What Newspapers Think

Editorials from Morning Oregonian, Friday, July 10, 1914

and the no large chies is treat MUNICIPAL GOOD BREEDING. Two serious offenses against good form have been soverely dealt with by City Commissioner Dieck. One cul-prit, it appears, so far forgot the digprit, it appears, so far forgot the dignity of his position as clerk that he appeared before Mr. Dieck-in negligee costume for no better reason than that the weather was hot. The other offender neglected to shave himself and appeared at his deak with a stubbly hirsute growth on his face. These grave derelictions might have escaped another man, but not the exacting Mr. Dieck. He acted premptly and sharply and when he had finished ten big, black demerits stood against the record of each offender.

This prompt and effective treatment of the matter probably put a complete stop to what might have grown into a serious state of affairs. Such transgressions are contagious and contaminating and might have and contaminating and might have the reached such a stage that any city employe would have felt free to remove his coat when the thermometer was hovering around the 90 mark. was hovering around the 90 mark. Some might have gone to the extreme of rolling up their sleeves under the false belief that they could do their work better when not hindered by the uncomfortable warmth of excessive apparel. It is a reform that should be car-ried farther. Insufficient dignity is in felt by many minor city employes. There should be a more rigid adherence to the rules of polite society and side convention. We see no reason why Mr. Dieck shouldn't compel his subf Col ordinates to observe those subtleties and niceties of gentlemanly conduct and niceties of gentlemanly conduct that are followed in, say,—diplomatic circles. From 8 o'clock until noon the city force should appear in smart morning suits. During the ample interval for luncheon the attire should be changed to conventional frock coat and top hat. If any of the employes are required to carry their labors into the evening they should, of course employ in evening dress. of course, appear in evening dress. The same rules should prevail for women employes.
Thus the full dignity of the great car
City of Portland would be fully upheld. Mr. Dieck has entered upon a sy

> No wonder the Colonel sits on the fence and thinks. what is the use of housing city employes in a chastely ornamented building as long as they go about in slovenly attitre, unshaven and unshorn? It is idle to talk about a "city beautiful" while municipal servants make scarecrows of themselves. We commend Commissioner Dieck's efforts to secure a calm and elassic pose in his employee, but we think he does in his employes, but we think he does not go far enough. Why not make a beautiful form a prerequisite to em-ployment, giving twenty merits for a Grecian nose, thirty for hyacinthine locks and so on down the line? Senator Clark, of Arkansas, is actuated by the best of motives in build-

DIGNIFIED.

Dignity is lacking when an official or employe of the city keeps his coat off, according to Robert G. Dieck, who firmly believes that dignity is a necessary requisite for those holding public positions. The first to be reminded of this is R. S. Dulin, city chemist, who has been given 10 demerit marks for having an "undignified" appearance.

During the warm weather of the

On one of these days Commissioner Dieck observed that Dulin's vest did not fit him snugly, and when the efficiency cards were turned over to the civil service board yesterday afternoon 10 demerit marks were checked up against him.

Another employe, holding a minor position, received demerit marks for "sloveniy" appearance. It is said that he came to work without a shave.

Dr. George Parrish had no part whatever in inaugurating the recall movement. He had no intention of becoming a candidate for Commissioner to succeed Mr. Dieck until after the recall petitions were filed. He only determined to become a candidate at the earnest solicitation of his friends and to protect his own interest and the interest of the public.

For answer of Commissioner Dieck's defense see page 14.
