MINISTERS HEAR REPORT

CARSON HEIGHTS CHURCH STARTS WITHOUT DEBT.

Nearly $1000 Raised Sunday for New Building-Father Flinn Opens Sessions With Prayer.

The Methodist ministers of the city The Methodist ministers of the city met yesterday morning in the First Church, Twelfth and Taylor streets. The principal report was given by the Rev. J. W. McDougall, superintendent of the district, who told of the success the church in Carson Heights, where a new church was dedicated on Sunday. The important feature of the announcement was that the church, just erected, starts out practically free

In the Carson Heights Church, the Rev. T. W. Atkinson is pastor. He recently succeeded Rev. Alfred Bates, who has gone to Warrenton. At Sun-day's services in the morning, the dedication was in charge of the Rev. Mr. McDougall, who preached the morning sermon. At the afternoon service, T. S. McDaniel represented the Layman's City Church Extension Society that had charge of the exercises. Among the speakers were the Rev. Mr. Lane, pastor of Centenary Church; the Rev. A. B. Calder, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church and the Rev. H. Morris, who preached the first sermon in the Carson Heights com-munity for the Methodist denomination. The evening service was in charge The evening service was in charge of the Rev. M. B. Patounagaif, Sunday School missionary, assisted by other pastors. Nearly all of the $1000 to pay for the building was raised on Sunday and the Portland churches have come to the support of the little church and have made up the balance of the amount. Father Flinn opened the meetamount. Father ing with prayer.
