The special board of five trustees that were appointed to handle the property was thereby dissolved and the deed to the property was ordered destroyed. The action was in the form of a resolution, and the deed to the property was ordered destroyed. The action was in the form of a resolution, and the deed to the property was ordered destroyed.

FAREWELL TO MR. BENNETT GIVEN. Multnomah Camp, No. 71, Woodmen of the World, J. H. Bennett, a farwell last week. He goes to Wilkesboro district of North Carolina as presiding elder. He was formerly pastor of the First Methodist Church South, of Portland, and has been district organizer for the Woodmen program since he resigned the pastorate. He was a member of Multnomah Camp. Regret was expressed at his departure, and Mr. Bennett responded, remarking that he deeply appreciated the necessity of leaving Oregon and the friends he has made here.

SCHOOL CENSUS TO BEGIN. The annual school census will be commenced today and continued while the school children are at home during their usual Thanksgiving recess. All children between 4 and 20 years of age will be listed. The census is to be taken under the direction of the principals in the respective buildings, over the city and School Clerk Thomas C. Census takers may be distinguished by badges. Every child listed means that the district will receive $10 from the state and county school funds so it is highly essential that a full report is received.

INDIAN WITNESSES ARRESTED. Charged with being drunk while here to testify before the present grand jury in connection with the alleged sale of liquor on an Indian reservation, Charlie White and James White, Indians from the Nepece reservation, were arrested at the Postoffice building and taken into custody pending an investigation. Federal officials say that many Indian "tattle" on liquor cases in order to get a free trip to Portland to testify and incidentally fill up on "white water." During nearly every grand jury session, Indians are accused of drunkenness.

PORTLAND DAY SET. The Portland Commercial Club has issued a letter to its members calling attention to the fact that Friday, December 4, has been selected as Portland day at the Lewiston Livestock Show, and urging all who are able to go to Lewiston at that time to do so. Special railroad rates will be in effect and the Commercial Club will make every effort to encourage a big representation from Portland.
