

RESCUE WINS CASH, BRIDE AND MEDAL

Carnegie Hero Fund Reward Final One for Portland Man Who Saved Girl.

WIFE TELLS OF BRAVERY

Young Woman Who Saw Guy McElroy Jump Into Bay Now Mrs. McElroy and Couple Are to Receive Award of $1000.

Guy McElroy, 665 Everett street, Portland, jumped into San Francisco Bay, in July, 1913, and rescued Miss Carrie Brunne, 13th member of a yachting party, who had been swept overboard by a swinging boom.

The net result was Mr. McElroy, who is not 26 years old, won a bride, a Carnegie hero medal and $1000 from the Carnegie hero fund.

The bride was not Miss Brunne, the rescued girl, but Miss Hazel Warren, of Berkeley, Cal., a member of the yachting party, and last August Mr. McElroy brought her to Portland, the wedding having taken place a short time before.

This news of the award of the medal and the $1000 has just been received by Mr. McElroy.

Mr. McElroy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McElroy, of Berkeley, where he was living at the time of the rescue. Since coming to Portland Mr. McElroy has been identified with the shipping department of the Gerlinger Motor Car Company.

The accident in San Francisco Bay occurred during a pleasure cruise, according to Mr. McElroy, when the skimming along when Miss Brunne was hurled into the water and a sudden gust of wind shot the yacht far from the spot.

At that point Mrs. McElroy, the young bride, took up the story of details and in a few minutes she told Mr. McElroy in an instant jumped from the yacht and swam to Miss Brunne. For a quarter of an hour he held her head above water until his brother, Chester McElroy, reached them in a rowboat.

Thrills Added to Romance. Mr. and Mrs. McElroy are modest in discussing the details, but neither deny that the episode added a few thrills to their romance.

"Well, what would you think under the circumstances?" was Mrs. McElroy's subtle remark last night.

"Aw, I can't exactly say as to that, but I guess we were engaged before it happened," was Mr. McElroy's evasive answer.

"As for the rescue there's not much to say," eventually added Mr. McElroy. "I hardly knew what I was doing when I jumped after the girl. I saw the form bobbing in the water and stepped out of the boat. Two girls were stuck, but only Carrie Brunne was thrown into the water. Though scarcely conscious of what I was doing, I jumped after her and was in the water only a few seconds after she went under for the first time.

Girl Held by Throat. "Before I could reach her, she had reached the water. For the first time, she was swimming. I reached her then, but she fought wildly and put both our lives in danger. I remember of finally holding her by the hair of her head, but only Carrie Brunne was thrown into the water. Though scarcely conscious of what I was doing, I jumped after her and was in the water only a few seconds after she went under for the first time.

By the time we reached the yacht my brother and I had succeeded in reviving the girl, who felt no ill-effects afterward from her immersion. On reaching the boat she slipped down in a corner and slept until we reached shore.

The party was returning from a pleasure cruise and it was late in the afternoon. McElroy is under medium height but is a good swimmer.

The Carnegie fund officers will tell McElroy how he is to use the money awarded him, and he expects and hopes that it will be available as the first payment for a house and lot in Portland.

EAST SIDE TO GET STREET

Morrison to Be Opened, 60 Feet Wide, From 20th to 26th.

East Morrison street is to be opened from East Twentieth to East Twenty-sixth streets 60 feet wide under proceedings started November 11. There is a 30-foot right-of-way occupied by the tracks of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company and another 30-foot strip where the street will be extended, and by putting both together the 60-foot-wide extension will be secured.

The extension starts at Garrison's and ends at Hanson's Addition. Lone Hill Cemetery bounds the extension on the north and Elton's Addition on the south. There has been much agitation to get East Morrison street opened between East Twentieth and East Twenty-sixth, and Commissioner Bigelow has urged the opening for several years in order to give East Morrison street an outlet. Later the street probably will be continued to a connection with Belmont along the right-of-way of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company.

GAME COMMISSION LOST

The last eight months have furnished a series of interesting developments in the internal affairs of the commission, of which yesterday's proceedings proved an unexpected culmination.

BUDGET ADOPTED, BUT LEVY MAY DROP

Brewster to Ask Council to Make Tax 7.4 Mills Instead of 7.5.

MORE PRUNING ENTAILED

Committee Compliments Officials and Picks Three Expenditures Which May Wait—Meeting Tomorrow to Act on Case.

Although the City Commission yesterday adopted by unanimous vote a resolution accepting the budget of proposed expenses for 1915, which will require a tax levy of 7.5 mills, an effort may be made by Commissioner Brewster to have the Council at its regular meeting tomorrow fix the levy at 7.4 mills.

STATE GAME WARDEN AND MASTER FISH WARDEN WHO HAVE BEEN REAPPOINTED IN SPITE OF GOVERNOR WEST'S ATTEMPT TO KEEP THEM OUT OF OFFICE.

William L. Finley

R. E. Clanton

It was necessary for Mr. Evans, in order to accept the Game Wardship, to resign as a member of the commission. For a while the place was vacant, but when the Governor named a successor it was B. E. Duncan, one of the old members who had resigned.

Although Governor West explained all these changes at the time that they were made on the grounds of economy, it is a matter of fact that the Fish and Game Commission has cost the state more money under the new organization than under the old. This is apparent from the fact that instead of two departments the new plan provided for four.

Some members of the commission are of the opinion that the removal of Mr. Finley and Mr. Clanton last February were not legal. They were not formally discharged, nor did they resign. Their successors simply were named and they were given other positions.

SCHOOL NEED SET FORTH

EAST SIDE BUSINESS MEN BEAR PLEA FOR FRANKLIN BUILDING.

Series of Talks on Oregon Industries Begin With Lecture on Honey by Mr. Fasching.

H. A. Darnall presented the need of a new high school building in the Southeast Side are attending the Lincoln High School and 299 are at the Franklin High School, which at present is housed at the Creston and South Mount Tabor buildings. A new high school, he said, will relieve the Lincoln and Washington High schools and take care of the 12 buildings in the Southeast Side.

Mr. Darnall pointed out that more than 100 high school students in the Southeast Side are attending the Lincoln High School and 299 are at the Franklin High School, which at present is housed at the Creston and South Mount Tabor buildings. A new high school, he said, will relieve the Lincoln and Washington High schools and take care of the 12 buildings in the Southeast Side.

Mr. Darnall asked the co-operation of the East Side Business Men's Club and invited the club to send representatives to the mass meeting to be held at the Creston building tonight. The invitation was accepted.

Mrs. Darnall, representing the Hawthorne Parent-Teachers' Association, told of the efforts being made to secure a site for a new building for the Lincoln High School. Mrs. Darnall invited the club to send delegates to a mass meeting which will be held in the East Side Branch Library, East Alder and East Eleventh streets, in the interest of this movement.

Mr. Fasching was the first speaker in the series of talks the club has arranged on Oregon industries, his subject being "Honey, Get the Best or You Will Be Stung." He said that pure honey in this state comes from clover, alfalfa and fireweed and is a growing industry. He explained the difference between strained and extracted honey, and ridiculed the prevailing notion that honey in the comb can be manufactured, declaring only the bee can make honey in the comb.
