

RETORT COURTEOUS GIVEN MR. MOORES

Clarke Leiter Reminds Republican Chairman of His Predictions in 1912.

GUESSES ARE INVERTED

Mr. Hanley's Manager Declares Victory Lies With Progressives—Accuses Opponents of Stealing Thunder at Eleventh Hour.

"I doubt very much if the public is interested in the antics of political managers," said Clarke Leiter, manager for William Hanley, Progressive candidate for the United States Senate, yesterday, in answer to a column article by C. B. Moore, Republican state chairman.

"I imagine that they are, however, interested in the candidates and their principles, and I have tried to conduct our campaign for Mr. Hanley along constructive lines. However, if I have been able to entertain or amuse Mr. Moore for a few minutes and lighten the gloom over the impending defeat that confronts the Republican camp, I am indeed gratified.

"Mr. Moore himself has in the past proved very entertaining at times, especially as a political pundit. I wonder if this is the same Mr. Moore who predicted Mr. Taft's overwhelming election, when Mr. Taft only ran third. I have noticed that Mr. Moore's predictions usually go in the inverse ratio. He predicts Mr. Booth's election. It seems safe, therefore, to assume that Mr. Booth will be third in the race.

Inconsistencies Pointed Out.

"If Mr. Hanley is not a serious Senatorial candidate or a formidable factor in the race for United States Senatorship, what is Mr. Moore worried about? And why is he giving Mr. Hanley's campaign a whole column in The Oregonian? The fact is, one of the many things that is making Mr. Moore gloomy in the steadily gaining strength of Mr. Hanley and the steady drift of the progressive Republican votes to Mr. Hanley.

"If Mr. Booth is so overwhelmingly elected, why carry on a campaign at all? Why not stop? Mr. Moore professes not to fear Mr. Hanley, and insists Mr. Chamberlain is going to have no votes at all, why worry about Mr. Hanley's camp? Why worry about Lawson's words and Leiter's rhetoric? With all the millionaires in Oregon, with all the banks, railroads, water-power corporations, owners of timber and skyscrapers in the Booth camp, why worry because Thomas W. Lawson—known as a true friend of the people and the foe of Standard Oil—takes his pen in hand and writes letters to the people, who believe him and trust him, about the big fight between Mr. Hanley and Mr. Moore?

Publicity in Plenty Available.

"I know one thing that Mr. Moore does not have to worry about, and that is publicity. He sends out press matter, he writes editorials, he writes editorials in the country newspapers. Mr. Moore becomes worried about Hanley, presses a button and the newspapers begin to run off an article in his matter. Really, Mr. Moore makes me envious.

"Mr. Hanley's position on all public questions is the best, the fairest, and frankly, he is standing squarely on his constructive platform for the development of Oregon."

"It must be a great comfort to Mr. Moore to read over the Republican registration, but when he remembers how lightly party ties are held in Oregon he grows worried again and commences to figure and prophesy. He knows that over one-half of the Republican registration is composed of progressive Republicans who are opposed to the scheme to elect a reactionary Senator, to revive the old Assembly machine, to knif the Oregon system.

Booth Gives the Place.

"According to estimates based upon the latest registration figures as furnished by the Secretary of State, the candidates for United States Senator will receive the following votes on November 3: Hanley, 30,000; Chamberlain, 75,000; and Booth, 60,000. The remainder of the vote will be proportioned between Socialists and Independents."

"No doubt this will worry Mr. Moore. For that I am sorry.

"Mr. Moore is also worried about Mr. Hanley's stand in favor of a moderate protective tariff and his statesmanlike views that all tariff questions should be settled by a non-partisan tariff commission (like the Interstate Commerce Commission), and the whole tariff question taken out of politics and the log-rolling of Congress, so that business would not be continually unsettled and disturbed. Why? Because Mr. Hanley's stand appeals to business men of all parties and gains him votes from the progressive Republicans.

"Progressives to Decide."

"The fact of the matter is, and the veriest tyro in politics knows, that the Senatorial campaign is going to be decided by the progressive Republicans."

"Why is the Journal trying to compliment the Lincoln Republicans if not to entice them into the Chamberlain camp? Why are Mr. Moore's machine friends so deeply interested in the stand the progressive Republicans are going to take?"

"Where will the progressive Republicans go in this election? Surely not to the reactionary Booth. Surely not to free trade Chamberlain, never the friend of progressive government. They are flocking to Hanley, the genuine progressive, the friend of the Oregon system, the man whose sole aim in life is to do something for every man, woman and child in Oregon."

EAST SIDE CAMPAIGN ON BUSINESS MEN START PUBLICITY WORK TO PROMOTE DISTRICT'S TRADE.

At a special meeting of the East Side Business Men's Club Wednesday night the publicity committee, with H. A. Caley chairman, was authorized to go ahead with the publicity plans, and to print the circular cards to be placed in the windows of East Side business houses.

These will range in size from five inches to two feet in diameter, and will be illuminated. Between 30 and 40 business men and representatives of business concerns attended the meeting and gave the plan cordial support. L. M. Lepper reported that two-thirds of the money needed to meet the expenses of the publicity plan had been secured and more is coming in every day. The committee estimates that it will cost $200 to $250 a month to cover expenses.

The illuminated cards read: "Help Boost for the East Side. Bigger, Better, Bustier East Side. Give the East Side Preference. Quality, Price and Service Being Equal."
