

WHITE SLAVER IS FOILED ON SHIP

Girl Traveling With Woman Rescued in Time as Boat Nears Los Angeles.

MOTHER'S SEARCH IS CLEW

Daughter of Rich San Diego Parents Lured From Home Is Recognized by Captain, Who Warns Her and Sends Her Back.

SEATTLE, Oct. 6.—(Special).—The story of how a beautiful 19-year-old girl, daughter of wealthy San Diego parents, was lured from the clutches of a white slaver after she had been persuaded to leave her home is related by officers of the steamship Governor, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which arrived in Seattle today from California.

Credit for the safe return of the young woman from her home in San Diego is given by the officers to Captain H. C. Thomas, master of the Governor.

Mother Provides Clew. A few minutes before the sailing of the ship, the mother of the girl, who was in the city, was informed by the captain of the ship that she had been searched for by the slaver, who, she said, had written a note saying she was to go north on the Governor.

Soon after the vessel left port Captain Thomas, from the description furnished him, recognized the girl and issued instructions that she be taken to his office.

There Captain Thomas closely questioned the girl as to her plans. He discovered that the runaway not only was totally unaware of the danger she faced, but was determined to continue with her companion, who, officers said, was a woman of a type readily recognizable by anybody with worldly experience.

Frank speaking to Girl. The girl told Captain Thomas the woman had promised her remunerative employment in San Francisco.

It was only after Captain Thomas had explained to her the real motives of the woman with whom she was traveling that the young girl was shocked into listening to reason.

After the girl was told that she was made plain to the girl, her effects, with her consent, were moved to another stateroom, which was occupied by a girl friend, who happened to be on the Governor.

When the Governor arrived at Los Angeles Captain Thomas, out of his own money, bought a railway ticket to San Diego and placed the girl in charge of the steamship company's agent, with instructions to see that she boarded the train. He also telegraphed to the girl's mother asking her to meet the train.

Because the girl was of legal age the woman was allowed to escape prosecution.

SHERIFF'S CLAIM RESENTED

Reward for Meacham Train Robbers Not Taylor's, Say Complainants.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special).—Indignation has been aroused here over the action of Sheriff Taylor, of Pendleton, in claiming a share of the reward offered for the capture and conviction of the Meacham train robbers. Taylor has been awarded $1300 of the $2100 offered for the capture of the two men, the remainder of the reward being equally divided between Jaffer Bachelor and detectives Booth and Powers, the men who actually effected the capture, while Sheriff Taylor and his posse were scouring the woods many miles away.

Sheriff August Huez, of Union county, today declared that he was as much entitled to a share in the reward as was Taylor. Friends of the three men here have declared their intention of preparing a formal protest against Sheriff Taylor's action.

BAKER, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special).—Frank McCarvel, of Sumpter, has started development work on the Moon Anchor Mine at Cable Cove, having taken a contract from T. Mehr and Frank Degande to put in 200 feet of tunnel. The tunnel is already in 150 feet. Some shipping ore has already been uncovered, but it is the hope of the owners that the work now under way will penetrate the ore shoot for which it is headed.

The Greenhorn mining district also reports renewed activity. At Tipton 20 men are constructing a stamp mill. The West Side mine is shipping in limited quantities, the ore being of medium grade. Frank Roberts is milling ore from his claim near the Snow Creek mine. This is the property from which a. T. Roberts took a rich pocket which caused a sensation in mining circles.

The Baker County hay crop is far above average and the crop is said to be so large that in excess it is not taken ultimately by the Portland market. The Baker warehouses are already filled. A few shipments are being made by those farmers who do not care to take any chance on advancing prices. Others are shipping hay on contracts made earlier in the year.

TALE IS ONLY HALF TOLD

Coast Banks Handle Many More Payments Showing Inland Empire Transactions in September Reach at Least $2,000,000.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 6.—(Special).—Clearance of drafts and checks through Spokane representing purchases of grain in the Inland Empire amounted to almost $2,000,000 during September. It is declared by grain men and bankers to have been the largest amount of grain business ever conducted in the city during one month.

This figure represents only a part of the actual purchases and sales made through grain offices of the city. A large part of the drafts were cleared through Coast banks, local offices being branches of concerns doing a general Northwest business, with head offices at the exporting points. "Although definite figures are not available, it is a safe estimate to place the month's grain business at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000," says J. A. Yeomans, cashier of the Old National Bank, today. "The clearances through the city of grain money have been unusually heavy."

Sherwood, of McMinnville, candidate for Recorder, spoke. She said she had often heard the expression, "dyes-in-the-wool" republicans, but she did not consider it was the duty of Republicans to not vote for all measures calculated to protect the home and benefit society. For that reason they should all vote for the prohibition amendment in Oregon.

Miss Alice Adams, also of McMinnville, a candidate for County Treasurer, said that the women of Sheridan and Williams had not organized and she asked those present who have friends in those towns to write and urge them

Interest Keen in Approaching City Election, but Candidates Few.

BAKER, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special).—Registration books for the approaching city elections, October 23 and November 2, closed this week, and show more than 2400 names on the ballot. This is the first city election at which the women will have a vote. At the last city election only 1500 votes were cast, with a wealth of candidates in the field.

Interest is keen despite the fact that only the incumbents, Mayor Palmer and Commissioner Henry are in the race. This is due to the fact that there is to be voted a proposed charter amendment, which would abolish the city form of government and substitute the city manager plan.
