

EX-EMPLOYEE KILLS MILLMAN AND RUNS

Peter Clark Slays Henry P. Williams at Lockhart Over $1.50 Claim.

ESCAPE MADE IN HILLS

Deputy Sheriff Jackson in Pursuit of Gunman in Burnt River Country—Four Shots Follow Order to Shut Down Plant.

BAKER, Or., Oct. 28.—(Special).—Henry P. Williams, a prominent young lumberman and millowner of Lockhart, 12 miles south of Baker, was shot and instantly killed at 2:30 o'clock this morning by Peter Clark, a former employee of the Williams mill.

The assassin, who shot without warning, was fleeing through the hills to the southeast toward the Burnt River country and Deputy Sheriff Ed Jackson, of Baker County, is alone on the trail after him.

The crime was the result of Mr. Williams' refusal to pay Clark $1.50 which Clark said Williams owed him. Two days ago Clark presented his demand, but Williams declared that belts worth $70 had been stolen either by Clark or Clark's uncle, and he refused to pay the nephew's claim. Clark then departed and came to Baker, but left this morning in the Sumpter Valley trail, eluding Thompson's siding, 12 miles from Baker.

Four Shots Are Fired.

Clark then walked back into the timber a mile to the mill, entered and ordered the engineer to shut off the engine. The engineer obeyed and then Williams appeared, asking who had ordered the shutdown. "I did," was Clark's reply, and without another word he fired four times at Williams. Two of the bullets took effect, one in the neck piercing the spinal column and causing instant death, and the other in the shoulder.

The several mill employees rushed at Clark, but he waived his smoking revolver and forced the men back. One, however, rushed at him with a cant hook, but Clark, disarmed, eluded his pursuer and went over the hills.

Trouble Brews Five Months.

Mr. Williams came to Baker five months ago from Oklahoma and bought the mill from B. F. Dickerson two months ago. He was 35 years old and unmarried. The trouble with Clark dates back to a time soon after Williams' arrival. Then Clark's uncle, who, just before Williams had bought the mill, came to Baker, drew money from the Shockley Lumber Company to pay the men and, it is alleged, instead of paying the men left the country. At the same time the big drive belt in the mill disappeared. Mr. Dickerson went with Williams to the mill to put him in charge, but he found the elder Clark's wife still there and she told him that her nephew, Peter Clark, would run the mill. Mr. Dickerson vetoed this plan and put Williams in charge, taking over the mill on account of a petition signed by the elder Clark. Williams discharged Peter Clark soon after and Clark did not appear until two days ago, when he demanded the $1.50.

Booth for United States Senator and Dr. Withycombe for Governor, assuring that if the latter is admitted that Dr. Withycombe will be elected. "I want to do all in my power to stop the onslaught made at each session of the Legislature upon the people's money," said Mr. Vinton.
