

PARLIAMEN WILL CONSIDER WAR ONLY

King Opens Session in Which Political Controversies Are to Find No Place.

MORE FUNDS TO BE ASKED

Viscount Bryce Speaks Appreciatively of "Public Opinion in United States"—Peace at Present Not Considered.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—King George and Queen Mary were heartily cheered today by great throngs lined the route of the drive to Westminster Palace, where the King opened Parliament. London was more patriotically demonstrative than it has been at any time since the war began.

Their majesties rode in a less conspicuous carriage than usual, and the conveyance was driven by six black, instead of six white, horses. Because the court is in mourning for Prince Maurice of Battenberg and because many of the aristocracy are in mourning for husbands and fallen in the war, the scene in the House of Lords was marked more by somber khaki than by brilliant uniforms.

King Delivers His Address. In his speech from the throne, at the opening of what will probably be a purely war session of Parliament, King George said:

"My Lords and Gentlemen: The energies and sympathies of my subjects in every part of the empire are concentrated on the prosecution to a victorious issue of the war. I have summoned you now to order that, sharing as I am aware you do, my conviction that this is a duty of paramount and supreme importance, you should take whatever steps are needed for its adequate discharge."

"Since I last addressed you, the area of the war has been enlarged by the participation in the struggle of the Ottoman Empire. In conjunction with my allies, and in spite of repeated and continuous provocations, I strove to preserve in regard to Turkey a friendly neutrality. But, because my empire has been forced upon me against my will, and I recognize with appreciation and gratitude the proofs of my allies' devotion and support."

"My navy and army continue throughout the area of conflict to maintain in full measure their glorious traditions. We watch and follow their steadfastness and valor with thankfulness and pride, and there is throughout my empire a fixed determination to secure at whatever sacrifice the triumph of our arms and vindication of our cause."

"You will be asked to make due financial provision for the effective conduct of the war, and the only measures which will be submitted to you at this stage of the session are such as seem necessary to my advisers for the attainment of the great purpose upon which the efforts of the empire are set. I confidently commend them to your patriotism and loyalty, and I pray that the Almighty will give his blessing to your counsels."

No controversial political question will be deliberated at this session of Parliament, but this does not mean that entire harmony will reign in the Cabinet Ministers will be asked some pertinent and uncomfortable questions about the conduct of various phases of the war.

Bryce Praises United States. Lord Methuen in the House of Lords moved the speech from the throne. In the Commons the speech was moved by Sir Robert Borden.

Viscount Bryce in seconding the address in the House of Lords, referred appreciatively to the attitude of public opinion in the United States, which he declared was a country able to judge wisely the questions at issue. It was upon moral grounds that its support was given, and this was therefore more highly prized.

The war, said Viscount Bryce, had become a struggle of ideals, the ideal of a military state ready to dominate all the neighboring countries and the ideal of peaceful communities dwelling in tranquility under the protection of treaties. In the conflict of these principles there could be no end until one or the other triumphed.

Peace at Present Unthought Of. There could be no talk of peace at present. A peace patched up now would be merely a hollow truce, during which the contending nations would begin to prepare for a renewal of the struggle. Europe meanwhile would be living in continual suspense and alarm.

The Earl of Crawford, Unionist, urged more strenuous methods to get rid of German spies. He asserted that in the vicinity of the great naval base of Bosphorus there had a well-organized system, by means of which they signalled ships at night. There had also been discovered, he said, an admirably equipped private post office between Fife and ports of Germany.

CELL OLD OUTLAW'S FATE

Lec, Who Robbed 100 Stages and Train, Back as Counterfeiter.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Milton M. Lee, 67 years old, notorious as the "bandit of the Yosemite" who confessed holding up more than 100 stages in Southern California and numerous train robberies and who has spent the greater part of his life in prison, must again go back behind the bars. After pleading guilty today to counterfeiting he was sentenced to serve five years in McNeil Island and to pay a fine of $100.

PLUMBER'S HOPES FALL

aggravating experience of Frank Woodruff Monday. Mr. Woodruff is a plumber. A letter came to the postoffice addressed to the Cottage Grove Plumbing Company. As Mr. Woodruff is the only plumber in the city, it was turned over to him. Inside was a check for about $3 payable to the Cottage Grove Plumbing Company. Mr. Woodruff did not remember having any money due from anyone by the name signed to the check, but concluded the amount must have been due to a plumbing concern he purchased years ago. Further search, however, revealed a statement for which the check was payment. The statement was from the Cottage Grove Plumbing Company, Cottage Grove avenue, Chicago. The envelope had evidently been thus addressed, but "Ave." had been placed on the line below "Cottage Grove." Being imperfectly written, it appeared to be "Ore." The letter had been mailed in Chicago and the person sending it evidently had thought it was not necessary to mention the name of the city in which it was being mailed.

INNES CASE IS QUASHED

TEXAS UNABLE TO PROVE DEATHS OF NELS SISTERS.

Attempt Will Be Made to Have Murder Suspects Taken to Georgia on Embarrassment Charge.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 11.—The charges of murder against Victor Innes and his wife here for the alleged deaths of Miss Beatrice Nelms and Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis, sisters of Atlanta, Ga., will be dismissed Monday, District Attorney Lindsey announced in court today.

At a hearing in the court, where the Innes case is set for Monday, Lindsey said the state has been unable to establish the fact of the Nelms sisters' death and therefore would not undertake the trial. The case will be called Monday before the regular jury, and if a plea of "not guilty" is entered the court will instruct a verdict of "not character."

Indictments against Innes and his wife, returned by an Atlanta, Ga., grand jury and charging misappropriation of funds, still are pending, and efforts will be made to take them there for trial. This will be contested.

The Nelms sisters, Beatrice Nelms and Eloise Nelms Dennis, disappeared early this Spring. They were traced to Texas, where clues disappeared.

SITKA PIONEER HOME FULL

Doors of Alaska Institution to Close Till More Room Is Provided.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Governor Strong has announced that the "Pioneer" Home at Sitka is now filled to overflowing and that with admission of William Thompson, of Nome, and William Stewart, of Juneau, the doors would have to be closed until additional room is provided. In this institution the territory of Alaska is recognizing the great work done by its pioneers in subduing the wilderness.

William Thompson, who is 68 years old, came to Alaska in 1865 as a member of the famous Western Union Telegraph Company's expedition to look for a feasible route for a telegraph line to Siberia from the United States via Bering Straits.

William Stewart is also 68 years old. He passed nearly all his life pioneering in the North. He came to Alaska in 1880.

DESPERADO ASKS PARDON

"Blue Parka Man" of Alaska Wants Freedom, Says Letter of Board.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The "Blue Parka Man," Charles Hendrickson one of the most famous desperados of Alaska, is asking a pardon from the Federal penitentiary, according to a letter from the board of pardons received by the United States District Attorney's office here.

Two cases against him are now acquittal and as the third case was considered weaker than either of the others, United States Attorney Harlan, who was in office here at the time, seriously considered dismissing it. Hendrickson spoiled his own chances of freedom by impudence. He broke jail, seriously wounding one of the guards in his escape. He was indicted for that crime and when he was arrested later was convicted and sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary.

A Kidney Remedy Advertisement Brought Great Happiness

I take pleasure in stating that I have used Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that I was greatly benefited by the same and have used it in my family. I had a son, when quite young, who suffered from bladder or kidney affliction. I called in my physician, he attended him but did him no good. Almost by accident I noticed an advertisement about the curative properties of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I procured a bottle and gave it to him according to directions. It cured him of what we thought was almost impossible and the same with others of my family. I have such strong faith in Swamp-Root, that I have never done without it in my family since the wonderful cure of my son as well as myself. I recommend it to all who suffer from kidney or bladder troubles and I am led to believe that it is one of the best medicines for the purpose for which it is used, that has ever been discovered.

This is my experience from the use of Swamp-Root. Wishing the promoters of this wonderful medicine a large sale to the suffering public, I am, Yours respectfully, W. H. McPhee, 63 Broyles St., Atlanta, Ga. Witness, E. O. WILLIAMS, Notary Public.
