By Gertrude P. Corbett

THE Monday Musical Club auspiciously opened the week socially by giving a large and elaborate reception last night at the Hotel Multnomah. The royal suite and the main ballroom were used for the affair, and the decorations enhanced the beauty of the gowns worn by the fair sex. The hundreds of guests were received by the officers of the club.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Weaver will give a large card party this afternoon at her handsome home for the benefit of Grace Memorial Church, of Irvington. About 20 tables will be arranged for the guests. Again in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Weaver will entertain a number of guests also for the benefit of the parish.

Miss Jessie Johnson and William McCurry were married yesterday morning at St. Francis Church, Rev. Father Joseph A. Chappoton officiating, who was former pastor at the bride's home, Detroit, Mich. Rev. Father Black read the mass. Miss Mary Gleason was bridesmaid and Charles Le May acted as best man.

The bride was gowned in white crepe meteor, trimmed with pearls and lace, and her veil was fastened with a coronet of orange and white flowers. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bridesmaid was attired in pale blue satin, elaborated with lace, and she also wore a large picture hat. Miss Marie Sandcock, a cousin of the bride, sang an offertory.

After the ceremony the bridal party and relatives adjourned to the Hotel Benson, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. McCurry will make their home at Grays Crossing, Wash., where Mr. McCurry is in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Collins, who recently returned from their wedding trip, are at home to their friends at 449 Tenth street.

Miss Grace O'Neil entertained at a luncheon at the Portland Hotel Saturday for Miss Thelma Garrett, of Seattle. Miss Garrett is en route South for the winter. She will be remembered as the popular house guest of Miss O'Neil in the early spring. Miss O'Neil passed the summer with Miss Garrett.

A group of prominent society matrons, who have been studying musical application and the history of the instrument, are anticipating with a great deal of pleasure the opening of the series, which will be Thursday at 2:30 o'clock at Miss Ruth Catlin's school, with Montezemba's "Love of Three Kings." Mrs. Henry W. Metzger will assist in the illustrating and add to the pleasure of the afternoon with her charming voice.

Miss Elizabeth Casey, of Raymond, Wash., and Philip Louis Conrad, Jr., of Oakland, Cal., were married at St. Mary's Church October 15. Rev. Father Ignatius E. McNamee officiated. Mrs. J. H. Patterson acted as matron of honor, and Mr. Patterson attended the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a reception was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, in Linton.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad left for a wedding trip to the southern states and upon their return will be at home at Oakland. Mrs. Conrad is the youngest daughter of Mrs. W. R. Morris, of Raymond, and the bridegroom is the son of Philip L. Conrad, a prominent business man of San Francisco, Cal.

For the benefit of the People's Institute Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett has asked a number of prominent women to play bridge Monday afternoon at her attractive home. It will be a large and elaborate affair.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. West and daughter, Miss Garner West, have returned from a trip to Europe. They were touring England and France at the outbreak of the war and were not in convenience in any way, except by having to wait for a ship to cross to the United States.

Mrs. Edward Goldsmith, who has made her home in this city for years, will leave tonight for San Francisco, to take up her residence with her two sons, Monroe A. and Byron E. Goldsmith.

Members of the W. C. T. U., the Parent-Teacher Association, the First and Indiana Society of Oregon will tender a reception at the Portland Hotel at noon next Saturday to Mrs. Culla J. Jayhinger, a new resident of the city, and patron of America, that now is touring the Coast in the interests of National Prohibition.

Mrs. Jayhinger has been president of the Indiana W. C. T. U. for more than ten years and has been prominent in club work and in social affairs. She will speak at one of the meetings to be held in the East Side rink, on East Morrison street, on next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. G. L. Buland is chairman of the committee in charge of the reception. It is proposed to follow the reception with a luncheon, at which a number of local women, as well as Mrs. Jayhinger, will speak.

The annual open meeting of the Big Sisterhood will be held on November 11. Miss Valentine Pritchard will preside and will invite the Coterie Club to assist during the ceremonial reception. The Psychology Club assisted.

The Woodstock Psychology Club, No. 16, was entertained in the home of the chairman, Mrs. Leander Martin, on last Saturday. The club has 14 members and the entertainment was in the form of a luncheon and programme of psychological tests, each member being required to respond to a subject adverse to her convictions.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Methodist Church will be held in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The members will donate material for aprons for a bazaar that will be held later in the season.

The fancy work committee of the society will meet on Friday afternoon in the home of Miss Jennie Hasmussen, 330 East Eleventh street North.

The Women's Liberal League of Oregon will meet Wednesday at 2 P. M. in the Swiss Hall, Third and Jefferson streets. All women opposed to state-wide prohibition are cordially invited.

TACOMA GIRL, RECENTLY RETURNED FROM EUROPE, VISITING HERE.

Miss Maude Kandle of Tacoma

Reagan, Marjorie McCollom, Mae Barr, Ella Belle Wigginton, Enbe, Mayer, Frances Soden, Melba Peterson, Frieda Le Grande, Marjorie Freer, Lucile Duffley, Ruby Rector, Clarence Young, Rudolph Bigham, LeRoy Hoss, Robert Yettick, Fred Lanthorp, Jack Middleton, Kenneth Morrison, Claude Brown, William Smith, Carl Casner, Percy Brown, Max Schulz, Joseph Barry, Jack Brun, George Anderson, Lee Waldron, Gordon Mounce, Bert St. Marie, Paul Smith, Robert McNary, Cameron Belland, Volti Jones, William Stephenson, Eugene Belland, Edward Crosby, Lee Shapiro, David Griffin, Ralph Rector, William Lewis, Frank Cox, Peter Barbara, Frank Cronin, Baldis Allen, Alexander Morrison and Harry Bell.

Miss Maude Kandle, of Tacoma, Wash., has been visiting her cousins Mrs. Alice Hewett and Mrs. William F. Ryder and her aunt, Mrs. Laura Bartlett, of Portland, for a few days. Miss Kandle is accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George B. Kandle, and they are at the Hotel Portland. Miss Kandle is studying music in a German conservatory when the war broke out. She was a pupil of Frank King Clarke in Berlin until the death of Professor Clarke.

Miss Getta Wasserman went to Seaside for the week-end, staying at the Hotel Moore. Several Portlanders journeyed to the beaches during the past few days to witness the unusually high tides that have prevailed.

One of the most delightful bits of unselfishness has been evidenced by Mrs. and Mrs. Walter M. Cook, by having her birthday party at the Day Nursery, where the little tots who rarely have parties will enjoy a sumptuous feast, this afternoon. Miss Betty's mother has sent all the goodies that children value and many more to the West Side Day Nursery, and her two daughters will join the little one and aid in the celebration. There will be music, lots of rollicking games, the birthday cake brilliant with many candles, and a Jack Horner pie, from which each little child will capture a lovely gift, and many little hearts will be gladdened by the festivity. Flowers aplenty will help make the spic and span nursery a gala place this afternoon.

Miss Edna Hirsch will entertain Wednesday evening at a box party at the Baker Theater in honor of Miss Leichenal of Seattle. Mrs. Hirsch, who is the house guest of the Sanford P. Lowengarts.

Miss Charlotte Austin Seelye and Dr. Nea Lynn Zimmerman were united in marriage October 17 at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Uri Seelye, Rev. Frank La Fayette Loveland officiating.

The wedding was a quiet, simple affair, only the immediate family and friends of the couple being present. After a short honeymoon, Dr. Zimmerman will be at home to their friends at their home, 552 East Fifty-sixth street north.

Miss Mary Kurdy has come to Portland from Walla Walla and is at home at 1286 East Clay street.

A pretty home wedding was that of Miss Mary Frances Moffatt, of Portland, and Dr. Christian E. Strafin, of Kalama, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Moffatt, Wednesday evening. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Paul H. Weyrauch, of Walla Walla, and Gustav Olin acted as best man. The low, dainty noce of the bride, Ruth Goodhue and Helen Moffatt, were flower girls.

Rev. J. E. H. Simpson, of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, officiated at the ceremony and the bride was given away by her brother, William Moffatt, Jr. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper was served. The gown of the bride was of soft white crepe meteor and Chantilly lace and her veil was held in place by a band of orange blossoms. Lilies of the valley and white roses formed her attractive bouquet. The matron of honor was attired in pink chiffon over silk and carried Killarney roses. Mrs. Moffatt was handsome in black crepe meteor with touches of green.

The young couple will take a short trip to the South, after which they will be at home in Kalama.

Mrs. E. Cohen announces the marriage of her daughter, Esther, to Morris Peters, of Albany, Sunday at the home of Mrs. Cohen. Dr. Jonah B. Wise officiated.

Women's Clubs

By Edith Knight Holmes

THE COTERIE CLUB is using its influence effectively to better the condition of home life. Lectures on subjects of this character are exciting enthusiasm and the splendid attendance at each session indicates great interest in the things that count for good.

At the Hotel Benson, 11 o'clock, October 21, Judge Gatens will deliver an address on "Home Environment" and a paper on the "Girl and Boy Problem" will be read by Mrs. G. H. Husted. Other features of the programme will be a piano selection, by Mrs. A. E. Davis; vocal solo, Mrs. E. E. Coovart, and some time will be given to routine work. This being the first meeting since the state convention of Women's Federated Clubs at Eugene, a large attendance is expected.

Central Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at 2 o'clock next Wednesday, when interesting matters will be discussed, among which will be the various phases of the campaign for work and the recent state Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention. Thirty members attended the meeting of last Wednesday, held in the headquarters, Dekum building. Mrs. Hattie Wilson presided.

The Irvington Park Literary Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Ranshaw, 1208 East Seventeenth street North.

Parent Teacher Associations

SEVERAL of the parent-teacher organizations will assist in making Apple day a success. A number of the members will go to the schools and others will help distribute apples to the families for whom the donations have been promised.

The parents and teachers have cooperated loyally in preparing for Apple day. The presidents of all the circles are:

encouraging the members to attend the domestic science lectures that are given this week in the old Hellig Theater, Eleventh and Morrison streets. Domestic science is a topic that is engaging the attention of the leading women of the day.

Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke, president of one of the parent-teacher organizations and president of the MacDowell Club, a brilliant pianist and socially prominent, heartily endorsed the project. She said: "Of course I shall be delighted to go and will take my maid with me so we can talk over the new dishes demonstrated and hear the addresses that I am sure will be so helpful."

Mrs. Martin Wagner, president of the Portland Parent-Teacher Association who was one of the patronesses of yesterday said: "Mrs. Vaughn's talk on domestic science is splendid. I hope no member of the organization will miss these afternoons."

Two hundred members attended the meeting of the Irvington Parent-Teacher Association last Wednesday. Dr. C. H. Chapman spoke on "The New Education." Following the programme tea and cake, prepared by the girls of the domestic science department, were served. The sewing and domestic science rooms were beautifully decorated. The girls who made and served the refreshments were the recipients of many compliments for their good work.

The Clinton Kelly Parent-Teacher Association held the largest day meeting in its history on Wednesday afternoon. Dr. W. F. Ogburn, instructor of political economy at Reed College, and three of the students held the interest of the large audience while they discussed the various issues before the voters.

That their efforts were appreciated was manifested by the warmly enthusiastic given each speaker. The next meeting of the association will be Friday evening, October 23.

Dr. Luther R. Dyott will speak on the relation of parents to the school. The music will be in charge of Mr. Tomlinson, and a social hour will be enjoyed.

Llewellyn Parent-Teacher Association will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the school. Mrs. S. S. Myers has promised to give a talk. A large attendance is anticipated.

Rose City Park Parent-Teacher Association will meet this afternoon in the school. The hour set is 3 o'clock.

Kerns Parent-Teacher Association will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the school. An interesting programme will be presented. All members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Robert Tate, a past president of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, is now doing organization work for the National Congress of Mothers, of which she is one of the vice-presidents.

Mrs. Tate has organized several parent-teacher associations and has met with great success wherever she has spoken before clubs and various gatherings. She has been asked to make addresses before the South Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs, the teachers institutes and various conferences. In Pierre, South Dakota, Mrs. Frank M. Byrne, wife of the Governor, headed the parent-teacher circle formed there. On Thursday, Mrs. Tate will speak before the South Dakota Teachers' Association.

FASHION NOTES

HOW queer and old-timey the pointed basques look! and yet how immensely popular they are! Many of them look not unlike a rejuvenated edition of grandmother's frock.

The full, plaited skirt, which is being retained for all that is needed to make Miss Modern resemble Madame Antiquite.

Furs and feathers are popular trimmings. Whether hats are large or small, they are of velvet or satin and are scantily trimmed.

A smart, full-length evening wrap is shown in one of the late fashion periodicals, with a wide, severe bottom and two large tassels hanging from the hood.

A suit so uncompromisingly military that it fairly "stands at attention" is one designed by Eugene. All the way down the front of the coat and tunic are smart, military frogs.

The collar and cuffs are of otter. A demure evening frock, symbolic of all that is Puritan and Quakerish, is one with a kerchief around the shoulders, falling just out of reach of the rhinestone shoulder-straps that would rescue it.

The skirt is quite plain, but, too, too short, a trait quite severe connections with it, and falls free to the floor.

When the 18th annual horse show entered upon the last minute of Summer galey at Newport, smart society maids and matrons were seen in all kinds of frocks from the sport costume to elaborate afternoon frocks.

Miss Barbara Rutherford attended in a summer frock and many striking Fall gowns were seen.

That Is What He Called Himself Instead of "Reverend" or a Minister

He found himself in a church "left down-town"; surrounded by business. "Dead as a door-nail," they said. "Move" he was urged. "Not much," he returned. To-day, the church is one of the most prosperous in all the city; alive and tremendously effective. It has even put men at the head of large business interests. How? excellent and there are several possible varieties of it. No one wants to eat apples in every course of every meal; but every Oregonian ought at least to use the apple, while at its best, in one course of every meal. There is no danger of tiring of apples, either, through lack of variety in treatment. For my own part, I consider a good raw apple hard to beat by any method of cooking. However, let us return to the "apple menu."

- 1.—Appetizers and "cocktails." Thin sliced apples "fit in" well with many savory combinations as well as with most "cocktail fruits."
- 2.—Soups. Apple cream soups could be made as popular as "cream of tomato," which was almost unknown a generation ago. Thin apple soups with sage, in the German style, are refreshing and wholesome. A little chopped apple also helps the development of flavor in vegetable and legume soups.
- 3.—Fish. As little as a fish cake for an "apple" is a proverbial expression; and yet thin sliced apples served like cucumber, or combined with horseradish make a good fish accompaniment, while chopped or shredded apples go well in many fish salads.
- 4.—Entrées. Of course you think first of "apple fritters with claret sauce," but there are other possibilities in croquettes and patties. Besides, you know, apple fritters are really "entremets," not "entrees."

- 5.—Vegetables. Many dyspeptic find that steamed quartered apples, or raw apples, used instead of potatoes as a meat accompaniment give good results. Fried apples are, of course, well known, especially with pork or sausage. Apples and onions are an English combination. Apples and red cabbage a German one.
- 6.—Sauce and stuffing. Everyone knows the classic combinations of apples with pork, duck and goose; in the two latter cases apples may be combined with celery.
- 7.—Main dishes (vegetarian). Apple and nut loaf, apple omelet and apple rabbit are all possibilities in place of meat. Apples play an important part, too, in curries of vegetables and legumes.
- 8.—Salads. Apples are among the best of general utility "fillers" in salad making, second only to celery, and perhaps, white cabbage. They may go into sweet, half sweet and savory salads; may be served alone or in combinations, and with practically any type of dressing. Apple cups as "containers" for salad are well known; "apple dressing" is perhaps less generally used.
- 9.—Desserts. Now we get to the really busy part. There is no end to the pies, puddings, bread and cereal combinations, dumplings, "whips," custards, "fluffs," and creams of various sorts, as well as the ever-wholesome baked apple, plain, or filled, or jellied.
- 10.—Cakes. These range from "decorated breads," as in the Dutch apple cakes and muffins, to fruit cakes in which apple sauce takes the place of eggs, milk and baking powder, to say nothing of apple fillings of several sorts for layer cakes, rolled cakes, eclairs and "small pastries."
- 11.—Ices. Yes, certainly, all the way from "eider frappe" to "apple parfait."
- 12.—Cheese. Every one knows how cheese "goes with" apple pie; but go a step further, and try eating cheese with thin sliced apples in place of crackers. Anyone wanting special recipes among those suggested above might write to me. But buy a box of apples anyway.

"I NEVER DREAMED A GIRL COULD LOOK SO STRIKING IN A COAT!"

"'Twas a COLLEGE COAT and Cost ONLY $12.95 at CHERRY'S!"

"I know, because I asked Emily. College Coats are the very newest style and wonderfully popular already. But Emily's is the jauntiest I've seen, and she bought it ON CREDIT!"

"Well, perhaps that's the very jauntiest, either. I saw scores of other smart patterns in the same cut at CHERRY'S yesterday. See, I bought this nifty plaid for myself. Isn't it soft-colored and dashing? I saw College Coats in checks and very clever striped designs, too."

"Oh, I did want a certain Redingote Dress in that new brown shade called 'cote de negre'—the stunning thing! I think I'll get it, too—I may as well when I can pay by the week. But yesterday I chose a dainty silk Bareque Waist, to wear with my midnight blue skirt, you know."

"CHERRY'S CREDIT SYSTEM is surely a relief to folks that like to 'look well'! Their address is 729-731 Wash. st., Pittcock block—Adv."
