

AT THE CLUB

W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook Bourbon was first made in 1847. Sixty-seven years of continuous demand must impress you with its consistent superiority; must make it apparent that here is one Bourbon at any rate, that has found increasing favor as the years roll by.

The old fashioned sour-mash hand process is responsible, that and the choice grains, and pure, clear water from which W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook is distilled. For these are factors responsible for the almost wine-like bouquet, the really exquisite mildness, and superb deliciousness, characteristic of W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook.

These are the fundamental reasons for its universal popularity.

These are the reasons why more W. H. McBrayer's Cedar Brook is sold than all other Bourbon Whiskey combined. If you want the real quality whiskey for your cellars, be sure you order
