

PENSION LAW FLAW CITED TO MOTHERS

Changes Proposed by Clubs to Be Heard at Congress' Sessions Today.

BOY PROBLEM IS HEARD

Irving E. Vining Discusses Youth in Large Cities, Education of Child and Boys' Clubs - Normal Schools Have Champion.

Interest in the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations convention this morning will center round the widows' pension law and its proposed amendments.

Regarding the Juvenile Court law Mrs. Trumbull suggested the use of "calm judgment instead of hysterical sentimentality" and attacked vigorously the policy of making it possible for children to be claimed by the parent who had previously given them up.

She said: "A parent who cannot stay clean and decent when the child is young and most needs him should never have him back."

After Mrs. Trumbull had finished Mrs. R. E. Bondurant, who is chairman of the widows' pension committee, and already had read her report, suggested amendments that should make better the law, asked: "Was there ever a law made that wasn't in some way abused?"

Mrs. Trumbull replied: "You can't legislate virtue into the people." The amendments were prepared by the widows' pension committee of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, who are responsible for the law.

Mrs. A. King Wilson gave a comprehensive report of the work accomplished in the Parents' Educational Bureau and emphasized the point that the eugenic tests held there were educational purely and were not "contests" to exploit the child.

As there were 235 delegates in attendance, and as there are numerous departments, the reports of all excepting the bureau and legislative committees were called at the end of three minutes.

Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, educational chairman, spoke in favor of normal schools, defining them as the "best" to the greater efficiency in the teaching force of the coming generations of teachers.

Among the other departments represented in reports were: Child hygiene, Dr. Mae Cardwell; Chautauqua, Mrs. J. F. Riskey; Juvenile Court, Mrs. C. W. Hayhurst; literature, Mrs. J. M. Walker; membership, Mrs. Harriet Hendee; Parent-Teacher extension, Mrs. J. C. Elliott King; press, Mrs. E. Frizelle; State Fair, Mrs. Young, of Wilsonville.

At the president's conference at noon the need of the parents "getting together" for union high schools in the rural districts was emphasized. School savings banks also were discussed.

A delightful feature of the afternoon was the music furnished by Mrs. Jane Burns Albert, who sang two brilliant solos, accompanied by Miss Mamie Helen Flynn.

Records, However, Show That Since July 1 There Have Been 146 Mishaps, Causing Eight Deaths.

Somewhat it has been noted abroad that Portland boasts of having had no automobile accidents for nine months.

Portland, Oregon, with a population of approximately 200,000, boasts that it hasn't had an automobile accident for nine months.

Veracity compels Portlanders to work the reputation is undeserved. Compared to other cities, Portland's accidents probably are below the average, but the past few months have seen an extraordinary number of smashups of this nature here.

Police records show that since July 1 there have been 146 automobile or motorcycle accidents. Of these, 84 occurred during the months of July and August.

The accidents during the past four months resulted in eight persons being killed, 56 injured and thousands of dollars worth of damage done to machines.

The totals were swelled by a veritable wave of accidents which struck Portland during the early part of July. The records show 20 accidents for the first 19 days of that month.

It is remarkable also, that a similar epidemic of mishaps occurred early in July, 1912, occasioning considerable comment.

July, 1914, had 48 accidents, August 46, September 33 and October, up to the 28th, only 19.

Three of the deaths from automobile accidents were on September 28, when a machine loaded with alleged joy riders, ran they are exceedingly careful in the circulation of all sorts of cards and circulars, as the corrupt practices act of this state is broad, and many things that appear themselves to be harmless when used as a means of practical politics are found to be prohibited by this law.

"For example, we have a statute that prevents any priest, preacher or official of any corporation from using any influence except that of public speech or print in favor of any law in behalf of which he might be interested.

Another law prevents the attempt to influence any voter as to how he shall cast his ballot on election day. Still another prohibits the payment of anyone's expenses that he may vote, and another law prohibits political libel.

"Our statute is far-reaching and every election brings to this office many complaints by those who feel aggrieved at the result of the vote. The District Attorney has no discretion in the subject, but must act on any violation of the law.

"I believe that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, and I want to bring the attention of those interested in the coming election to these laws, hoping they will save themselves embarrassment and also in the hope they may save this office from having to perform unpleasant tasks that will have to be undertaken if complaints of this nature are filed."

There's a Reason why more and more coffee drinkers quit coffee and use--- POSTUM

Once convinced that coffee-drinking is actually harmful to health, few parents would give coffee to their children, or drink it themselves.

What proof more convincing than the unnatural aches and pains that many coffee-drinkers suffer?

What proof more conclusive than the scores of expert medical and scientific opinions against coffee?

Brain, Stomach, Heart, Liver and Kidneys are the first organs to be affected. Sometimes it shows in headache; often in nervousness, indigestion or heart disturbance; frequently in biliousness or disturbed vision.

If you are in doubt, try this test-- Stop coffee ten days and use POSTUM

This pure food-drink, made of prime wheat and a small percent of wholesome molasses, has a rich, Java-like flavor and is absolutely pure and free from the coffee-drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled. 15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—needs no boiling. A teaspoonful of the soluble powder stirred in a cup of hot water makes a delightful beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds, and the cost per cup is about the same.

JURY ACTS IN 15 MINUTES

Divorcees of Same Man Appear in Suit Brought by Second Against First for $5000—Man's Presence Startles.

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 29.—(Special).—A wife, who by divorce had freed her husband when he told her he had wronged another woman, and who was sued for damages by this second wife, after she, too, had been discarded, was vindicated by a jury in 15 minutes tonight.

The sensation was sprung by the defense when it produced Fred Kahler, the man in the case, who was not supposed to be within hundreds of miles of Eugene. The defense called no other witness.

Kahler testified how he had met the second Mrs. Kahler, then Mrs. Zuber, of their plans to destroy the two homes, his in Springfield and hers in Eugene, and of their flight to Canada to marry as soon as the divorce was granted. Then he told how, after they had gone to California to live a man had come along and broken up his home, and because of his belief that his second wife was unfaithful he had discarded her.

The case hung upon the question whether the California separation was due to the second wife's alleged infidelity or to the letters of the first wife.

BRIDE TAKEN FROM HOTEL

Foot "Friends" Find Frantic Husband Unable to See Humor.

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 29.—Kidnaped within a half hour after her marriage tonight, Mrs. Sarah Rosenthal, bride of Ralph Rosenthal, a Boardwalk merchant, was whisked from Grossman's Hotel on New Jersey avenue, to the mainland, and when she was finally returned to her anxious husband, three hours later, plans for a banquet at which they were to be guests of honor in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, were hastily canceled. The couple started at midnight, instead, for Lakewood, making the journey by automobile.

Mrs. Rosenthal, who was Miss Sarah Blatt, was summoned to the telephone from a wedding supper at the hotel, and when she reached the hallway a scarf was thrown about her head and she was hurried to a waiting automobile. When Rosenthal found his bride missing a few moments later he became frantic. When the hilarious "friends" finally returned with Mrs. Rosenthal they found the husband pacing madly up and down the hotel porch. The "humor" of the situation had not dawned on him.

Music for Every Home. Music is as necessary to the home where contentment and joy reign, as are light and air. What is there that can take the place of music? What is there that is at once so exhilarating and so soothing? Dullness is unknown where music is, especially when it is music of your own production.

With the ANGELUS Player Piano you can play all the music of all the world

The ANGELUS is a marvelous means that immediately gives you control of all the music making possibilities of the piano. No previous skill is required. All that is needed is a love of music and a desire to produce it.

The wonderful Phrasing Lever, requiring but a slight pressure of the finger, will enable you to put in the tempo nuances, while the Melodant will bring out the melody clear and sparkling, and emphasized just the way you prefer it. It will be your own personal playing as truly as though you were the most skilled pianist in the whole world.

The Phrasing Lever and the Melodant are patented devices indispensable to musical expression and are found only on the Angelus. It is these features that distinguish ANGELUS playing from that of all other instruments; that permit individual expression.
