

PROHIBITION LAW IS BEING DRAFTED

Aim Is to Cover Every Loop-hole by Which Command of Electors Could Be Evaded.

COMMITTEE OF 100 ACTS

Orton E. Goodwin Says That if Measure, as Presented, Is Passed Efficiency and Constitutionality Can Be Guaranteed.

A draft of a law that will make the prohibition amendment adopted by the people two weeks ago effective is being prepared by attorneys representing the Committee of One Hundred.

This proposed law will be submitted to the Legislature with the request that it be enacted.

One of its principal provisions will be directed against illicit sale of liquors in hotels, grills and drugstores.

It will aim to prevent the sale or free dispensation of liquors in all public places.

It will strike directly also at private clubs, where drinks are dispensed to members.

It will provide the most severe restrictions possible for drugstores, and will limit their sales absolutely to liquor prescribed by physicians.

Besides that it will provide severe penalties against "bootlegging" and the sale of liquor in every manner.

It will contain a provision, also, that will make it unlawful for hotels, restaurants or grills to give liquor away with meals. It will seek to prevent the dispensation of liquor in all public places—even if it is given away.

Domestic Use Not Opposed. It will make it permissible, however, for persons to keep liquor in limited quantities in their own homes and to dispense it at their private tables.

The Committee of One Hundred does not propose to carry on a campaign for its bill but will assure the members of the Legislature and the Governor that if it is adopted in the form of its presentation it will carry into effect the spirit and intent of the prohibition amendment.

They declare that it will be constitutionally sound in all its provisions and that it will meet every requirement that the decisive vote of the people in favor of prohibition imposes.

The committee announced soon after the election that it would take no part at all in the legislative proceedings necessary to make the prohibition law effective, but in the last few weeks nearly a score of members of the new Legislature have written the committee, or various of its members, asking for advice.

It seems that the desire of every legislator is to supplement the new law with the strictest kind of statutes that will make possible its enforcement.

Mr. Goodwin Supplies Data. Orton E. Goodwin, publicity director for the Committee of One Hundred, has assembled copies of the laws enacted in other prohibition states together with copies of court decisions that have been rendered in each state in this connection.

The entire mass of information has been submitted to attorneys who now are drawing up the bill.

"Some of the best lawyers in the state are working on the drafts of this measure now," said Mr. Goodwin yesterday.

"In the form of its presentation we will be sure that it will comply with all requirements of the prohibition amendment. It will carry out the intention expressed in that amendment. It will have its every provision tested by the United States courts as well as by the courts of the several states in which similar laws are in effect.

"But if the Legislature amends or changes the bill after its passage, we will not be able to guarantee its proof against constitutional tests."

Legislative Unanimity Expected. It is probable that the next Legislature will unanimously vote to enact strict prohibition legislation. Inasmuch as every county in the state voted in favor of the amendment, no member of the Legislature can depend upon sentiment "back home" to justify him if he votes against the new law.

However, members of the Legislature—especially members of the lower house—are making no definite arrangements for passing laws until after they settle the Speakership question. All the candidates that appeared immediately after the election remain actively in the field.

D. C. Lewis, of Portland, has submitted a novel plan for deciding the Speakership.

He wants each of the candidates to make public a list of his committee appointments in the event of his election. The members then will have opportunity to see how they will fare at the hands of each man seeking the office and can vote accordingly.

His proposal has not been accepted seriously, however, by other members of the lower house—especially by the candidates.

There is a question, also, about its legality. It is said, unless a preliminary ballot be taken informally before the Legislature formally convenes.

MINISTER BROUGHT TO BAR O. W. Taylor, Charged With Traffic Violation, Promises to Be Good.

"Good morning, Judge," said Rev. O. W. Taylor, of Grace Memorial Episcopal Church, to Municipal Judge Stevenson yesterday as he lined up before the bench in the prisoners' docket.

The judge took a second look at the prisoner.

"Why, doctor," he said, "how did you get in here?"

Mr. Taylor admitted that he had been arrested for driving his automobile between a street car and a trolley. Following are the members of the new club besides the officers: Miss Florence Moser, Mrs. Pigners, Miss Lillian Rosezon, Miss Cora Rogers, Lena M. Searing, Mrs. Angie, Olean Van Durand, Helen Goodwater, Frances Buckley, Edna Cummins, Mrs. Cooper, Neva Patterson, Eugene Thurmond, Hazen Smith, Mrs. J. B. Rogers, J. B. Rogers, Gladys Bateman, Olga Turner and B. C. Dunbar.

LEBANON, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special).—Samuel M. Garland, who was chosen State Senator from Linn County in the recent election, is an attorney of Lebanon. He is a Democrat and overcame a big Republican majority in the election, being one of only two candidates of his party on the entire county and legislative tickets to win out. He was born January 21, 1861, at Amherst, Va., and was educated at Emory and Henry College and at Randolph-Macon College in his native state. In 1887 he was appointed by President Cleveland as superintendent of Indian schools on the Umatilla Reservation, and in 1890 went to Lebanon, where he has resided ever since.

For more than 20 years he has been a member of practically all of the county and legislative committees of his party, and was Democratic state central committeeman from Linn County for many years until he resigned to accept the nomination for State Senator. He was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis, Mo., in 1896. He has practiced law continuously since locating in Lebanon, and was City Attorney of that city for 15 years. He is chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Lebanon, is part owner of the Lebanon Electric Light & Water Company, and has other extensive property interests in the county.

LEBANON, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special).—Few men have ever been re-elected Representatives to the Legislature from Linn County, but this distinction has come to Charles Childs, of Brownsville. He is the youngest man to enjoy this honor, too, for he was re-elected on his 30th birthday, having been born November 3, 1884. Mr. Childs is a native son of Oregon and has resided in this state all his life. He is a graduate of the Parkville High School and also attended McMinnville College. He is a successful farmer and stock raiser near Brownsville. For several years Mr. Childs has taken a keen interest in public affairs and has been one of the most active and prominent young men of the county. He is a Republican.

Mr. Childs served with credit in the legislative session of 1913 and has announced that during the coming session he will lend his efforts toward helping the 1915 Legislature establish a noteworthy record for economy in appropriations.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special).—C. P. Bishop, chosen by the electorate of Marion County as one of their representatives in the State Senate, is of that sterling type of business man who has been a great factor in the development of the state. Born in California, he came to Oregon with his parents when a child and was reared on a farm in Linn County. When 20 years old Mr. Bishop obtained employment in a woolen mill and has been engaged in the manufacturing of woolen goods ever since. He is president of the Pendleton Woolen Mills and proprietor of the Woolen Mill Clothing Store of Salem.

Mr. Bishop served three terms as Mayor of Salem, and has been prominently identified with civic affairs located in this city in 1890. He is a son of Rev. W. R. Bishop, who settled on a farm in Linn County in 1866. Mr. Bishop has always been a Republican, and declares he never "scratches" a ticket.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special).—Walter A. Dimick, re-elected State Senator from Clackamas County, is a native son and a nephew of J. B. Dimick, who was in the Oregon State Senate half a generation ago. Mr. Dimick is a young man, vigorous, energetic, a natural-born fighter and a champion for better labor laws.

In the Legislature of 1911 he made a successful fight in the Senate for the enactment of the eight-hour law, only to see it killed in this city in 1910. His whole legislative programme has been against the creation of new laws, and to use his own expression: "Oregon is legislated to death, through the Legislature, the various municipalities and the initiative." In fact, so active was he in the 1913 session against a great majority of the measures proposed that it became a customary phrase around the Legislature to say, "I will Dimick this bill," meaning a vote against it.

Mr. Dimick has a wife and one son. He is an attorney and a law partner with Judge Grant B. Elk. He is an Elk, and drives an automobile.

times by Anderson during a drunken fight on board ship. He was wounded so severely that it was thought he could not recover when taken to a local hospital but he has long since been out of danger. The court believed Anderson should pay the man's hospital expenses and pronounced judgment accordingly.

ON THE FIRING LINE. What it means to most men. There are many true heroes that have perished in the European war who "never smelled powder," but who succumbed to sickness after hard campaigning—coupled with bad water and lack of food. The sick and debilitated man is as much out of place in his struggle for life and existence as he would be on the firing line. On the other hand the strong, vigorous man, his veins filled with rich, red blood, has an enormous advantage in whatever position he may be fated to occupy, in war or business.

The prompt and certain action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in driving all harmful germs and impurities from the blood, sets in motion the repair process which works actively on the diseased membrane where Catarrh flourishes unchecked, or where the skin gives warning of the bad blood beneath by showing pimples and boils, also the skin clears up and becomes wholesome and ruddy.

Thus by building up a new and perfect covering and carrying out of the system the Catarrh infested matter by way of the blood, liver and kidneys, Catarrh is overcome and permanently conquered.

There is not a drop of alcohol or any narcotic in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, but in this safe vegetable remedy there is a mighty alternative power which by replacing the blood impurities with pure, rich blood, not only ends Catarrhal conditions wherever located, but vitalizes the kidneys, stomach, liver, bowels and every organ of the body. People who suffer humiliation and mental misery because of Pimples, Skin rash, Blisters, Eruptions, Boils, Carbuncles, are especially benefited. It is not a secret remedy for its ingredients are printed on wrapper.
