

EXPORTS OF FOOD SHOW BIG GAINS

October Shipments to Europe $25,000,000 More Than Same Period Last Year.

IMPORTS ARE MUCH LESS

Trade Balance in Favor of United States for First Half of November Is $32,292,000; Decrease for Year Is Shown.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Europe's cry for food is being answered by the United States. Exports of breadstuffs in October of this year amounted to $18,247,570, according to statistics made public today by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, an increase of nearly $25,000,000 over figures for October, 1913.

Exports of fresh beef also more than doubled during the month, figures this year being $83,940, as against $36,883 in October, 1913.

Balance Favors United States.

For the week ending November 14, exports at these ports totaled $47,587,330, and officials of the Commerce Bureau see in that record a continuance of the marked improvement in American export trade already noted this month.

It was said at the Commerce Bureau that the increase in November exports probably would show breadstuffs and fresh meats to be in greater demand.

So great has been the European demand for breadstuffs that wheat, corn, barley, oats and flour are going across the Atlantic from every port in the United States.

Export trade in mineral oils showed a marked decline last October, probably because of the seizure of British oil-laden ships by the British cruisers.

The decrease in all exports for the 10-month period of 1914 was $212,325,220.

The greatest single increase in the October exports among the breadstuffs was in wheat, which rose from 7,000,000 bushels in 1913 to 19,000,000 bushels in 1914.

Cotton exports for October, 1914, were valued at $20,420,042, as against $107,375,197 in October, 1913.

A feature of the export of oils is that despite a tremendous decrease last October in cargoes of illuminating and lubricating oils, naphtha and other fuel oils were shipped in larger quantities than in 1913.

Among the speakers were Senator Miles Poindexter, Governor Ernest Lister, State Senator John Kiehl, of South Bend, and Mr. Cooper and Mr. Benson, of the Northern Pacific land department.

Statistics were gathered by the Palouse Project Club and presented to General Marshall for his information in compiling his report.

men were in a buggy and one on horseback. Fifty hastily sworn-in deputies are scouring the country in that region for the Mexicans.

The body was found by a posse sent to search for him after his continued absence was noted. His riderless horse was found wandering in the road, but several hours later at the side of the road hidden in weeds into which it had evidently been dragged by the murderer.

The Mexicans were seen last night riding exceedingly fast on the main road near the scene of the crime. Two women and five men will decide the fate of the weakened-up little man who a few weeks ago voluntarily confessed the brutal murder of Claude Mead, who was shot to death while walking along the street with wife and baby.

Mrs. C. Asher, Lillie Portiers, Rosina West, Eliza Rouse, Ella D. Stout, Annie Haris and Mrs. W. E. Levern are the women jurors. Inlay's parents, his mother 80 and his father 74, are attending the trial. The courtroom was packed with spectators.

The commission held that there must be an accident before a recovery under the law, but the Supreme Court says that in event the man breaks down as a result of a muscular strain it is as much an accident as though a truck or a piece of machinery had broken, therefore the Chelan County Superior Court, which allowed John Zappala to win his suit against the Industrial Insurance Commission, is affirmed.
