I. N. Day Favors Advance Meeting to Dissect New Acts Legislators Plan.

TO SAVE TIME IS INTENT

Assemblage of Senators and Representatives Also May Serve to Settle Speakership Candidacy--Another in Field.

A convention of all members of the Legislature from Multnomah County-Senators as well as Representatives-probably will be held early next week The object of the meeting is to as semble all the ideas that now are con-juring in the minds of the Multnomah delegation and determine which of them are worthy of being drafted into bills. It will remain for the Legislature as a whole, then, to say whether these bills shall become laws.

I. N. Day, a holdover Senator from Multnomah, is father of the plan for them ready for submission immediately after the session opens.

Preparation Urged as Saving.

"We ought to have a lot of proposed legislation all ready on the opening day. The preliminaries or organiza-tion ought to be disposed of in advance. Then we could devote our whole time in to sensible and economical business for Speakership controversy. It is said that the up-state Speakership candi-dates are waiting expectantly in the hope of election through the failure of

All members of the Legislature seem committed to the plans for economy. It is probable that no legislation will be proposed that no legislation will be proposed that provides for special appropriations.

One law that is certain of revision is the one passed at the last session that governs the methods of paying and collecting taxes. There has been much complaint from taxonars to all much complaint from taxpayers in all War Prevents Promotion of Retiring parts of the state, as the new law pre-scribes a penalty of 1 per cent a month for delinquencies after the first tax-paying period, even when half the taxes are paid at that time. In other words, it makes it an economical necessity to pay all taxes at the same time.

Multhomah, is father of the plan for a preliminary convention. He has suggested the idea to other legislators. They approve it. While no formal call has been issued it is probable that Senator Day will be active in that direction before the week ends.

"There's a whole lot of business that we can dispose of before the Legislature gets together," said Senator Day yesterday. "We ought to meet and dispose of it. If any of the boys have pose of it. If any of the boys have yesterday. "We ought to meet and dispose of it. If any of the boys have any legislative programme in mind they can outline their plans and get rectly from Spokane where he with rectly from Spokane, where he witnessed the opening of the Famous Baker Players at the Auditorium. The opening was, according to Mr. Baker, auspicious and promising.

"We will not be able to go into Seattle or Vancouver, B. C., just at this time," said Mr. Baker. "The outlook in Seattle is good enough, but we would not want to open there until we could obtain a certain theater which the state."

Mr. Day believes, too, that a convention of the entire Multnomah delegation will serve largely to settle the Speakership controversy. It is said that the up-state Speakership canditions of the controversy in the said that the up-state Speakership canditions of the control of th velopment in a reasonable length of time we will go in. "We will continue to watch the op-hope of election through the failure of Multnomah uniting upon someone. In addition to those already in the field it is understood that E. E. Bianchard, of Grants Pass, is considering himself a possible dark horse.

Plowden Stott, a member of the Multnomah delegation, proposes to introduce a bill that will prescribe more severe penalties against the sale of opium, morphine, cocaine and other habit-forming drugs. The last Legislature took advanced steps in this direction, but Mr. Stott believes that further restrictions should be placed upon the statute books against the promis-

The Salvation Army Corps No. 1, in command of Adjutant Alfred Whitney.

The city has given notice to the Southern Pacific Company that action in the proposed construction of a viaduct over Holgate street will be forced after December 1. The company has been given until that time to report definitely on its intentions.

The improvement of Holgate street recently involved the improvement of the part of the street extending over the Southern Pacific tracks. Work was held up at this point on account of the city for a design, but were rejected because it was proposed to use some of the steel from the old steel bridge.

The city presented an alternate design, which was rejected by the company on the ground that it would be too costly. The company announced that it was willing to expend only $55,000 for the viaduct, and the city designed a span to cost that much.
