

BELGIANS HOLDING BOTH SIDES OF YSER

Amsterdam Says Germans Obviously Have Abandoned Attempt to Cross.

PEOPLE LEAVING ANTWERP

Officers of Army of Occupation Declared Uneasy in Fear Their Tenure Is Insecure—Allies Continue on Offensive.

AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 6.—A dispatch from Sluis to the Telegraf says:

"It is now obvious that the Germans have abandoned their attempts to cross the Yser. Belgian troops occupy both banks of the river.

"German troops have retreated eastward in large numbers and continued to arrive in Bruges throughout yesterday."

Germans in Antwerp Uneasy.
A dispatch to the Telegraf from Roosendaal says that all trains arriving there from Antwerp are full of fugitives. One of the fugitives said that not a German officer slept in Antwerp last night, all being housed in the forts."

The correspondent adds that a proclamation issued at Antwerp yesterday threatened to imprison all citizens found on the streets after 9 o'clock at night.

Machine Guns Guard Station.
"Machine guns have been mounted at the railway station and the impression prevails that the Germans fear their occupation of Antwerp is not secure," the correspondent concludes.

HAVRE, Nov. 6, via Paris.—The Belgian official communication, given out here today, says:

"The enemy is showing no activity on the Yser front, but several detachments with quick-firing guns still occupy the left bank of the Yser near St. George and Stuyvekengkerke.

"The Germans have placed numerous cannon, including all calibers, on the Belgian frontier between Middelkerke and Zeebrugge.

Allies Continue Offensive.
"On the Dixmude-Bixchoote front the Anglo-French offensive movement continues. Violent German attacks in the direction of Bixchoote have been repulsed.

"Between Wytschaete and Messines, the offensive movement of the allies has progressed as far as the road joining these two towns."

VIOLENT FIGHTING BOOTLESS
Paris Reports Severe Battles, but All Are Indecisive.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The following official communication was issued by the French War Office tonight:

"To the north the fighting continues to be severe. According to the latest reports our offensive was proceeding in the region to the south and east of Ypres.

"In the region of Arras and from Arras to the Oise several German attacks have been repulsed.

"In the region of the Aisne we have retaken to the east of Vailly the village of Soupir, which was lost the other day.

"In the Argonne the enemy keeps attacking violently, but without results.

"On the heights of the Meuse and to the east of Verdun we have captured some trenches."

The official report of earlier in the day says few changes have taken place. The text of the report is:

"There was no perceptible modification during the day of yesterday anywhere on the front. The fighting continued between Dixmude and the Lys with the same characteristics as previously, and without any marked advance or retirement at any point.

There was violent cannonading to the north of Arras, and also directed upon Arras, without result for the enemy.

"The German effort in Belgium and in the north of France continues. The Germans seem to have undertaken changes in the position of their forces, which are operating in this region and are reinforcing their reserve corps, composed of new organizations which have been very severely tested, with active troops, with the idea of undertaking a new offensive movement, or at least to mitigate the bloody checks which have been inflicted upon them.

"Between the Oise and the Meuse there have been minor actions. We have consolidated our advance on the village of Andechy, to the west of Roye. A column of German wagons has been destroyed by the fire of our artillery at long range, in the region of Nampoe, to the north of the Forest of Argue.

"Near Berry-au-Bac we have retaken the village of Sapignieu, which had been captured by the Germans.

"There has been a furious fight in the Argonne, where a result of fighting with the bayonet our troops drove the Germans back.

"In the Woivre district, fresh attacks by the enemy have been repulsed.

"To the northeast and to the east of the Grande Nancy (the chain of fortified positions surrounding Nancy), in the region of the Forest of Perroy, and between Baccarat and Blaincourt our advance posts have been attacked by mixed detachments of the enemy, whose movements everywhere were checked."

KING CONGRATULATES TURCOS

Ramscapele, Lost and Won Three Times Before Germans Are Routed.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—In a dispatch dated at Furnes, West Flanders, Belgium, a correspondent of the Petit Parisien says:

"King Albert came here personally to congratulate a regiment of Turcos which retook the village of Ramscapele last week from the Germans. Ramscapele was on two sides and it opened the way to Furnes and its possession by the Germans might be of disastrous consequences.

"Overwhelmed by numbers, the Belgians holding it had been forced to fall back and it had to be recaptured at all costs. The French infantry attacked the town from two sides and at first were successful, but the enemy recaptured it. Three times the Germans were driven out and three times fought their way back. Then night fell, leaving them masters of the situation.

"A Colonel of the Turcos told his men that the village must be taken immediately; it would be too late the next morning. The Turcos sprang to the attack with such fury that the Germans, seized by sudden panic, broke and fled. As the result of the loss of the village the enemy was forced to cross back over the Yser."

NEAR-BEER IS PLAN

Arizona Breweries Scheming to Offset Prohibition.
TIME ELEMENT UNCERTAIN

Requirement of "Appropriate Legislation" and Hostile Legislature
Almost Certain to Precipitate Legislation.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 5.—On advice of counsel, some liquor men do not believe that the prohibition amendment voted in the state election Tuesday will go into effect January 1. Nevertheless saloonmen are preparing to move their establishments across the border into Mexico.

There are two breweries in Arizona, one here and one in Prescott, in the northern portion of the state, but neither will move or go out of business. They will manufacture a 2 or 3 per cent brew, or "near beer."

Saloon men base their belief that the amendment will not become effective January 1 on the uncertainty created by two sections of the prohibition measure. Section 2 provides that prohibition shall become established by "appropriate legislation." Section 3 provides that the amendment shall become effective January 1. Anti-prohibition leaders assert that an emergency act cannot be put through the Legislature as it would be constituted.

The problem is almost certain to be thrown into the courts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The recent remarkable mobilization of German warships off the coast of South America, with such disastrous results to an English squadron, has led British Embassy officials here to believe that some secret means of communication extends into South America, and that the German ships operating in southern waters have been receiving supplies from somewhere on the Pacific coast of the southern continent.

Many letters have been received by the Embassy offering, for various considerations, information of German wireless stations on American territory. Some tell of secret stations on the Pacific Coast, in Maine and in Scotland and South America.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has built a giant oven capable of taking the largest vehicles on the line. Into this freshly painted car is run, the space between the two skins being heated by steam up to a temperature of 250 degrees Fahrenheit.

ONE CONTEST CLOSE

Congress Race in California District Doubtful.

SHAW ELECTED TO BENCH

Proposed Bonding Measures Probably Adopted and Late Figures Assure Success of Redlight Abatement Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Belated returns from Tuesday's election that came in today cleared up several doubtful issues on the state ballot and left undecided only the results of some of the less important proposed constitutional amendments.

Judge Lucien Shaw, with the reporting of several delayed Southern California precincts, obtained a commanding lead over Judge Murphy in their contest for a place on the Supreme Court bench.

This seemingly decided the last close contest between candidates on the general ticket, but in the Ninth Congressional District the latest returns have developed a nip-and-tuck race between Charles W. Bell, the Progressive incumbent, whose re-election had been regarded as certain on the face of early returns, and Charles H. Randall, Democrat. Only a few score votes separated the two late today, with Bell leading, and it appeared likely that the official count would be necessary to determine the winner.

Randall, besides his own party nomination, had a prohibition party endorsement, and the outcome of the struggle is eagerly awaited by the prohibitionists, who assert that if Randall wins they will have in the National House of Representatives an active champion of their cause.

Bonding Propositions Adopted.
An interesting feature of the day's returns was the seeming certainty they brought that all proposed bonding measures on the ballot had been adopted by large majorities. These included the acts providing for state buildings at San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento, for State University improvements and for a fund for State Fair purposes.

Final disposition of the redlight abatement issue was made, the measure making such affirmative gains as to remove doubt as to its passage.
