was elected president of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs at a convention held in Eugene. At that time there were 19 delegates representing ten clubs. Tonight Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, president of the same organization, called to order the 14th annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs with 200 delegates present representing more than 100 clubs embracing the entire membership of the State of Oregon.

The annual convention was auspiciously opened tonight by a brilliant reception by the women of the Eugene Fortnightly Club, to the visiting delegates. Nearly 400 women participated. "A week of power will result from this session held in Eugene," declared Mrs. Vincent Falmer, of La Grande, who delivered a response from the Women's Federation to the address of welcome delivered by Mrs. W. P. Boynton, president of the Fortnightly Club. Her remark was characteristic of a spirit of determination on the part of the visiting delegates to handle during the coming week problems of vital interest to the State of Orgon. during the coming week problems of vital interest to the State of Orgon.

Congress for legislation to refleve the cotton situation loomed up as a possible bar to early adjournment. Senator Overman, of North Carolina, declined to allow the Senate to agree that the tax bill be voted on Thursday, asserting that something must be done about cotton. It is expected the Southerners will be satisfied if a vote is taken on an amendment to the bill designed to all the cotton states and that this will be done.

the people do not take him seriously. Letters received at the headquarters advise the committee to look after that section where Mr. Hawley's opponent is not known and not the place where he is known.

REPUBLICAN IS DEFENDED

Newspapers Defend Mr. Hawley.

Newspapers all over the First district have realized the character of the campaign being conducted against Mr. Hawley during his absence from the state, and first one and then another. have expressed their disapproval. Among the last to de this is F. M. Brown, editor of the Brownsville Times, who has the following editorial in his issue of the ninth instant:

"The activity of the political enemies of Congressman W. C. Hawley in circulating defamatory literature broadcast over his district has caused his friends to begin a campaign of education, giving his record in the halls of Congress. Mr. Hawley's record is one to be proud of and his political opponents will not be able to accomplish anything in behalf of their candidate by attempting to defame him while he is not in the state to defend himself."

Hundreds of letters have been received by the committee and without exception they predict an overwhelming victory for Representative Hawley over his unknown, unreliable opponent. A number of the letters are from Democrats of long standing. St. Johns Notes
