

CHANGES ARE NEAR IN COAST LEAGUE

Ewing Is Determined to Sell Seals and Sacramento May Get Wolves Back.

HOGAN WANTED AS BOSS

Scheme Would Necessitate Selection of New Manager of Venetians' Pitcher Added to Beaver Staff Has Staff.

The Coast League probably will soon be in the throes of rehabilitation, which it is generally believed will be for the best interests of the same. The changes loom as the result of Cal Ewing's determination to sell the San Francisco club and sever his connections with baseball on the Coast. Sacramento's efforts to win back the Missions for next season and obtain Happy Hogan as manager of the team.

According to reports from the former home of the orphaned Missions, the business men of Sacramento are determined to have the Wolves back with them again next year. They also want Happy Hogan to boss the outfit. They think that Hogan is the one man that could make Coast League ball a success in their town.

Three years ago it was reported that Hogan was offered $5000 a year to manage the Sacramento team, but turned it down. Owner Maier, of the Venetians, has often said that Happy has his job for the rest of his life if he wants it. However, he says he will not stand in the way of Hap's getting something better.

If Hogan should leave the Tigers there would be a question as to who would be able to step into his shoes. "Doc" White and Jack Bliss have been mentioned for the place.

Nothing further developed yesterday in the proposed purchase of the San Francisco club by the McCredies, according to Judge McCredie.

Frank Sutherland, one of McCredie's new twirlers, is in Portland for the Winter. Sutherland is only 20 years old. He is a right-hander and showed considerable stuff last season. After winning 14 out of the last ten games for the Baker club in the Western Tri-State League, he was sold to Edmonton on the Western Canada circuit. With the Canadians he worked in four contests in which he was started. He lost the fifth game 2-1 in the 15th inning. The 15-inning game was the first of a and Sutherland landed twirled the full second game although he lost 4-1.

The war, however, put a big dent in the Canadian League and Edmonton could not pungle up the amount yet due on the purchase price. The young twirler was then sent back to the Baker club. Jimmie Ringling, who formerly had umpired in the Tri-State League, recommended him to the McCredies and the deal was closed.

Walt McCredie said yesterday that he had not yet heard what Pitcher U. S. Smith thought about being traded to the Beavers.

Another important move in the Coast League before the opening of the 1915 season will be the building up of the new Oakland machine. Oakland fans steadfastly refuse to support the club unless it is playing winning ball. On the Beavers' last visit to the Oakland battlements just $300 worth of tickets were sold for the week's series. It's a case of spending money or looking it with Frank Leavitt, and he has said that he intends to spend some coin to give Oakland a ball club next season.

Tommy Quinlan and Clinton Frough will go to the majors next Spring. As Frough was not much of a help to the club, his place will not be hard to fill. The rest of the pitching staff looks good if the men pitch up to form. Alexander and Mize are good backstops, so no change is necessary in that department. Middleton, Zacher and Kaylor, with Daniels and any new material that may be picked up, make an outfield that should be made in the infield, according to reports.

WELSH BEATS WOLGAST

FIGHT STOPPED AFTER EIGHTH, DUE TO AD'S ARM BREAKING.

Champion Speedier Than Opponent in New York Bout and Has Advantage in Evera Round but One.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Freddie Welsh, of England, world's champion light-weight pugilist, defeated Ad Wolgast, of Cadillac, Mich., former holder of the title, here today.

Referee Roche stopped the bout after the ninth round when Wolgast complained that a small bone in his right arm was broken.

A doctor who examined the injury announced that the ulna bone was fractured. Wolgast, who has had no other trouble with his right arm before.

Both men weighed in at 135 pounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Welsh led off with two jabs to the face. Wolgast bored in for the body. Welsh, by far the quicker, jabbed and hooked his left, while Wolgast got in two hard lefts to the body.

In the second round Wolgast ignored Welsh's stiff jabs and administered punishment with both hands on the body. This was the only round in which Wolgast had the advantage.

In the third round Welsh shot his left repeatedly to the face and side-stepping so cleverly that many of Wolgast's swings were wild. At the end of the fourth round Wolgast's right eye was bleeding. Welsh kept up these tactics in the fifth and sixth, his footwork being too fast for Wolgast at long range.

During the seventh round it was seen that Wolgast was not using his right hand, and in the eighth Welsh gave him a merciless drubbing. A smashing right uppercut and a left to the ropes and Welsh was pounding him with both hands at the bell.

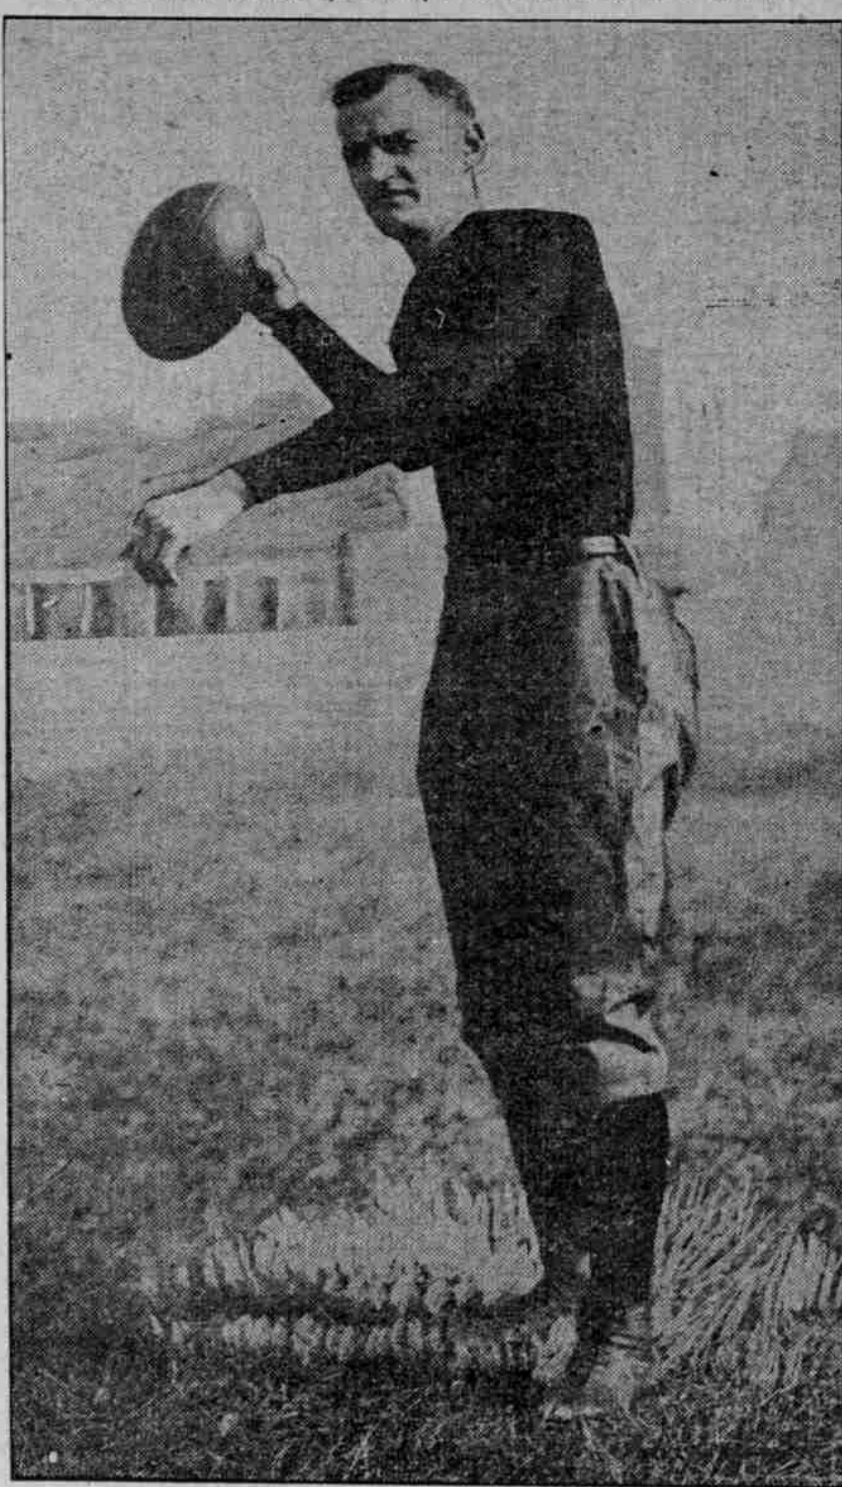

Wolgast returned to his corner with his right arm limp at his side. The referee examined the injury and stopped the bout.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—To insure themselves against loss in case of an accident that might prevent the bout the promoters who arranged the match in Milwaukee November 9, between Charles White, of Chicago, and Freddie Welsh, of England, today took out an accident policy of $10,000 on White.

UNIVERSITY STAR OUT

Malarkey, Injured, Ordered Not to Play for Year.

GUARD COOK HAS MUMPS

Fear Is Held Illness May Prevent Big Lineman From Playing Rest of Season—Substitute Half-backs Are Coached.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—"Tick" Malarkey, for two years a regular halfback on the Oregon varsity, was discharged from Mercy Hospital this afternoon with instructions from the doctor to stay out of football the rest of the season.

Malarkey was injured in the first period of play in the game with Idaho, though it was not until that evening that the inflamed condition of the right eyeball was noticed. Upon the Oregon team's return to Eugene, Malarkey was at once sent to the hospital and today of a dark room. Fears of permanent injury to the eyesight gave rise to the doctor's decision to cancel his services.

Coach Bezek said that he wanted no chances taken and advised Malarkey to turn in his suit for the year. Coupled with this loss is the confinement of Sam Cook, who was stricken with the mumps last Friday and taken to the Eugene Hospital. If the attack proves to be mild, he should be out by the last of this week.

Cook has been the one man on the team that could always be depended on. He has had three years of varsity experience and should his attack of mumps prove serious, Bezek has no substitute that can fill his place. Cossman and Crawley would be the most likely candidates.

Loss of Guard Would Be Blow. The loss of the big guard would be the most serious blow among the collection of mishaps that have pursued the Oregon veterans during the whole Fall.

For Malarkey's place there are two capable substitutes, in Lyle Bigbee and Monteth. Both were responsible for long gains in the Willamette game, and the competition between them for vacant place at half will be close and keen.

Cornell still is kept out of active scrimmage and Huntington and "Skeet" Bigbee are being coached as substitutes. Oregon has a two weeks' rest before the Washington game and by that time it is hoped that Parsons and Cornell will be in good enough shape to get in the opening lineup.

Sounding the Sport Reveille

JOHN EVERS was discussing major and minor league baseball recently. "A leading difference in the two," said the crafty captain of the Braves, "is in working the fine points of the game. To illustrate: We were playing the Cardinals—this was when I was with the Cubs—and the St. Louis pitcher was a spitballer. We noticed that at certain times Allen Hauser, who was playing short, would wet his finger, stoop and rub it in the dirt. We got to thinking that he had a reason for doing this, so we watched him. We discovered that every time he was getting ready to handle a spitball in case one came his way. That tipped us off when a spitball was coming."

The going of all these boxers to war recalls a story told by Tom Sharkey: "One day, while cruising in the South Seas," said Tom to the bunch in the

AGGIE SQUAD RESTS

Coach Begins Worrying About Game With Idaho.

MENTAL SLUMP IS FEARED

Fans at Corvallis Praising Work of Schuster, at End, Hoerline and Billie in Contest With Dobble's Team.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Complete relaxation as far as football is concerned prevailed at the Oregon Agricultural College today, and fans and players contented themselves with a rehashing of the Washington game. A number of Dr. Stewart's players are severely battered up, but none is seriously injured and with the exception of the men who are out with broken bones, the Aggie squad should be in good shape for the Idaho game in Portland next week. Abraham, Billie and Yeager are bruised up as a result of the hammering of the Washington eleven.

Aggie fans have picked out a number of features of the Albany battle upon which they are commenting with much enthusiasm.

Among these are the remarkable work of Shuster at end, the work of Hoerline and the manner in which Billie handled himself, despite the fact that his back was incised in a plaster cast.

Hoerline Stops Run. "In the first quarter, when Washington had only a foot to go for a touchdown, Captain Shiel was started over Hoerline at guard, but failed to cross the line.

Practice will be resumed Wednesday afternoon. Fearful of an attack of over-confidence on the part of some of his younger players, "Doc" will shoot his team through a number of stiff workouts before he takes it to Portland.

Dr. Stewart said this morning: "There is one real pleasant recollection which I will always carry with me in recalling the game with Washington," said "Doc" Stewart, "and that is the manner in which the Aggies outfought and outgeneraled the big varsity team throughout the entire last half.

Danger Due to Fumble. "It is true we were in danger just before the game closed, but that was the result of an accident, a fumble, which was charged to an ineligible player in the fierce fight which the Oregon Agricultural College team was putting up. The team certainly deserves credit for the fact that they were able to get that I am pleased with the exhibition of team work, however.

"What's worrying me now is that we are going to have the awful battle with Idaho at Portland November 14. After priming for a game like the Washington University struggle, a team which has been charged to an ineligible player in the fierce fight which the Oregon Agricultural College team was putting up. The team certainly deserves credit for the fact that they were able to get that I am pleased with the exhibition of team work, however.

AMATEUR ATHLETICS

BY the addition of George Messenger at center, the February '15 class football team of the Lincoln High School has been strengthened for the coming battle against the June '15 representatives. The annual affair will be staged on Multnomah field sometime in the near future. Last year the June class ran up a 20 to 0 score against the February class, making it the most lopsided defeat ever played between the two classes.

The Lents football team played its first real game of the season against the Oregon City eleven last Sunday at Oregon City. Although outweighed more than 12 pounds to the man, the Lents team showed mental and physical less. The tackling of Boose, Teed and Galichis, of the Lents side, featured, while the ground-gaining part of the contest went to Porter and Tillman. Quarterback Kelly was Oregon City's mainstay. The local Mohawk eleven will journey to the Clackamas town next Sunday.

In the double-header basketball match played on the Sellwood gymnasium floor the Sellwood Swastikas lost the first game to the Central Y. M. C. A. All-Stars 17 to 14, and won the second of the evening 42 to 11 against the East Side quintet. Kenneth Irie, of the Central Y. M. C. A., and Captain Wells, of the Swastikas, were the stars. Sellwood would like to arrange in or out-of-town games. Write Manager E. S. Trumble, 904 Wells-Fargo building.

The Westover Boosters lost to the Overlook football team 14 to 0 last Sunday. The touchdowns were scored by Malone and Barney, while Kinko, Kollande and Wallen also starred. Teams averaging 135 or 140 pounds should call Woodlawn 1899 and ask for the manager.

Manager Kline and his East Portland footballists returned from Astoria with a 6 to 6 game tucked under their belts. The locals met the fast independent team of that place. The first score was bucked by Kline and his upper class East Portland squad registered its six

"Heinie" is a very long driver, and he whistled the ball off the tee and over the hill toward the hole. As he walked up on the green "Zim's" ball was lying within about a foot of the cup. He looked at it a minute and then said:

"By gosh, I missed it."

WILLAMETTE SOPHOMORES LOSE FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS.

Many Slightly Bruised in Contest, but All Are in Battle at Finish—Victors Banqueted by Co-eds.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—For the first time in four years the freshman class succeeded this afternoon in wrestling victory from the second-year men in one of the fiercest rushes that ever took place on the local athletic field, when, within 11 minutes after the rush started, the freshmen had a majority of the bags across the sophomore goal line.

The opening rush resulted in several of the contestants being knocked out but all recovered and were in the fight when the battle ended. Although many were slightly bruised, no injuries of any importance resulted.

The freshman co-eds gave a dinner for the winners after the contest. Coach Thompson and an upper classmen committee acted as officials.
