Land Products exhibits.

Before noon yesterday practically all of the booths in the manufacturers' exhibit hall were stripped and the car-penters were tearing them down. As the afternoon advanced the exhibits of fruits and vegetables in the other pavilions found their way into crates and by night the halls were desolate of displays. The great mountain of Hood River apples had melted like a dish of ice cream and the North Pacific of ice cream and the North Pacific Fuit Distributors' display had remain-ing only the bare skeleton of the booth. The Northwestern Fruit Exchange and Oregon Agricultural College exhibits were already on their way to Spokane, where they will be installed at the National Apple Show.

The offices of the show will be re-
