

WARRIORS FROM VERA CRUZ TO WAIT

Wilson After Long Conference Decides to Obtain Further Information.

FACTIONS SEEM AGREED

President and Secretary Bryan Consider Fact That Carranza Decree Grants All Requests Made by the United States.

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 12.—A dispatch from Mexico City received this (Thursday) morning says that Vera Cruz will be evacuated by the American troops on November 15. The advice, according to the dispatch, was contained in a telegram from General Frezza, and was addressed to General Carranza, and General Carranza.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan discussed for nearly three hours tonight the question of evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American forces. No announcement was made at the conclusion of the conference, but it was understood the President decided to await further advice tomorrow as to the political situation in Mexico.

The decree issued by General Carranza granting all the requests of the American Government were carefully considered. Carranza granted amnesty to the Mexicans who served the American Government during its occupation, and ordered Carranza and those who were loyal to the American officers be not reimposed.

Both Factions Meet Demand. Inasmuch as the national convention at Aguascalientes ordered Carranza to comply with the wishes of the American Government in connection with these guarantees, the Washington Government was confronted with the fact that its demands were acquiesced in by all factions in Mexico.

In official circles generally it was believed that while the President would order the evacuation, he might wait a few days for a definite alignment of the various chiefs in the latest civil war. The American Government has a record in diplomatic correspondence as promising the withdrawal of the troops when the guarantees it requested were complied with. Carranza and those of the convention carried on their conflict near the city of Vera Cruz, as the Washington Government is desirous of maintaining its absolute neutrality as between the two factions.

Formal Expression Awaited. It was suggested after tonight's conference that the Washington Government might await some formal expression from the Carranza-Progressive Calleses, as well as from General Eulalio Gutierrez, whom it has selected as provisional president, before withdrawing the American troops. General Gutierrez told American consular agents that as soon as he was sworn in he would issue a proclamation covering the points desired by the United States. As Gutierrez was to have taken the oath at the convention late tonight, tomorrow's dispatches may bring word that he had consented with its demands of the United States.

Even though the American forces are withdrawn, it is not believed that the $1,000,000 in customs duties collected by the American officers will be turned over by the Carranza government to the Carranza central government. The convention having declared itself supreme, it is pointed out, probably would look with disfavor on the Carranza government's taking of the funds to Carranza, whom it had ordered deposed. Secretary Garrison told Secretary Bryan before the White House conference that the troops were ready to embark, all arrangements having been completed some time ago. Twenty-four hundred marines also will be taken away by the War Department's transports, as the Navy has no adequate number of vessels to carry them away. The troops will go to Texas City and the marines probably to Pensacola, Fla., or Guantanamo.

WAR DECLARED IN MEXICO

Battle Between Villa and Carranza Forces Already Reported.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 11.—War has been declared between the Carranza and Villa elements of the constitutional army, and the struggle was reported at Juarez tonight from officials of the conclaves of chieftains at Aguascalientes.

A preliminary battle already has occurred at Leon, between the convention city and Queretaro, it is reported. General Pablo Gonzalez, the Carranza commander, has ordered forces from Queretaro north to Silao to meet the Villa advance. General Manuel Chao, a Villa chieftain, departed today from Aguascalientes with a strong force.

A message from official sources in Mexico City tonight, given out by Rafael Murguía, the Carranza Consul-General to the United States, said: "The first chief is at Cordoba. A majority of the principal chiefs have declared in favor of Carranza. Villa has called on the people to take arms. All the south and east is loyal to the first chief."

Tom Gray. "We're easy to laugh at" is the way Tom Gray explains the popularity of himself and Nellie Graham, playing at Marcus Loew's Empress this week in a melange of music, dancing and nonsense that is one of the hits of the bill. One of the easiest things to laugh at in the act is the gaggle and kiltie "stunt," in which the clever pair give an eccentric interpretation of Highland hilarity.

COAST DEALERS ARE HOPEFUL

Portland Livestock Men Do Not Think Disease Threatens Here.

Portland livestock men do not think the foot and mouth disease will reach the Coast States or that trading in the Portland market will be interrupted, but they are watching the situation closely nevertheless. Every precaution will be taken by officials of the Portland Union Stockyards, and it is probable a thorough disinfecting of the yards will be undertaken.

The epidemic so far has been confined to the East and the Middle West and no definite case has been recognized West of Iowa. There was an unconfirmed report that the disease had made its appearance at Glendive, Mont. The cases there are being investigated by Federal agents, and, as no quarantine has been declared in that state, livestock men believe the rumor is unfounded.

At the Livestock Exchange there was no verification of the report of a Federal quarantine in Idaho. Shippers were notified by Oregon Short Line officials that shipments would not be accepted eastbound from Huntington, but this was held to mean shipments billed to states maintaining a quarantine.

Up to this time the hoof and mouth disease has been confined to farm herds, and the animals affected are largely high-grade breeding stock. Should the epidemic spread to the Western beef ranges it would be even more serious than now.

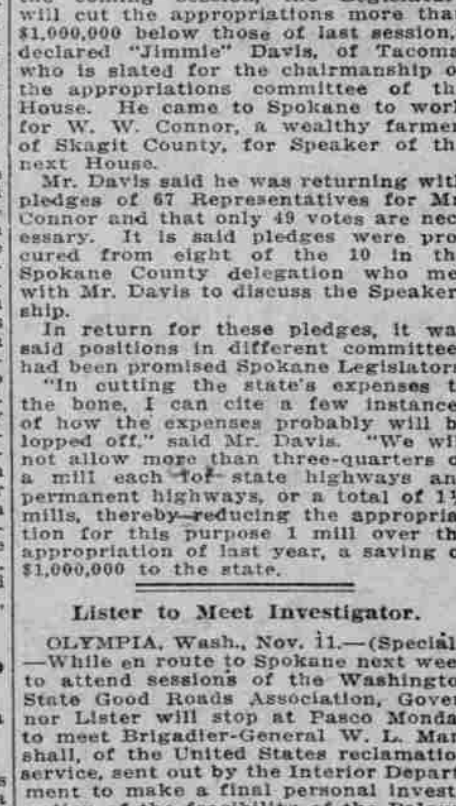

The introduction into territory controlled by Portland would immediately affect this market, and no doubt would cause the closing of the local yards, as Portland is now the livestock distributing center for the entire Pacific Coast.

QUARANTINE IS RELAXED

Two Chicago Concerns Permitted to Operate, but General Lifting of Embargo Is Deferred. Pittsburgh in Danger.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Quarantine against two packing companies because of the foot and mouth disease was lifted today and progress towards removing the ban on other concerns was reported. Despite the fact that several cases of the disease were found among prize dairy cattle impounded at the Union Stockyards, the prize cattle are valued at $2,500,000. The firms relieved of the quarantine were the Omaha Packing Company, which has a plant outside the infected area, and the East St. Louis Packing Company, with a plant in East St. Louis, which the State Board of Livestock Commissioners today declared free of the contagion. The East St. Louis yards may reopen soon, but the Omaha Packing Company announced that they would not resume business until the other Chicago firms were freed of restriction.

Wrong Diagnosis Causes Delay. A report from Niles, Mich., where foot and mouth disease in the present epidemic is said to have originated, says that a wrong diagnosis of the first case by the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington in September kept Government action to control the contagion in abeyance for nearly three weeks.

After an investigation, it was found that the first indication of the disease was discovered by Dr. W. L. Graham, of Michigan, who arrived ten days later. Virus from the diseased animals was sent to the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington on September 18.

Disease Brought From Argentina. Dr. Dunphy said that the Government experts diagnosed the disease as myxomatous stomatitis and nothing was done to conquer the scourge until October 10, when another diagnosis by August Eichorn, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, identified the ailment as foot and mouth disease.

It was then discovered that the infection came from hides said to have been brought from Argentina. The first quarantine was that of Canada against cattle from Southern Michigan and Northern Indiana. Later the Federal Government and the various states became active in cornering and exterminating the distemper, soon conquering the spread of the contagion by stringent quarantine regulations.

The school directors asked for better fire protection for the North School and the Council ordered several fire hydrants near that building.

NURSES IN THE WAR.

What the Women Are Doing.

The women of the Warring Nations are nursing, cheering and comforting the wounded or dying. The women of Europe not only wrap bandages and scrape lint, but they tend the farms, dig coal, carry burdens and do the work of the men now under arms. Every male fighter, however brawny and heroic, was born of woman. The high courage and hardihood that are a nation's strength are inherited from the mother.

Young mothers who preserve the charms of face and figure in spite of an increasing family and the care of growing children are always to be envied. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives the strength and health upon which happy motherhood depends. It practically does away with the pains of maternity. It enables the mother to nourish the infant life depending on her and enjoy the hourly happiness of watching the development of a perfectly healthy child.

Thousands of women who are now blessed with robust health cannot understand why thousands of other women continue to worry and suffer from ailments peculiar to women when they can obtain for a trifling sum Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which will surely and quickly banish all pain, distress and misery and restore the womanly functions to perfect health.

Any person desiring a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser before the edition is exhausted should send this notice, together with 20 cents in stamps, to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and a copy will be sent by return mail, all charges prepaid.—Adv.

What Constitutes a Perfect Player Piano

There are several essential features in the construction of a player piano, without any one of which it is impossible to render even approximately well any musical composition into which enters delicacy of touch. Fine shading, temperamental interpretation, sudden transition from pianissimo or vice versa or into which the personality of the performer should be instilled. To give complete musical freedom to the user, to permit really artistic renditions, the perfect player piano must have:

FIRST—INDIVIDUAL ACCENTUATION OF MELODY NOTES. That is, the player mechanism must, within itself, pick out and accent every note of the tune or melody, no matter where located on the keyboard, just as it is done in hand playing, keeping the accompaniment properly subdued.

SECOND—GRADUATED ACCOMPANIMENT. A device by which the accompaniment or harmony of the number played may be swelled or diminished at will, without affecting the volume of the melody, just as the skilled pianist may at will vary the touch of either hand separately.

THIRD—PERFECT CONTROL OR TEMPO. The perfect control of tempo or time by which the music is phrased must be free from physical effort, must be mental, not physical, must be free from annoying exactions of levers and guiding lines, and yet give the very widest scope and follow as instantly and unerringly the mind of the player as does the human hand.

FOURTH—SENSITIVENESS AND FLEXIBILITY. To enable the operator to play with the most extreme delicacy or utmost power, at will, changing from one to the other instantly and without effort, or follow quickly, easily all the varying phases of the composition played, giving it proper shading and imparting the human element to its rendition.

FIFTH—PERFECTION IN MECHANICAL DETAIL. Freedom from excessive physical effort, from exacting rules, together with ease of pedaling and simplicity, must characterize the perfect player piano. Pedals must lower and close automatically without bending down to adjust them; compactness and elegance of design and beauty of finish, and, above all, a piano of the first quality in tone and action, is indispensable.

All these features and many more are embodied in the Angelus Piano, and most of them are exclusively Angelus patents. Though better in every way, Angelus products are no more costly than ordinary player pianos and are sold on easy terms. Your old piano pays part of the purchase price.

GIRL BOLTS AWAY

Lass, 15, Dashes From Court and Outruns Pursuer.

WOMAN HELD AS KIDNAPER

Helena Alves' ex-Guardian Falling to Regain Her She Escapes From Portland Aid Society Man in Hearing at Dallas.

DALLAS, Or., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Helena Alves, a pretty 15-year-old girl, bolted from the courtroom today when Judge Holmes dismissed a writ of habeas corpus filed to obtain her release from the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland. The girl brushed aside J. Teuscher, Jr., representative of the home, who tried to restrain her, outran him in a dash down the street and disappeared rapidly around a corner. She is still at large and it is thought she was taken out of the county by friends in the night.

Following the girl's successful spurt to liberty a charge of child-stealing was filed against Mrs. Belle Barker, of this city, by the grand jury. In session here, Mrs. Barker formerly was guardian of the girl and had brought habeas corpus proceedings after the County Court had declined to permit her to adopt little Miss Alves.

The case of Miss Alves dates back 11 years. When but four years old she was sent to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society in Portland by the Clackamas County Court and in 1905 was placed in custody of Mr. and Mrs. Barker, with whom the child lived for nearly eight years in the State of Washington. Then the girl was retained by the society and placed with a family in Portland. Later she was sent to Hood River. She escaped from her custodian in Hood River about a month ago and returned here to the home of Mrs. Barker.

Mr. Teuscher trailed the girl and the lively events of today followed his legal steps to return the girl to the care of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society in Portland.

In sentiment here is in favor of the girl. Several prominent residents of Dallas have offered to adopt her. Others have taken up a purse to meet the expense of a court fight to enable Miss Alves to live with a guardian of her own choice.

Mrs. Barker will be arraigned tomorrow and her trial probably will be set for Saturday.

AGENCIES NOT DISMAYED

Employment Bureaus in Washington Expect to Stay in Business.

BELLEVILLE, Wash., Nov. 11.—(Special.)—Despite the passage of initiative measure No. 8 by a majority of 10,000 last week, the local employment agencies expect to be doing business long after the act goes into effect December 2. The law will forbid the collection of fees from those who seek and receive employment, but the employment agencies will let the employer pay the fee.

Mill and camp foremen call on the agencies for men, and it is the idea of the agencies that the lumber mills and logging camps will pay the fees. The city will establish a free employment agency next year, provision having been made in the budget for this purpose, and the state labor organizations are talking of starting free employment agencies, but the old established agencies predict that the bureaus will not give satisfaction. They say they know how to handle the business and that employers will be glad to pay them for good men.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, blood disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.
