

Society News

By Gertrude P. Corbett

EVERY day this week will be devoted to the British Red Cross Society chain of teas. Some afternoons there will be at least half a dozen of these informal affairs, so that society folk have no time for other diversions. Among the matrons who will entertain this week are: Mrs. George A. Marshall, Mrs. James A. Dougherty, Mrs. Gay Lombard, Mrs. Ralph C. Matson, Mrs. Chester G. Murphy, Mrs. Walter F. White, Mrs. Arthur Murray Sherwood, Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, Mrs. Frank Wilder, Mrs. Robert Livingstone, Mrs. W. D. Clarke, Mrs. Fred P. Morey, Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman and numerous others, both for this week and next.

A smart affair of today will be the reception for which Mrs. G. P. Clavin and daughter, Miss Edith Clavin, will be hostesses this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The Hotel Benson was the scene of a large reception last night, where the Oregon Congress of Mothers entertained several hundred guests. Mrs. Aristene Felz, president, was assisted in receiving by the officers of the congress and about 50 other handsomely gowned matrons.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dahl gave a dinner and entertainment at their home, 323 East Ankeny street, last Sunday in honor of their two sons' birthdays. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Elde, Miss Ruth Elde, Master Carl Dahl, Master H. H. Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. Evenson, A. Evenson, O. Evenson, Miss Christoffersen, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, E. Wilhelmson, Mr. and Mrs. Hillrud, the Misses Hillrud, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dahl.

One of the first of the Halloween parties was that given by Mrs. J. M. Rice and Mrs. Ida Foster at the home of the former on Clifton street, Monday evening. They were assisted in receiving by Miss Bessie Ricketta. The evening was passed in dancing and music, an excellent program being rendered by Miss Edith Altrow, pianist, Miss Newberry, violinist, and Miss Ricketta, soprano. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Anna Parker, Mrs. Betha Butler, Mrs. Ida Foster, Misses Altrow, Newberry, Ricketta and Calderwood, Messrs. Phillips, Altrow, Nell, Schlegel, Burroughs, Appleby and Carvelin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stair entertained the Swastika "500" Club Friday evening at their home, 794 Williams avenue. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Schlegel, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pirdin, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Silvernail, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Boas, Mr. and Mrs. R. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Y. Pollock and Mr. and Mrs. Robnett and the hosts. The prize winners were Mrs. Robnett and R. McIntyre and consolations fell to L. V. Pollock and Mrs. F. A. Silvernail.

Mrs. Alvin Davis, of Silverton, passed Sunday with Mr. Davis' nephew, Edward Davis, of Portland.

The woman's auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, division No. 1, will give a "500" party and dance Monday evening, November 9, in their new hall on Russell street between Rodney and Main streets. The committee is composed of Mrs. Guy Kennedy, Mrs. O'Hanlon, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Miss Kate Cavanaugh, Miss Catherine Gaffney and Miss Mary McCarthy.

The women of the Laurelhurst Club will give a dancing and card party at the home of Mrs. F. J. Secklem, 35 Floral avenue, on Thursday night. Residents of Laurelhurst and their friends are invited.

The Laurelhurst E. M. B. Club passed an enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. S. Wilson, 104 Hanston street. After a pleasant social hour a luncheon was served. The room was decorated prettily in cosmos and Autumn foliage. Those present were: Mrs. J. B. Howland, Mrs. J. E. Maxon, Mrs. C. F. Runkel, Mrs. Otto Ruddy, Mrs. Charles A. Steele, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Watters, and the hostess.

The young women of the Madeline parish, recently organized into a Young Ladies Aid Society, will give their initial party in the parish hall this evening. The affair will be a Halloween celebration, with decorations and amusements in accord with the spirit of the occasion. The officers of the society in charge of the affair are Miss Alice Ryan, Miss Margaret Doherty, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Rachel Clark.

Mrs. R. P. Inman, Miss Inman, Hil-dred and Elma Inman, of Eugene, are visiting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Gray, 324 Halsey street. Miss Inman will be the guest of Queen Theima Thursday, at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show.

Women's Clubs

By Edith Knight Holmes

WITH Halloween as an inspiration for entertaining, many of the clubs are planning entertainments for the benefit of the charities in which they are interested. Nearly every woman's organization has its department of philanthropy and all of the leading clubwomen are active in social service work.

The Overlook Woman's Club will give a Halloween costume party Saturday night in Mississippi Avenue hall, 125 Mississippi avenue. The party is for the benefit of the charity fund of the club. Fortune telling, dancing, games and appropriate Halloween features will mark the event.

Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden and Mrs. Mary Mallett will address the Central C. T. U. meeting in the Deakum building this afternoon on the measures to be voted on at the coming election. This will be an interesting and instructive meeting and all who are interested are urged to be present.

The Portland Psychology Club will entertain on Thursday afternoon when it will hold an elaborate reception in the home of Mrs. E. E. Covert. The women's club of the city will be guests. Some of the leading musicians of Portland will contribute to the programme.

Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, recently appointed a member of the board of regents of the University of Oregon, a member of the Dallas Woman's Club and prominent in child welfare work, was one of the speakers at the reception given last night by the Oregon Congress of Mothers in the Hotel Benson.

PRESIDENT OF OREGON CONGRESS OF MOTHERS WHO HEADED RECEIVING LINE AT HOTEL BENSON LAST NIGHT.

Mrs. Aristene Felz. ORE. PHOTO

state federation meeting in Eugene recently and read one of the most interesting reports presented at that gathering. The organization from which Mrs. Millican was a delegate is made up of the women homesteaders of the Crook County district. These women took an active part in the good roads movement in their locality.

Mrs. Mattie Rhodes and Mrs. Josephine Sharp gave comprehensive reports of the federation meeting at the regular gathering of the Women's Political Science Club, held yesterday. Mrs. Sharp reported that T. M. Hurst had stated that if he were elected Sheriff he would appoint a woman deputy to look after certain cases, the clubwomen of the city. The committee is composed of Mrs. Guy Kennedy, Mrs. O'Hanlon, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Miss Kate Cavanaugh, Miss Catherine Gaffney and Miss Mary McCarthy.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

By Mrs. F. A. Walker

Princess Good and the Green Dwarf—Part II.
THE next morning the sun was shining when the princess opened her eyes, and the first thing she thought of was who "his highness" could be, so she jumped out of bed and pushed the silver button again, and the little maid of the night before came smiling and wishing her good morning.

"His highness wished to know if you will ride with him before breakfast," inquired the maid.
The princess said she would be delighted, and in a little while she was dressed and running through the halls to the door of the castle, where two beautiful black horses that were saddled soon appeared.

"Good morning, your highness," he said, "did you sleep well?"
The princess told him she did, but she did not ask, as she would like to do, who "his highness" was, to whom the maid referred.

The princess did not look at the green dwarf as he scrambled into his saddle, for she was sure he must be very sensitive about his queer looks, and she did not wish to hurt his feelings.

They rode along a road more beautiful than the one the princess had seen the day before, and by and by they came to a pretty little cottage, covered with roses, where the two horses stopped and clapped their hands, and a funny little fat man and his funny little wife ran to the door and bowed low to the dwarf.

"We will have breakfast in the garden, Peter," said the dwarf.
A table was brought and spread under the rose-covered porch, and the little princess thought she had never been so happy as she was on this beautiful morning.

Then another ride was taken through a more beautiful woods than the princess had ever seen, and when they returned to the palace the little maid had a dress laid out for the princess that she thought must have been made for her.

"Who wore this dress? She must have been just as large as I am," she said to the maid.
"No one has ever worn the dress before, your highness," replied the maid. "But how did you happen to find it here and just a fit for me?" asked the princess, more puzzled than ever.

"His highness had these rooms prepared when he came here to live and the chests came with us," said the maid.
It was all the princess could do not to ask more about "his highness" and the strange host and all the other things, but she knew she should not question servants, so she let the maid dress her and went to dinner.

When it came dark the princess remembered that she had not said a word about going home, and so she said to the dwarf: "I should have gone home today, but I have been so happy I did not think of home. Tomorrow I must be off early in the morning. Will you have my horse brought to the door as soon as the sun is up?"
"Do you wish to leave here?" asked the dwarf. "I had hoped you would be so happy here that you would not care to return to your home."
"I do not go because I wish to," replied the princess. "For I am very happy at home. My stepmother does not love me, and no doubt she wishes

I would never return, but I cannot accept your kindness longer. I have stayed too long already."
"But if you could love me well enough to live here always," said the dwarf, "we could be married and this would be your home; you would never have to leave it—or me," he added, hesitatingly. It was almost dark in the room where they were sitting, but for the light from the fire in the grate, and the princess forgot all about his queer form and color, his voice was so soft and sweet, and so kind, and the little princess was not used to much kindness.

"Oh, I am sure I love you and never wish to leave you, but what will his highness say to having me live here?"
The princess felt an arm steal around her waist, and a man much taller than the dwarf stood beside her.
Just then a servant appeared with a light and the princess beheld a handsome young man beside her, and the green dwarf was nowhere to be seen.

The servant when he beheld his master screamed, which brought all the other servants running to the room, and the day she threw over him a kettle full of a strange mixture she had brewed and told him until he could find a princess who loved him he would remain a green dwarf.

So the prince took his servants and came to the castle in the woods, bringing with him his chestful of beautiful

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single hair and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

clothes for the princes when he should find her.
Then with the old witch whom the queen had bargained with, the prince had made a bargain first that she was to help him find the princess who was to free him from the form he wore, and that was how it happened that she was able to get the queen to get rid of the Princess Good for this world was not a bad witch, as the other was.
Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, New York City.

Fearless District Attorney Pays Booth Tribute.

George M. Brown, of Roseburg, Fears Booth's Home Life as Refusal of Charges Against Integrity.

IT is conceded by friends and political opponents alike that Oregon never had a more fearless public officer than George M. Brown, of Roseburg. During his term as District Attorney in Southern Oregon he has never hesitated in the performance of duty or in his attitude on public affairs by political considerations.

In an address at Salem Saturday night Mr. Brown paid a warm tribute to the character of R. A. Booth. He said he had known Booth all his life and had never known a more upright man. He had never heard a word against Mr. Booth's integrity until the present campaign, and he warned his hearers to pay no attention to the charges.
"I knew Mr. Booth's mother—a grand old lady"—said Mr. Brown. "And I know how devoted the son was to her. It has been my observation through life that a boy who loves his mother and is good to her cannot do anything but what is right."

STUDENTS SERVE LUNCH

Domestic Science Girls of Trades Institution Begin Service.

A hot lunch was served 67 students of the Girls' School of Trades in 11 minutes Monday noon, when the new cafeteria established by the domestic science department opened. The cafeteria, which is the only one in the city where girls of a school's domestic science department do all the cooking, is in charge of Miss Grace La Brie. The meal cost the younger girl students but 5 cents, and none more than 10 cents. The menu consisted of two kinds of fruit, macaroni and cheese, three kinds of sandwiches, and hot chocolate.

Next week a night school service will be inaugurated in the cafeteria. Here office girls will be expected to go directly to the cafeteria to get their work. They will be served a hot lunch and the next hour will be passed in recreation. It is possible that gymnasium work may be instituted. The school of trades for girls will be open every day and evening for public inspection during the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show. Special ex-

National Theatre

—a reel playhouse—
Park—Stark—West Park

SUBJECT: Concerning the building, appointments, policy and above.

Fellow Citizens:

Everyone who has had an Advance look into this new Playhouse and who has heard About our policy in operating it Says:
"This architectural Beauty of the Building will Make it one of Portland's Show places, the Ventilating system is perfect, the color scheme is Fascinating, the Interior comforts Are pleasing and Restful, Your policy of Frankly into Your confidence In all your Personal and Printed statements is commendable, And your decision To run a high-Class Variety Bill with two Complete changes Weekly will be Very popular."
For the OPENING.....
Of this new Playhouse tomorrow Evening Everything will Positively be in Complete readiness. Two hundred and fifty Pieces of scenery Are in—the mural Paintings are Finished—the carpets Will be laid by Daily for the Numerous changes Required to Properly present An extravaganza Like "America"—the other attractions Are all ready—and The 4900 electric Lights inside and Outside are being Finally tested and Made ready for a Flood of light Unlike anything ever Before witnessed In Portland.

Your Uncle Sam

NATIONAL THEATER

A REEL PLAYHOUSE PARK-STARK WEST PARK

Grand Opening Tomorrow

Oct. 29th Evening Oct. 29th
At 7 o'clock

"America"

(In 6 Parts)

An exact reproduction of the great extravaganza as given at the New York Hippodrome!

With Complete Orchestra

Other Selected Attractions

Scale of Prices

General Admission 10c Loge Seats 25c

For Opening Night

Doors Open at 6:30 P. M.
1st Performance Starts Promptly 7:00 P. M.
2d Performance Starts Promptly 8:30 P. M.
3d Performance Starts Promptly 10:00 P. M.

On and after Thursday the National Theater will open at noon and run continuously until 11 P. M.

state federation meeting in Eugene recently and read one of the most interesting reports presented at that gathering. The organization from which Mrs. Millican was a delegate is made up of the women homesteaders of the Crook County district. These women took an active part in the good roads movement in their locality.

Mrs. Mattie Rhodes and Mrs. Josephine Sharp gave comprehensive reports of the federation meeting at the regular gathering of the Women's Political Science Club, held yesterday. Mrs. Sharp reported that T. M. Hurst had stated that if he were elected Sheriff he would appoint a woman deputy to look after certain cases, the clubwomen of the city. The committee is composed of Mrs. Guy Kennedy, Mrs. O'Hanlon, Mrs. W. J. Smith, Miss Kate Cavanaugh, Miss Catherine Gaffney and Miss Mary McCarthy.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

By Mrs. F. A. Walker

Princess Good and the Green Dwarf—Part II.
THE next morning the sun was shining when the princess opened her eyes, and the first thing she thought of was who "his highness" could be, so she jumped out of bed and pushed the silver button again, and the little maid of the night before came smiling and wishing her good morning.

"His highness wished to know if you will ride with him before breakfast," inquired the maid.
The princess said she would be delighted, and in a little while she was dressed and running through the halls to the door of the castle, where two beautiful black horses that were saddled soon appeared.

"Good morning, your highness," he said, "did you sleep well?"
The princess told him she did, but she did not ask, as she would like to do, who "his highness" was, to whom the maid referred.

The princess did not look at the green dwarf as he scrambled into his saddle, for she was sure he must be very sensitive about his queer looks, and she did not wish to hurt his feelings.

They rode along a road more beautiful than the one the princess had seen the day before, and by and by they came to a pretty little cottage, covered with roses, where the two horses stopped and clapped their hands, and a funny little fat man and his funny little wife ran to the door and bowed low to the dwarf.

"We will have breakfast in the garden, Peter," said the dwarf.
A table was brought and spread under the rose-covered porch, and the little princess thought she had never been so happy as she was on this beautiful morning.

Then another ride was taken through a more beautiful woods than the princess had ever seen, and when they returned to the palace the little maid had a dress laid out for the princess that she thought must have been made for her.

"Who wore this dress? She must have been just as large as I am," she said to the maid.
"No one has ever worn the dress before, your highness," replied the maid. "But how did you happen to find it here and just a fit for me?" asked the princess, more puzzled than ever.

"His highness had these rooms prepared when he came here to live and the chests came with us," said the maid.
It was all the princess could do not to ask more about "his highness" and the strange host and all the other things, but she knew she should not question servants, so she let the maid dress her and went to dinner.

When it came dark the princess remembered that she had not said a word about going home, and so she said to the dwarf: "I should have gone home today, but I have been so happy I did not think of home. Tomorrow I must be off early in the morning. Will you have my horse brought to the door as soon as the sun is up?"
"Do you wish to leave here?" asked the dwarf. "I had hoped you would be so happy here that you would not care to return to your home."
"I do not go because I wish to," replied the princess. "For I am very happy at home. My stepmother does not love me, and no doubt she wishes

I would never return, but I cannot accept your kindness longer. I have stayed too long already."
"But if you could love me well enough to live here always," said the dwarf, "we could be married and this would be your home; you would never have to leave it—or me," he added, hesitatingly. It was almost dark in the room where they were sitting, but for the light from the fire in the grate, and the princess forgot all about his queer form and color, his voice was so soft and sweet, and so kind, and the little princess was not used to much kindness.

"Oh, I am sure I love you and never wish to leave you, but what will his highness say to having me live here?"
The princess felt an arm steal around her waist, and a man much taller than the dwarf stood beside her.
Just then a servant appeared with a light and the princess beheld a handsome young man beside her, and the green dwarf was nowhere to be seen.

The servant when he beheld his master screamed, which brought all the other servants running to the room, and the day she threw over him a kettle full of a strange mixture she had brewed and told him until he could find a princess who loved him he would remain a green dwarf.

So the prince took his servants and came to the castle in the woods, bringing with him his chestful of beautiful

California HOTELS AND RESORTS

Most Superiorly Situated Hotel in California.

Hotel Virginia

LONG BEACH CAL.

A region famous for its equable winter climate.

"Close to the Rhythmic Surf."
Winter bathing directly in front of grounds. Clubhouse, Tennis Courts, Sporty 18-hole golf links—Country Club—Boating—Deep-sea Fishing, Steel—Concrete—Marble, Absolutely Fireproof.
American Plan. Famous for its cuisine and service. Write for rates and reservations.

MERRITT JONES HOTEL

OCEAN PARK, CAL.

Southern California's Newest Seaside Hotel. Steel and concrete. Absolutely fireproof. 150 rooms with private bath. Close to all amusements. Winter surf bathing. Deep-sea fishing. Miles of auto roads along the ocean front. European plan. Rates from $1. For special weekly and monthly rates. Location and views. Write Ward McFadden, Prop.

OCEAN PARK

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

SPEND THE WINTER at Ocean Park, the playground of the Southland. (Usually the hotel accommodations.) Hot and cold plunges. Delightful surf bathing. Countless amusements and attractions. Free band orchestra. Ocean Park Hotel. Only 10 miles from Los Angeles. Write R. T. McMillan, Ocean Park Boosters Association, for booklet, etc.

Hotel Clark

LOS ANGELES, CAL.

555 ROOMS.
All With Private Bath.
FURNITURE $18.00.
Steel and Concrete—Absolutely Fireproof. Hair block from Central Park. Convenient to all stores, theaters and amusements.
F. M. DIMMICK, Lessee.
Hill st., between 4th and 5th, Los Angeles.

ARLINGTON HOTEL

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF.

Absolutely fireproof. "American Plan." Best winter climate. Numerous outdoor sports. Famous for its cuisine. For rates and reservations, write E. P. Dunn, Santa Barbara, Cal.

HOTEL HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Los Angeles, Cal.

Only between city and ocean. Delightful winter climate. Every outdoor amusement. American Plan. For booklets and rates write Geo. S. Krum, Mar-hibits of the students' work will be on display every Wednesday.

Sandy School Has Industrial Club.
SANDY, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special).—The Sandy School has organized a club to promote school activities with the following officers: Gladys Mitchell, president; Marjorie Adams, vice-president; Alfred Mehnig, secretary; Glenn Loundree, treasurer; Henry Junker and Edward Grunert, Committees—Programme, Marjorie Adams, Louise Gogger, Henry Junker, playground, Ray Cox, Glenn Loundree, Aloysius Gray; finance, Hazel Beers, Fay Davis, Guy Cox. The club will meet every Friday afternoon.

It will take up industrial work this winter. A reference library and other high school supplies have been received.
According to the latest available figures, Pennsylvania stands fifth in the production of wood pulp and second to West Virginia in the amount of slabs and other sawmill waste used for pulp; Maine stands third.

What is CRISCO?

Crisco is the best, the cream of vegetable oil.
Crisco is all vegetable. It remains of ideal consistency and does not separate.
Crisco keeps sweet and pure indefinitely because the parts of the oil which turn rancid have been eliminated.
Crisco makes a richer cake than butter, because it is a richer fat. Crisco is 100 per cent pure fat; butter contains approximately one-fifth water, salt and curd.
Crisco makes fried foods more digestible, because Crisco itself is perfectly digestible.
Crisco is a real food fat. Animal lard, and fats to which stearine has been added require a longer time to digest, taxing the digestive machinery.
Try Crisco today. Grocers sell Crisco in ever increasing quantities. It costs less than half as much as butter.

MADE-RITE In America

IT WILL RAISE THE DOUGH BETTER

GROCERS SELL IT 1 Lb. 25c

Dr. T. Felix Gouraud's Oriental Cream

OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin Diseases, and every blemish on beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 60 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure it is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name.

Dr. T. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haughton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." At druggists and Department Stores.
Ford, T. Hopkins & Son, Props., 37 Grand Street, N.Y.C.

A New Principle in Comlexion Treatment

Most creams are injurious when used habitually. They clog the pores and eventually form a permanent, soggy, stinking film which interferes with eliminative action and makes the skin sticky and pearly. This is an application of a so-called wax—which acts upon an entirely different principle. While perfectly harmless, it has the peculiar property of removing by absorption the dead and half-dead particles of seborrhea, as well as unhealthy matter in the pores. Thus it takes away from instead of adding to the complexion, differing in this respect from cosmetics. The result is a perfectly natural and healthy young complexion. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (one ounce is sufficient), is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.
The correct principle in the treatment of wrinkles is to tighten the skin, which naturally firms out the lines. A face bath remarkably effective in this direction may be made by dissolving 1/2 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel.—Adv.