LOCAL WOMAN FLEES WAR. Mrs. A. G. Bachrodt Halted Thrice by Warships on Way Back. A. G. Bachrodt, a gatekeeper on the Steel bridge living at 241 Fargo street, has received a telegram from his wife, who was in St. Paul, New York in her flight from the war zone. Mrs. Bachrodt was in Germany when the order for mobilization was issued. The telegram, which she sent upon her arrival in New York, is dated September 22 and reads as follows: "I arrived here starved on English steamer in New York. We were held up three times by war vessels. Eight days and nights fearful storms. One died and was buried at sea and two more are at point of death. Letter follows, will explain all. Will start tonight for San Francisco."

GREAT ARTISTS' COURSE. Subscription List Soon to Be Closed for Season Tickets. The seventh day of October Olivia Fremstad will open the Steers & Coman series of concerts for this season. The other four attractions are Josef Liehring, Mrs. Alma Gluck and Eileen Zimbalist, Leo Slezak and the Barrere Ensemble.

ROCKFORD SENTENCED TO 360 DAYS. Earl Rockford, arrested many times and each time released on the pleadings of his aged mother and upon his own promise to reform, was sentenced to serve 360 days on the reformatory yesterday by Municipal Judge Stevenson. Rockford was charged with the theft of a watch and a pin from D. H. Stevenson.

Buy the Easy Way The campaign of the up-to-date shopper begins at her own fireside. She first takes stock of her needs and then consults the advertising in her favorite newspaper as to the best means of supplying those needs. She is posted on the "opportunities" before she leaves home—and when she starts to shop she has a definite idea where to go. Experience has not only taught her that this is the easiest way but it is also the safest way. Behind the advertised names is the security that comes from dealing with men who have enough confidence in their goods and service to come out publicly and say so.
