

SUPPORT PLEDGES MADE M'ARTHUR

Eastern Section of Multnomah County Solid for Republican Candidates.

PERSONALITIES NOT LIKED

Men and Women of Every Political Faith Announce Themselves as Ready to Vote for Advocates of State's Prosperity.

Eastern Multnomah county will return a big majority for C. N. McArthur, the Republican candidate for Representative in Congress, and the remainder of the Republican ticket.

For the last ten days Republican campaign orators have been giving their best attention to that district and have created strong sentiment favorable to the Republican party. Yesterday Mr. McArthur made a tour through Fairview, Troutdale, Gresham, Pleasant Home, Powell Valley and Arleta and found the stage all set for the election, with everyone whom he met determined to vote for him already.

He met and shook hands with more than 500 men and women. All or nearly all of them told him that they will vote for him and the other Republican candidates. They pointed to the present business depression and to the fact that the Democratic tariff has disturbed their normal economic relations. They seemed to know that hard times always accompany Democratic incumbency in Governmental power and almost invariably had determined upon the proper method to bring relief—support of the Republican candidates.

Many voters seem to resent the attempts of the Democratic campaign speakers and Democratic newspapers to belittle the main issue of the campaign by indulging in personalities. A score of Democratic speakers have intimated to Mr. McArthur yesterday of supporting the Republican ticket for this reason. Some of them expect to vote for Mr. McArthur personally because of the vicious attacks against him by Governor West.

"If the Governor keeps up his work it will increase my majority," he commented last night.

Mr. McArthur also is getting much support from his district. They appreciate his support in their behalf as a member of the Legislature. He voted for the sanitary livestock bill, the Agricultural College extension and the county fair appropriation bills and various good road laws, all of which were intended to benefit the farmers. He is himself engaged in farming and livestock-raising, and, therefore, is in position to understand the needs of the farmers and take a personal interest in their welfare.

"I look for a big Republican vote in the eastern end of the county," he said on his return to the city last night. Mr. McArthur spoke twice last night—at the Seaside theater in Montavilla and at the Republican rally at Peninsula Park.

Robert A. Booth, Republican nominee for the United States Senate, will return to Portland tomorrow morning in triumphal tour through Southern Oregon. He will pass the day in Portland. Mr. Booth will be guest of honor at a smoker given for Senator Chamberlain's Club in Moose Hall at 3 o'clock tonight. It is probable that he will speak also at a Republican rally in the library building.

On Sunday Mr. Booth will go to Dallas to address a meeting in one of the churches. He will return to Astoria to wind up the campaign on Monday night, and, returning to Portland, will go on Tuesday to his home at Eugene to cast his vote. He will get the election returns at his home.

William Hanley, Progressive candidate for the United States Senate, will be tendered a reception by his friends and supporters in the main lobby of the Oregon Hotel between 3 and 5 o'clock today. Both men and women are invited. Mr. Hanley has campaigned over the entire state, but has been unable to see all the people. It is probable as many voters in Portland want to meet him personally, his campaign managers have taken this means of giving them that opportunity.

C. T. Haas, a Portland attorney, calls attention to the fact that he is not connected with or associated with Frank C. Hesse, of Oregon City, who recently tried to influence several German residents of Portland to repudiate their indorsement of Dr. James Withcombe for Governor and to indorse W. S. U'Ren instead.

Frank C. Hesse is a law partner of U'Ren, and was, it seems, alone responsible for the attempt to secure a repudiation of the Germans' indorsement.

C. T. Haas is secretary of the Deutsche Bund, and the recent reports concerning the fact of similar name have caused him much annoyance and embarrassment.

A straw vote conducted in the lobby of the Morgan building yesterday afternoon gave the following returns: Withcombe, 28; Smith, 12; McArthur, 25; Flegel, 15; Booth, 25; Chamberlain, 17; Hanley, 11.

Tom J. Sweeney, Progressive candidate for County Commissioner, is making an active campaign in all parts of the county. He is visiting the rural districts by day and making street speeches by night.

R. A. Booth will go to Dallas on Sunday to address a union meeting of the churches. It will not be a political address, but on account of the present interest in the campaign it is probable that hundreds of folks will try to hear him. It is reported that people at Independence, Monmouth and surrounding towns plan to run excursions to Dallas for this occasion.

Dan J. Malarky, ex-president of the State Senate, will speak for the Republican ticket at Eugene tonight. He will make a special plea, it is understood, for the election of the Senatorial candidates.

A Progressive rally is scheduled to take place at McMinnville this evening. Judge Lionel R. Webster, William Miller, Anne Shannon Monroe and Helen C. Wilson will be the speakers. The meeting will be held in the Yamhill County courthouse.

George J. Cameron, Republican county chairman, and Walter L. Toose, of Dallas, went to Troutdale yesterday afternoon and spoke to more than 50 voters there in the interest of the Republican state and county ticket. They pointed to the unnatural depression in business conditions and laid responsibility for this situation at the door of the Democratic party.

Gus C. Moser, of Portland, will make a Republican campaign address at Independence on Monday evening. He spoke at Dallas on Thursday evening and probably will speak somewhere today.

To test the length of time it will take to count the ballots at next Tuesday's election, the Republican Women Election Officials' Club will conduct a mock election in their headquarters at 301 Sealing building from 2:30 to 3 o'clock this afternoon. Sample ballots will be used in the "voting."

Many inquiries have been made at the offices of the club by persons interested in the result, on the time that the results probably will be known. In this manner, it is believed, a definite answer to the question may be provided.

Judge McGinn, who is advocating the measure on the ballot providing for a notary, has received the receipt, indorsement for the bill from Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Umatilla County.

Judge Lowell contends that length of service on the bench does not necessarily increase efficiency and argues that frequent changes might prove advantageous to attorneys and litigants. Senator Lane addressed the Central Labor Council last night on behalf of the Democratic candidates, and made a special plea to bring the laboring men into line for Senator Chamberlain.

Senator Chamberlain will make two speeches in Portland tonight—his first formal public appearance in this city in the present campaign. He will speak first at Washington High School and later at Lincoln High School. This sentiment does not appear confined to any one section, but is general throughout the state, and its presence is disconcerting the managers of the Chamberlain campaign.

Development of the Booth spirit came with the arrival of Senator Chamberlain to conduct his campaign personally. Those familiar with the Chamberlain system of campaign expected that his presence would arouse enthusiasm and bring into his fold the doubtful and the lukewarm and that considerable body of Democrats who view with coolness the candidacy of Chamberlain.

No such anticipated enthusiasm materialized. Chamberlain held his meetings and was listened to by crowds, but the sustained support of the Chamberlain system of campaign apparently had lost its magnetism. Whatever the true cause, there was no Chamberlain wave of excitement.

W. C. Winslow, a prominent attorney of Salem, will speak for the Republican ticket at Sidney, Lane County, on Saturday night. He also has been making Republican speeches in other parts of the state.

Milton A. Miller, collector of Internal Revenue, is making a tour of Crook County in an effort to arouse interest in the Democratic ticket. He will remain there until Saturday night.

T. H. Cooper, of Corvallis, visited Republican headquarters yesterday. He reports that conditions throughout the county favor the Chamberlain ticket. As Benton is Dr. Withcombe's home county, his vote there will be exceedingly heavy, but Mr. Booth's vote will be nearly as well. Mr. Booth has gained steadily in Benton County in the last few weeks.

Democratic government officials are reported as being more active in politics this year than any other time in the history of the service. Collector Miller has traveled here and there, visiting the state to the other, advocating the re-election of Mr. Chamberlain. James Godfrey, a revenue agent who has held the position since Mr. Miller's traveling over the state devoting his time almost exclusively to talking politics, it is said.

Johnson Smith, another deputy, who was a guard under Chamberlain in the state prison for several years, now is making speeches all over the state, showing a map of Oregon and saying that Mr. Hanley owns two-thirds of Eastern Oregon.

In addition to his other troubles, C. M. Hurlbut, who has been repudiated by the Republican County Committee and the Republican candidates for representative in the Multnomah-Clackamas joint district, now is being urged for divorce.

Evelyn J. Hurlbut, brought action against him in the Circuit Court yesterday, charging non-support and cruelty. She declares that they were married in March, 1912, and that she neglected her began in the same year. She alleges that in February of this year she forcibly took a ring from one of her fingers and "soaked" it in money for his own uses. She complains, also, that he has repudiated honest debts and that he has remained away from her for days at a time. She thinks he is in Wisconsin now.

"I have tried to reform him, but there is no reformation in him," is one of the significant paragraphs in the complaint. C. M. Hurlbut, it is understood, is making no effort to be elected.

Women voters will meet the women candidates of all political parties at the Central Library this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Violet M. Coe will preside. It is probable, too, that several of the men who are seeking office at this election also will be invited. Every candidate will be allowed three minutes to speak.

This meeting will be entirely non-partisan and all women who are running for office are expected to attend and to speak, regardless of their political affiliations.

A. W. Lafferty, candidate for Congress on an independent basis, made two speeches last night. He has been confining his activities to the East Side and on some of his campaign trips took the band along to attract the crowds.

John L. Day, treasurer of the Republican County Committee, has taken charge of the headquarters of C. N. McArthur, Republican candidate for Congress, and will be in personal attendance every day until the eve of the election. On account of the demands upon his time, Mr. McArthur has found it impossible to remain in the office to meet the voters who call there to promise their support.

Ex-Governor Geer will go to Wapinitia, Wasco County, today and deliver an address for the Republican candidates there tonight. To reach Wapinitia he will travel on the Oregon Trunk Railroad to Hunt's Ferry and then take the stage over the mountains for 12 miles. It is reported that the people of Wapinitia and vicinity are taking a keen interest in the Republican cause.

William Miller spoke at the Star Theater in Linnton last night for William Hanley, the Progressive nominee for the United States Senate.

MR. BOOTH ASSURED OF SEAT IN SENATE

Canvass of Senator Chamberlain Shows He Has Lost His Power Over Voters.

TIDE TURNS TO REPUBLICAN

Lukewarmness Prevailant Among Pronounced Democrats, While Those Open to Conviction Realize Injury to Commerce.

Booth sentiment has been developing so rapidly during the past two weeks that the indications point to a large and substantial lead for the Republican candidate for United States Senate. This sentiment does not appear confined to any one section, but is general throughout the state, and its presence is disconcerting the managers of the Chamberlain campaign.

Development of the Booth spirit came with the arrival of Senator Chamberlain to conduct his campaign personally. Those familiar with the Chamberlain system of campaign expected that his presence would arouse enthusiasm and bring into his fold the doubtful and the lukewarm and that considerable body of Democrats who view with coolness the candidacy of Chamberlain.

No such anticipated enthusiasm materialized. Chamberlain held his meetings and was listened to by crowds, but the sustained support of the Chamberlain system of campaign apparently had lost its magnetism. Whatever the true cause, there was no Chamberlain wave of excitement.

W. C. Winslow, a prominent attorney of Salem, will speak for the Republican ticket at Sidney, Lane County, on Saturday night. He also has been making Republican speeches in other parts of the state.

Milton A. Miller, collector of Internal Revenue, is making a tour of Crook County in an effort to arouse interest in the Democratic ticket. He will remain there until Saturday night.

T. H. Cooper, of Corvallis, visited Republican headquarters yesterday. He reports that conditions throughout the county favor the Chamberlain ticket. As Benton is Dr. Withcombe's home county, his vote there will be exceedingly heavy, but Mr. Booth's vote will be nearly as well.

Mr. Booth has gained steadily in Benton County in the last few weeks. Democratic government officials are reported as being more active in politics this year than any other time in the history of the service. Collector Miller has traveled here and there, visiting the state to the other, advocating the re-election of Mr. Chamberlain. James Godfrey, a revenue agent who has held the position since Mr. Miller's traveling over the state devoting his time almost exclusively to talking politics, it is said.

Johnson Smith, another deputy, who was a guard under Chamberlain in the state prison for several years, now is making speeches all over the state, showing a map of Oregon and saying that Mr. Hanley owns two-thirds of Eastern Oregon.

In addition to his other troubles, C. M. Hurlbut, who has been repudiated by the Republican County Committee and the Republican candidates for representative in the Multnomah-Clackamas joint district, now is being urged for divorce.

Evelyn J. Hurlbut, brought action against him in the Circuit Court yesterday, charging non-support and cruelty. She declares that they were married in March, 1912, and that she neglected her began in the same year. She alleges that in February of this year she forcibly took a ring from one of her fingers and "soaked" it in money for his own uses. She complains, also, that he has repudiated honest debts and that he has remained away from her for days at a time. She thinks he is in Wisconsin now.

"I have tried to reform him, but there is no reformation in him," is one of the significant paragraphs in the complaint. C. M. Hurlbut, it is understood, is making no effort to be elected.

Women voters will meet the women candidates of all political parties at the Central Library this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. Violet M. Coe will preside. It is probable, too, that several of the men who are seeking office at this election also will be invited. Every candidate will be allowed three minutes to speak.

This meeting will be entirely non-partisan and all women who are running for office are expected to attend and to speak, regardless of their political affiliations.

A. W. Lafferty, candidate for Congress on an independent basis, made two speeches last night. He has been confining his activities to the East Side and on some of his campaign trips took the band along to attract the crowds.

John L. Day, treasurer of the Republican County Committee, has taken charge of the headquarters of C. N. McArthur, Republican candidate for Congress, and will be in personal attendance every day until the eve of the election. On account of the demands upon his time, Mr. McArthur has found it impossible to remain in the office to meet the voters who call there to promise their support.

Ex-Governor Geer will go to Wapinitia, Wasco County, today and deliver an address for the Republican candidates there tonight. To reach Wapinitia he will travel on the Oregon Trunk Railroad to Hunt's Ferry and then take the stage over the mountains for 12 miles. It is reported that the people of Wapinitia and vicinity are taking a keen interest in the Republican cause.

William Miller spoke at the Star Theater in Linnton last night for William Hanley, the Progressive nominee for the United States Senate.

LAST MEASURE ON BALLOT

Insures Four Years of Business Activity to Oregon. Vote 356, Yes.

Honest men and women are honest in politics. They are good and can be no better than the people. Laws enacted by less than a majority give no promise of permanence. Down with the man who trifles with lawmaking and seeks to keep up factional strife. Political party is an essential to government as the church is to the promotion of religion. Statesmanship and decent politics must become synonymous if the Oregon system is to survive.

A party worth organizing until it numbers one-fourth of the people is worth protecting in its organization until such time as it may command the respect and allegiance of a majority of the people.

Beware of the man who shouts for the primary but refuses to have that primary apply to his own party, or evades an honest vote of his party. That newspaper which has used ten times as much printer's ink in mixing in the affairs of an opposing party as it has used in trying to build up its own party, is prevaricating as to its motives in opposing an amendment of the primary, making the working features of the primary consistent with the promises of its original title. Don't be hypocritical in pretending more devotion to an opposing party than your own. Make the primary alike to all parties.

Honest assessment of property at real value, equal and uniform rates to all men and all property, should not be "obsolete" until the Golden Rule and the multiplication table are no longer used. Examine our assessment rolls and find where property is boldly assessed at only one-third of its known value, then try a fair assessment before condemning the laws of a century of successful use.

Experts tell us that an invent a system of varied schedules and rates of tax, which will fit the varied demands of business. Assessment multiplied by rate determines our tax. When those experts complete their schedules and varied rates of taxation, all they need do is to apply their varied rates to their schedules and they will have an assessment so perfect that a uniform rate will yield exactly the same tax as will be secured by use of a preferential rate. Any schedule which will correct the rate will correct the assessment.

Vote against every plan of unequal taxation. 354, Yes, and 356, Yes. George E. Frost, chairman executive committee Citizens' Legislative League, T. J. Fording, secretary.—(Paid Adv.)

over his candidacy. Of course, one reason in revenge, for when Senator Chamberlain was in position to take care of his faithful followers he surrendered the patronage to Harry Lane.

Even some of the county organizations are disgusted with excesses of Senator Chamberlain, who refuse to take off their coats to assist him in this, the fight of his office-seeking career. These Democrats are not necessarily Booth supporters, but they are passive regarding Senator Chamberlain. They will be "regular" and nothing more.

A canvass among voters who say they are Chamberlain supporters reveals the fact that they are not new converts but have been with him before. It is seldom that a new supporter is discovered. Contrariwise, it is an easy matter to find voters who say they are for Mr. Booth, who, in the past, were Chamberlain men.

Such is a summary of the growth of the Booth sentiment. It is limited to Portland nor to the county. It is moving along, growing larger each day. The conviction that this is a Republican year and a time to stick close to the party line is general. Since the coming of Senator Chamberlain the phrase "Booth will win," is heard more often daily.

Wage earners realize keenly the shortage of work. There is an army of people in Oregon who have been thrown out of employment because of industry created by the union. The land is full of union men who should be drawing good wages, but they have not had a job in months and no sure prospect of finding one. The men want to help themselves and they have reasoned it out that the way to vote for themselves is to vote for Mr. Booth.

There are Democrats who understand this and have moderation. They have pointed out to Chamberlain managers that Governor West, after opening the doors of the penitentiary to criminals of the worst stamp confined there, is hurrying Chamberlain's cause by turning loose convicts and charges Republican candidates with being undesirable. The American spirit of fair play is a contributing factor to the growth of the sentiment for Mr. Booth.

Women Play Active Part. Women, who have had no share in politics heretofore, are largely supporting Mr. Booth. Word has gone forth from the women who know him best, his neighbors at Eugene, that he is a man of the honorable man who has always worked with them in betterment measures. This recommendation has had a wide influence on the Republican women voters of Oregon and Mr. Booth evidently will receive more votes of women than any other candidate in the coming election. The working an active interest in Mr. Booth's candidacy and by letter and word of mouth are increasing the sentiment in his favor.

It is known positively also that scores of men who have been active in the Chamberlain campaign, but who are not with him this time. This is noticeably true in the Democratic party. The wheel-horses of the party who have seen Senator Chamberlain wreck Democracy in Oregon by his nonpartisan policy of building up a personal machine are not enthusing in favor of Chamberlain.

There are Democrats who understand this and have moderation. They have pointed out to Chamberlain managers that Governor West, after opening the doors of the penitentiary to criminals of the worst stamp confined there, is hurrying Chamberlain's cause by turning loose convicts and charges Republican candidates with being undesirable. The American spirit of fair play is a contributing factor to the growth of the sentiment for Mr. Booth.

Women Play Active Part. Women, who have had no share in politics heretofore, are largely supporting Mr. Booth. Word has gone forth from the women who know him best, his neighbors at Eugene, that he is a man of the honorable man who has always worked with them in betterment measures. This recommendation has had a wide influence on the Republican women voters of Oregon and Mr. Booth evidently will receive more votes of women than any other candidate in the coming election. The working an active interest in Mr. Booth's candidacy and by letter and word of mouth are increasing the sentiment in his favor.

It is known positively also that scores of men who have been active in the Chamberlain campaign, but who are not with him this time. This is noticeably true in the Democratic party. The wheel-horses of the party who have seen Senator Chamberlain wreck Democracy in Oregon by his nonpartisan policy of building up a personal machine are not enthusing in favor of Chamberlain.

There are Democrats who understand this and have moderation. They have pointed out to Chamberlain managers that Governor West, after opening the doors of the penitentiary to criminals of the worst stamp confined there, is hurrying Chamberlain's cause by turning loose convicts and charges Republican candidates with being undesirable. The American spirit of fair play is a contributing factor to the growth of the sentiment for Mr. Booth.

Women Play Active Part. Women, who have had no share in politics heretofore, are largely supporting Mr. Booth. Word has gone forth from the women who know him best, his neighbors at Eugene, that he is a man of the honorable man who has always worked with them in betterment measures. This recommendation has had a wide influence on the Republican women voters of Oregon and Mr. Booth evidently will receive more votes of women than any other candidate in the coming election. The working an active interest in Mr. Booth's candidacy and by letter and word of mouth are increasing the sentiment in his favor.

AN APPEAL TO WOMEN

Abigail Scott Duniway

Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway, PIONEER MOTHER AND PATH BREAKER OF THE EQUAL SUFFRAGE MOVEMENT IN OREGON, WASHINGTON AND IDAHO, takes this method to extend her greetings to such HONEST CHRISTIAN WOMEN as she devoutly believes are being LED ASTRAY in the present Prohibition crisis BY THE CRAFTINESS OF AMBITIOUS MEN.

Have you forgotten, my inexperienced daughters, who are listening to HIRED AND IMPORTED AGITATORS, to consult your Bibles? Do you recall the fate of One, who, upon entering the enemy's country "to seek and to save that which was lost," was ostracised, derided and finally crucified by SELF-STYLED "BEST PEOPLE," who still "love to pray, STANDING IN THE SYNAGOGUES AND ON THE STREET CORNERS, TO BE SEEN OF MEN?"

Are you obeying the divine command of him who said, "Woe unto you Scribes, Pharisees, HYPOCRITES?" Do you forget that he urged his followers to "RESIST NOT EVIL," but to "OVERCOME EVIL WITH GOOD?" Can't you remember that He warned the people to AVOID DRUNKENNESS, and, while graphically depicting the woes of the drunkard, HE AT NO TIME ADVOKATED THE MAKING, OR ENFORCEMENT OF ANY LAW, EXCEPT THE LAW OF SELF-GOVERNMENT, as applied to the abuse of intoxicants in individual cases?

When he said, "Woe unto him that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips," can't you see that it was not the "TRAFFIC," but the MEN WHO MISUSED IT, that were accursed? When he admonished the people against "tarrying long at the wine," using such vigorous language against intemperance as no man equal, can't you see that his warning was NOT AGAINST THE USE OF THE WINE, BUT AGAINST THE ABUSE OF IT?

As my space is limited and advertising rates come high, I must confine this letter to such quotations of Scripture as can be paid for; so I must be brief, and I must cite you to Matt. 11-19, as follows:

"The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, BEHOLD A MAN GLUTTONOUS AND A WINE BIBBER, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children."

Again, to quote the sayings of Paul: "For why is my LIBERTY judged of another man's CONSCIENCE?" (Cor. 10-29.)

"But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith and meekness. Temperance; AGAINST SUCH THERE IS NO LAW." (Gal. parts of verses 19-21, 22 and 23.)

Now, my enfranchised daughters of the modern-day churches, for whose PERSONAL LIBERTY and that of other people I HAVE GIVEN MY LIFE, if there is enough of the spirit of ingratitude in your hearts to wear you from the above teachings of the Christ and his followers and to cause you to approve the FALSEHOOD, VULGARITY, HATE and INTOLERANCE which is displayed by the Anti-Saloon League in an open letter in the Evening Telegram of October 3, you will cast your votes with the spirit of Anti-Christ as displayed by the authority of the SELF-ORGANIZED CONSPIRACY that gave it birth. But, by so doing, you will crucify the Savior of sinners afresh "and put him to open shame."

After the INTEMPERATE CRAZE OF PROHIBITION now going through the newly-enfranchised states like a holocaust of fire, shall have exhausted itself, the advocates of GENUINE TEMPERANCE REFORM, including the Mother Sex, can go before the incoming Legislative Assemblies of such states guided by the Spirit of Christ, "who came to break every yoke and let the oppressed go free," where they can offer a solution of the evils we all complain of, WHICH MEN ALONE HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO MEET AND CONQUER SINCE THE DAWN OF HISTORY.

VOTE 333 X NO

Defeat of the misnamed "prohibition law" will leave the present splendid "HOME RULE" and "LOCAL OPTION" laws just as they are—Each City and Town, instead of the State, will regulate its liquor problems.

(Paid Advertisement, Taxpayers' and Wage-Earners' League of Oregon.)

No Matter Where You Live, You Can Phone Your "WANT" Ad to The Oregonian

VOTE 316 X YES

Get SKOOKUM Buy the Box Northwestern Fruit Exchange

M'ARTHUR, LAFFERTY AND FLEGEL ARE WETS; MOULTON IS THE ONLY DRY IN THE RACE

RESINOL CURE AN AWFUL ITCHING IN ONE NIGHT