Estimate Now Is That Prohibition Will Carry by Approximately 20,000.

LAW BREACHES EXPECTED

Satisfaction Expressed on Oregon Result Placing Both States on Equal Footing With Regard to Wet Territory.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 5 .- (Special.) Late figures indicate that the majorfty for prohibition will be closer to 20,-800 than 15,000. The majority for the drys increases steadily as the returns are received from the outlying preeincts. With one precinct missing, it is indicated that King County gave the Wets a majority of 15,706. This is somewhat less than the anti-prohibitionists had figured, and saloon men feel that this county should have done better by them. The figures for 407 out of 408 precincts in King County on the amendment were 34,322 for and 50,028 against.

Satisfaction is expressed here in many quarters that Oregon also was carried for the drys, since, it is contended, that puts Oregon at the same economic disadvantage as Washington in reference to adjacent wet commonwealths. It is asserted here that the effect of the conflict between the wording of the prohibition measure and the ing of the prohibition measure and the state constitution relative to the time of effectiveness of the act will mean that while, under the constitution, the act must be effective within 30 days after its passage, the clause in the bill providing that the measure is not to go into effect until January 1, 1916, simply has the effect of preventing the imposition of any penalty for violations during the coming year. It is contended that the result will be the violation with impunity of the local sption laws in the present dry communities.

The most decisive beating given any

The most decisive beating given any of the propositions put before the voters was administered to the proposed constitutional amendment to permit the ownership of land in the state by aliens. The vote against this measure ran nearly three to one all over the one of the interesting features of the election was the success of C. C. Dill, former private secretary to Gov-ernor Lister, over Rosenhaupt, Rep., and Corkery, Prog., for Representa-tive of Congress from the Fifth (Spo-kane) district. The Progressives made their best showing in King County, where Ole Hanson managed to run secwhere Ole Hanson managed to run see ond to Jones, losing by 4000 and beat-ing Black 6000. Most of the county offices and almost all the members of the Legislature were captured in King County by the Republicans. The sole Moose survivor in the State Senate from King County is Dan Landon.

An interesting feature of the situa-tion was the fact that Judge Hum-phries, King County candidate for the Supreme bench, ran last in his home county. The winners, Chadwick, Hol-comb and Crow, have long leads.

The eight-hour law suffered a crushing defeat, running behind in almost every section of the state.

Senator Jones will be eleted by a plurality of 30,000.

One comparatively unexpected development was the disastrous defeat of example of the comparative by ex-Representative Palmer, a prominent Republican.

A surprise in the vote was the case vices. prise in the vote was the easy victory of John C. Crawford who ran on stick-ers as an Independent-Republican can-didate for State Representative against State Senator John E. Chappell on the Democratic ticket. Crawford was opposed to county division. The White Salmen County division forces made an eleventh-hour switch from Avery R. Hayes, the regular Republican candidate, to Chappell.

TWO PROGRESSIVES RETURNED

Cowlitz County Towns Vote to Stay in Dry Column,

KELSO, Wash., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Complete returns from all the larger precincts in Cowlitz County show that Republican candidates generally were elected although two Progressives and one Democrat were returned. This is the first time in the history of Cowlitz County that so many offices have been County that so many offices have been lost to the Republicans. The contests in most of the races were close. On the question of the removal of the county seat from Kalama to Kelso this place fell about 250 votes short of the neces-sary three-fifths vote required, although the city had a majority of all votes

The City of Kelso remained dry by a majority of 234, the vote being 533 against the saloons and 299 for them. Castle Rock remained dry by a majority of 85 and Kalama by a vote of 92.

The fight for the office of Sheriff was the closest in the history of the county, see-sawing back and forth on one or two votes for George E. Thompson. Democrat, or E. S. Biesecker, Republican. Blesecker is said to have a majority of 2. That a recount will be necessary to decide the bontest is certain. Friends of Thompson are sure tain. Department Needs Emergency Fund to Pay for Increasing Numbers Killed-New Communities Soon to Be Affected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Placing of a Federal quarantine on shipments of livestock out of Ohio and Wisconsin and reports of the rapid spread of the foot and mouth disease in states already quarantined marked the day's developments at the Department of Agriculture in the fight against the worst epidemic of the infection ever known in the United States.

Scores of additional Federal inspect-ors were rushed into the field to trace every shipment from infected centers. Reports from inspectors already at work led Department officials to predict tonight that many other commu-nities soon will be affected.

The number of animals killed in infected areas is rapidly mounting up and the unexpected demand on the Department to meet this loss and the expenses of inspectors led Secretary Houston to confer with President Wil-son regarding an emergency appropria-tion from Congress.

Cost of Recompense Divided. Cost of Recompense Divided.
Under the present plan the Department is paying the salaries of appraisers selected by the various states to fix the value of slaughtered animals and is bearing half of the actual meat value of the animals killed.

The states pay the other half, leaving the owners to bear the loss of feed leatroyed, of business and of the permiar value of the livestock killed. From Ohio the other day came reports of infected cattle in the Toledo livestock yards, Fostoria, Moline and Norwalk. The outbreak in Wisconsin was discovered at Evansville.

Inspectors reported that the disease had quickly spread over several scattered counties in lilinois. In Pennsylvania and Michigan the infected areas were reported to have become extended.

steps to interfere with the transporta-tion of milk across state lines. The Department officials hold that the dis-ease is easily communicated to nogs through milk and even to human be-ings, particularly children. The policy now in force, however, is to leave to the local health authorities supervision over the milk supply to the various communities.

Farmers were advised that two months would probably elapse before they would be able to ship livestock out of quarantined states.

CATTLE PENS DISINFECTED Regiment of Workers Required to

of cattle pens at the Chicago Union Stock Yards, preparatory to a complete shutdown of the yards to begin Saturday and to continue until November 15 because of the prevalence of foot and mouth disease among cattle. The magnitude of the work is shown by the fact that 800 men are required to disinfect thoroughly 13,000 pens, 725 chutes and 25 miles of water troughs before business at the stock yards, the world's largest cattle market, may be resumed.

Few new cases of the disease were reported today. The 600 infected cattle, valued at $40,000, which were held to blame for the presence of the disease in Chicago, were distroyed. Eighteen prize cattle out of a lot of 1600 exhibited last week at the National Dairy Show were also destroyed. B. J. Shanley, State Veterinarian, said the remaining prize cattle brought here from 20 states and Canada would be held for developments, and if they were found infected all of them would be destroyed, even though it might entail a loss of several million dollars.

even though it might entail a loss of several million dollars.

Dairy show exhibitors of fancy stock today organized to protect their interests. They said the pedigree value of their herd is $2,500,000. The state, it is said, will pay them only the actual meat value of slain animals, thereby entailing a heavy loss to the owners.

the most popular beverage on the Pacific Coast?

SALEM BEER is brewed in one of the most modern plants on the Pacific Coast. It is aged in steel glass-lined tanks. It is conveyed by modern pipe line system direct to the bottle house, bottled under pressure and therefore never comes in contact with the air from the time it leaves the fermenting tank until the bottle is opened by the consumer. The consumer is absolutely assured a beer of ideal effervescence, snap and purity.
