Industry, Integrity and Ambition Lead to Fortune.

Schoolmate of Robert A. Booth Tells of Characteristics Which Made Him Great.

ROBERT A. BOOTH is a native of Oregon and the son of a pioneer minister. His life has been spent in Oregon. He started with no capital except industry, integrity and willing hands. As he has prospered, he has aided in making Oregon prosperous. Something of Mr. Booth's early life and the manner in which he advanced to an enviable position in the team of his fellowmen is told in the following voluntary contribution from one who has known him for nearly 50 years.

"I attended school at the Umpqua Academy in 1867-8 at the time Robert A. Booth attended the same school. He was a member of the same pioneer family. His father, accompanied by his family, had come to Oregon by ox team in 1852 and had taken up a donation land claim near Grand Ronde Indian reservation in Yamhill County. In 1867 he removed to Wilbur in Douglas County. Here Robert with other members of the family attended school at the academy.

"For two years I was in the school and Mr. Booth part of the time was in the same class. I remember Mr. Booth as a young man of exemplary and industrious habits. He always had his lessons prepared and gave his teachers no trouble. His father was a minister and was always in moderate circumstances. Robert grew up inured to hard work and privations. He paddled his own canoe and was always tect of his own fortune. As he grew to manhood he always took an active part in the affairs of the community where he lived and was always engaged in some useful employment. His record in Douglas and Josephine counties, where he lived for many years, is without a blemish.

"From Josephine, Mr. Booth came to Eugene, and at once commenced to develop the timbered resources of Lane County. At that time timber was so abundant as to be considered almost valueless. When the McKenzie wagon road land was offered for sale no one wanted to buy it, but finally Mr. Booth with his company bought a large tract of this timber at a low figure and in time it grew to be very valuable, and this is the reason Mr. Booth gained his wealth. He invested his money and took his chances and it turned out well. He with his company built saw mills, logging roads and sawed up and shipped over 1,000,000 feet of lumber from Lane County and paid out for labor over $10,000,000. Who can say that Robert Booth has not been a benefactor to the state?

MR. SINNOTT IS ATTACKED

Prohibitionists Say Representative Supports Liquor Interests.

THE DALLIES, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Alleging that Representative Sinnott is "admittedly" a supporter of the liquor interests, friends of George L. Cleaver, the Prohibition candidate, are springing an eleven-hour attack against the Representative in this district, who, as the Republican nominee, is a candidate for re-election.

Friends of Representative Sinnott are much aroused, as they say his position.)—A schedule of school rallies has been set by Polk County for meetings to be held in all parts of the county during the term. Parents are to attend each meeting and tell what standards they expect the schools to set in the training of children. The gatherings are planned to last all day, and big dinners are to be held. Teachers and pupils then will join in promoting school interests. Since Parent-Teacher meetings were commenced in Polk County, better understanding and relationship have existed between the parents and teachers.

STUDENTS ARE GRATEFUL

Benefactions, Known to Few, Extended by Mr. Booth to Colleges.

Scores of young men and women in Oregon are working actively for the election of Robert A. Booth, the Republican nominee for the United States Senate.

They are actuated by a spirit of gratitude. When these young men and young women were boys and girls attending the schools, it was possible the state Mr. Booth gave financial assistance in the measure that they needed it.

Through his scholarship loan funds, established in various institutions of higher education in Oregon, Mr. Booth, without ostentation and without hope of future reward, made it possible for students who otherwise would have been denied the privileges of a college course to enjoy these advantages.

In recent years Mr. Booth has established such loan funds at the State University, in Eugene; Willamette University, at Salem; the Oregon Agricultural College, at Corvallis; Reed College, in Portland, and other schools in various parts of the state.

For a long time Mr. Booth indulged in this form of philanthropy without the knowledge of the public, but in the present campaign many young men and women who benefited from it have brought it to public attention. Mr. Booth never refers to it voluntarily. On several occasions within the last few months he has been questioned regarding it, and then explains it modestly and does not attempt to advance these acts of his as an argument for his election.

ROAD EXPERT IS WANTED

Hood River Finds Much Money Paid for Highways Is Wasted.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—A concerted effort is now being made by the Hood River valley citizens to have the County Court appoint a skilled engineer as road master. It is argued that a large portion of the $45,000 annual tax levy for roads is wasted because of the lack of the unskilled manner in which it is applied.

The appointment of a road master by the County Court of year before last brought on the recall election, which resulted in depositing from office the men administering the affairs of the county.

LITTLE DAUGHTER VERY DELICATE

Mother Tells How Vinol Made Her Delicate Child One of the Healthiest.

Fayetteville, N. C.—"My little daughter was in delicate and very poor health and had so little strength it caused us a great deal of uneasiness. I noticed an advertisement of Vinol and decided to try it. The results were simply marvelous as her appetite improved at once, she gained so much in weight and looks that my friends all commented on the change. She is now one of the healthiest children in town and does not need medicine of any kind. All mothers who have delicate children should try Vinol."—Mrs. Gordon Jessup, Fayetteville, N. C.

Vinol is a wonderful appetizer and you can see delicate, ailing children improve day by day under its use, for it is the tissue building and medicinal elements of cod's liver's aided by the blood making, strength creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so superior to other tonics. It builds up health and strength for delicate children, feeble old people and weak, run-down, nervous debilitated men and women.

We wish every mother who has a delicate child would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. The Owl Drug Co., Portland, Oregon.

result in a better understanding of the principles of community co-operation, which, if given free play, will do more than anything else to make the greater Oregon. The development of our state lies in our own hands. Community lines must be wiped out with me in this. I found more optimists than I thought there were in the whole world."

Mr. Werlein visited Newberg last night and will be at Forest Grove tonight.

Julius L. Meier, of Meier & Frank Company, yesterday entered into a contract with John H. Yeon for a short lease on the ground floor and basement space in the corner of the Yeon building on the northeast corner of Fifth and Alder streets, near the Meier & Frank department store buildings.

The new quarters, which will be designated as "Meier & Frank's Annex No. 2," will provide 17,500 square feet of floor space in addition to the 10-story main building on Sixth and Alder streets and the 12-story annex on the southeast corner of Fifth and Alder streets.

"A tube system will be installed to insure prompt communication between the two," said Mr. Meier yesterday. "Annex No. 2 will be operated as a separate store where Christmas goods, particularly the toys, will be sold. "I Like Cherry's Clothes Better, Anyway!"

Hupmobile Touring Car and Roadster

From what I know of motor-car values in general and in particular, I don't believe there is a better value on the market this Fall.

Take size, for example.

The Hup carries five passengers, without crowding or standing.

Its wheelbase is 119 inches—as long as many cars that cost more—and the body so designed that the passengers get all possible benefit of this generous length.

Take equipment—a big feature nowadays.

This car gives you a perfected electrical starting, lighting and ignition system, accessories of the highest quality, and every convenience necessary to a complete car.

As to quality, I need only say that it embodies every bit of the goodness that has made the Hup famous all over the world—its economy, its reliability, its continuous service, etc.

If you follow my advice, you will see and ride in this Hup before you sign a check for a new car.

Convert your touring car or roadster into a closed car for winter by fitting a Hup sedan or coupe top.
