telephone company has acquired 3000 new subscribers in Portland during the past year and the other has gained 1000.

"Not counting the expensive sky-scrapers in the business district, of which we have a pienty, more buildings are being erected, particularly the moderate-priced dwellings in the outskirts of the city.
