Ministers Urge Co-operation of Sunday and Public Schools in Lieu of Reading Bible in City Classes-Many Attend.

Less tango and ragtime music it Sunday schools, more standard music and a system permitting children attending Sunday schools to receive credit therefor in the public schools were urged at the meeting of the Congregational ministers and Sunday school superintendents at the Atkinson Memorial Congregational Church, at East Twenty-ninth street, Monday

Portland Congregational Minis-The Portland Congregational aiming terial Association met at 5 o'clock and heard reports from all churches in the district. Rev. J. R. Knodell, president, resigned to leave for Eastern Washington as superintendent of missions. Rev. F. Myers, of St. Helens Congregational Rev. The conference went on record against "tango and frivolous" Sunday school music and advocated the use of more standard music in Sunday schools. The unfortunates.

To carry out the idea of better music Rev. J. J. Staub, of Sunnyside Congregational Church, was made chairman of a committee to organize junior choirs in all Portland Congregational churches, these choirs to combine and give a concert in the holiday season. Pennants will be awarded the choirs winning credits for attendance and faithfulness. The ministers declared the object of this movement is to dem-onstrate the advantage of better Sunday school music and to displace much of the "tango" music now in use in

MEMBERS OF FORCE IN BRITAIN AID WAR PREPARATIONS.

Coast Watched for Zeppelins or Armed Raiders From German Fleet and Bridges Patrolled.

LONDON, Sept. 15 .- The Boy Scouts of Great Britain are distinguishing themselves in almost every way suggested by juvenile fiction.

From the north of Scotland down the eastern coast to the Isle of Wight on the south, Sea Scouts are patroling the shore, watching for the dreaded Zeppe-Hin or for some armed raider that might have escaped the British North Sea fleet, with a view to sinking the army transports in the Channel. Rathway bridges and reservoirs are watched by amps of Scouts, relieving the soldiers who are needed at the front.

Orders come into the Scout district headquarters for bugiers for Lord Kitchener's new army, for British bugiers are from 14 to 18 years old and enlist by their parents' consent.

These are some of the military aspects of Scout life. But the Scout ideal of service useful to the public still is

Owing to the rapid recruiting in war time, no one, not even Sir Robert Baden-Powell, knows the exact number of Scouts in the United Kingdom. But in London alone there are 150 acting as orderlies in the War Office, about the same number in the Admiralty, tending to telephone calls and acting as mes-sengers, and 700 or more who do the same service at the Red Cross and re-cruiting headquarters. Besides, there are about 300 Scout cyclists. are to be found at every train, guiding refugees with money to boarding-houses approved by the British relief societies

One thing that has particularly im pressed Americans in London is the business-like and military air of the British Scout. He has no sheepish feel-ing about appearing in uniform. He is of his organization and takes his duties seriously.

The Scouts are volunteers in the fullest sense, even to paying for their own uniforms. But a publicly-assisted canteen which serves meals at from one to three pence now keeps down his cost

The Girl Guides, the feminine branch of Baden-Powell's organization, are no less busy. There are more than 10,000 of these Guides in the Kingdom, and since the war their uniform has be come quite familiar on London streets. The girls are concerned, in part, in knitting mufflers and stockings for the Scouts, but only in part.

To take random instances of their usefulness, the Guides at Leeds scrubbed lown a house that was being turned ate a military hospital. In Hertfordshire they did the mending and darning or a regiment of Territorials. At Craw-cy they made puzzles to amuse conalescents and sewed newspapers to gether for extra Winter blankets. At the London refugee camps for homeless igians, the girls act as nurses for At Harrow they are rais ing vegetables for the poor.

Every Red Cross hospital has its corps of Girl Guides, who wash the shes and do general cleaning, run and sometimes save steps by gwagging.

Blue brewing barley
Feed barloy
Feed oats
The standards are practically The standards are practically the same those of last year, except in the cas of barley, which is a little lighter. The grain standard committee is composed of Robert Kennedy, chairman; Thomas Kerr D. W. L. MscGregor, M. H. Houser and William J. Albers. Samples will be made up and distributed as soon as a supply of bags is received. The samples will be sent to the Liverpool and London exchanges and to all other markets where the wheat of Oregon, Washington and Idaho is sold. The standards of the Portland Chamber of Comnerce are accepted as official everywhere. The wheat market was firm yesterday Country reports told of a considerable volume of buying during the past two days at various points. NEW COUNTY MAY RISE

PETITIONERS WOULD CREATE "STUSLAW" FROM LANE.

County Court Asked to Place Issue Upon November Ballot, but It May Be Too Late for Measure.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 29 .- Petitions asking for information of "Siuslaw" County, taking 800 square miles of the timbered and Coast territory from Western Lane County were filed this afternoon with the Lane County Clerk bearing sufficient names to place the issue upon the November ballot. The petition bears 370 names. The
