AUSTRIANS CLAIM VICTORY

Vienna Report Says Przeszow Ha Been Retaken. With Guns and Ammunition - Germans Believed to Be Concentrating.

LONDON, Oct. 9 .- Conflicting reports were received today by way of Rome in Galicia, which is being bombarded by a strong force of Russians. One was that the garrison had surrendered, but the report most credited was that it still held out, although hard pressed. The Russian Ambassador at Rome said that the report was premature. He

"However, the whole town is on fire and its capitulation is now inevitable." Vienna dispatches said the Austrians claimed a victory over Russian forces on the road to Przemysi, and asserted that they had recaptured Przeszow, previously taken by the Russians, together with guns and ammunition.

Russian observers of the campaign along the Prussian frontier expressed the opinion today that Germans who were driven back during the fighting of the last three days are now concentrating their forces in three defensive positions to the west and northwest of Suwalici in an effort to protect Suwalki in an effort to protect Marggrabowa, an important railroad center 15 miles north of Lyck, which commands lines of communication in all directions, and the loss of which would, it is argued here, preclude further German activity in this region.

German Siege Guns Withdrawn. In spite of the difficulty of attack on account of the chain of lakes and wretched roads, the Russian assaults have, according to Petrograd newspapers, shaken the German resistance at this important point. great battle that is "expected for the morrow" and will "decide the struggle along the Aisne and in the north." This shows that they, as well as the mill-tary critics, are baffled by the immense operations, of which the big battles here and there constitute mere details. Heavy fighting occurs every day along some part of the battle line, the importance of which cannot be gathered from the sober details of the official statements, and so it is impossible to assemble all of the simultaneous movements bearing on the general situation. As a consequence the reviews of the situation by critics today resemble what they said yesterday and the day before. All are agreed, however, that developments are favorable to the allies and all emphasize the advantage gained from splendid health and spirits shown by the army, which the War Department is doing everything possible to maintain.

British Official Bureau Publishes Observations of Eye-Witnesses. Mileage Made by Airmen Given as $7,000.

Night Attacks Repulsed.

"The weather on Friday, the second, was hazy. The Germans were driven out of a mill which they had occupied as an advanced post, their guns and machine guns which supported it being knocked out one by one by well-directed artillery firing. In the night they made the usual two attacks on the customary spot in our lines and were again repulsed.

"Up to September 21 the air mileage made by our airmen since the beginning of the war amounted to $7,000 miles, an average of 2800 miles a day, the total equalling nearly four times the circuit of the world. The total time spent in the air was 1400 hours."

time spent in the air was 1400 hours."

The following description of the enemy's infantry tactics was given by a battalion commander who has been at the front since the beginning and has fought both in the open and behind entrenchments:

"The important points to watch are the heads of valleys and ravines and woods, especially those on the sides of hollow ground and all dead ground to the front and flank. The German officers are skilled in leading troops forward under cover in closed bodies, but once the latter are deployed and there is no longer the direct, personal leadership, the men will not face heavy fire.
