PRINCIPAL IN A NOTABLE WEDDING OF YESTERDAY.

Mrs. George Marsh Holman and Mrs. Grove A. Aho.

A brilliant wedding, solemnized at Grace Memorial Church last night at 8 o'clock, Miss Alma Enke became the bride of Dr. George Marsh Holman. The church was elaborately decorated with table standards of shaggy white chrysanthemums and ferns, and was filled with a fashionable assemblage of beautifully-gowned women and their escorts.

Miss Verna Menefee played the wedding march, and Miss Mary Corcoran presided at the ceremony, which was celebrated by Dr. George Van Waters. Osmond Royal was master of ceremonies, and the guests were ushered by Raymond Ross and F. MacNett. Howard Ross acted as best man and the bride's sister, Miss Melinda Enke, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Irene Collins and Marguerite Palitzsch, and little Wilma Enke, another sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The bride was charming in a lovely gown of ivory-toned satin, trimmed with silver lace. Her hair was fashioned in a Juliet cap and wreathed with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore similar gowns of coral pink satin, trimmed with filmy lace, and also wore chic little Dutch caps of silver lace. Their bouquets were showers of violets. The little flower girl's frock was a dainty lingerie adorned with pink ribbons, and she carried a basket of Cecil Brunner roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony a large reception was held at the Enke residence. Received with the bridal party were the parents of the bride and also parents of the bridegroom. The bride's mother was a smart affair, fashioned of white satin with net overdress, heavily embroidered in sequins. The bridegroom was attired in a pale blue charmeuse trimmed with raso lace.

Miss Corcoran also sang a few selections at the reception. The young set enjoyed dancing. Artistic and elaborate decorations were noted in the house, huge clusters of white chrysanthemums and palms being used in the drawing-room, while the dining-room was aglow with yellow chrysanthemums and yellow-shaded candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman have been tremendously feted during their betrothal days and both are popular socially. Thanksgiving day will be passed by practically all society with family reunions, many of the families being house parties at their beach cottages, while others will sojourn at the hotel. Among those who will open their homes and entertain relatives and friends during the Thanksgiving season are Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Fieschner, who are at the hotel, and the daughter, Miss Ella, who has opened their Seaside cottage and have as guests Mr. and Mrs. William Heller Ehrman (Miss Ella Fieschner), Mr. and Mrs. Fieschner, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Metzger.

Mr. and Mrs. Oskar E. Huber and daughters, the Misses Winifred and Elizabeth Huber, accompanied by August Berg, Misses Elizabeth Menefee and Mary Blossom, will pass the weekend at the Hotel Marion in Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Adams and children, Francis and Anna, also will occupy their cottage at Gearhart a few days and will be accompanied by Mrs. Dr. and Mrs. Otis B. Wight and children.

A card party and social will be given tonight by the members of St. Clare's parish, Capitol Hill, at 8 o'clock. The high scorers at cards will be Mrs. J. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Hardwick, Mrs. Gertrude Norris, Miss Sadie Koonz, Miss Bert Kremer, Miss Edith Beckman.

The evening was passed in games and music. The G. N. C. B. Girls will give an evening in "Jappiland" on Monday at Cottillon Hall. They have been working hard to make the affair very enjoyable and it bids fair to be most delightful.

Mrs. Richard Cartwright and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, two prominent matrons of Salem, have issued invitations for "The Marston," which will be given at the Hotel Marion in Salem, Friday. It promises to be one of the events of the season in the capitol city and will be attended by a number of out-of-town guests. Portland soloists have been engaged for the programme. They are John Claire Montebello, baritone; Carl Gransen, violinist; and Mordant Goodnough, accompanist.

Miss Maizie MacMaster is expected to reach her home today, after an absence of eight months, which time she passed both abroad traveling with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, and sister, Miss Ailsa, and visiting friends in the Eastern states, where she has been delightfully entertained. Miss MacMaster is one of the most popular girls in the smart set, and her return will be the inspiration for many social affairs.

solves a little creed and take a vow to adhere to it—a creed that will include some such resolves as these—to do all we can to develop and promote the growth of peace sentiment; to keep cool and level-headed in times of strong National feeling over some international complication, not to listen to or be led away by the inflammatory speeches or writings of those who may have personal ends to serve, but to look thoroughly and searchingly and impartially into all questions that might involve us in war, to stand by those who are working for peace, to await issues calm and to try to force conclusions while public feeling is too intense to reason judiciously. If every one of us would stand in this way by extant ideals of government, it isn't likely we will be easily led into any such carnage as has reddened the fields of Europe within the past few months.

GELATINE marshmallows. One envelope (1/4 package) granulated gelatine, 2 cups granulated sugar, 1-1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 cups cold water. Soak the gelatine in one-half of the water until cool and firm. Beat the rest of the water with the sugar to the "stiff-ball" stage, almost to the "hard-ball," then combine with the soaked gelatine and water. When it begins to thicken, add the salt and flavoring and beat until it is light and white and will just "set" level. Beat in 1/2 cup of an oiled square tin, one inch deep, and let "set" thoroughly. Then turn out on a board or paper, covered with powdered sugar. Cut into squares, rolling each square in sugar or sugar and cornstarch.

A lighter textured marshmallow is made by adding 1 egg white to the above, at the time of beating. A "hand beater" will considerably shorten the beating. If colored marshmallows are liked, use a small quantity of "fruit color" paste. Fruit juice may be used, but it turns to white water. Coffee or chocolate might be similarly used to give color and flavor.

For nut marshmallows add one-half cup chopped nuts to the above, or roll the freshly cut pieces in finely chopped nuts. The nut marshmallow mixture makes a good mixture either with or without the addition of chopped candied fruits.

These marshmallows make excellent centers for dipped bonbons and chocolates. They may also be used for stuffing dates, prunes or figs, either with or without nuts. A combination of nut marshmallow mixture and "almond meal" ground as for almond paste and mixed with a little confectioner's sugar to prevent the centers, cake filling or "trimmings" for tiny French pastries of various kinds.

Money Nougat. Beat 1/2 cup white sugar and 1/4 cup white sugar to 265 degrees Fahrenheit, or to the "light crack." Combine this gradually with 1/2 cup stiff cream, and cook again (over hot water) until the mixture balls easily between the finger and thumb. Then mix with one-half cup blanched and lightly browned almonds, and two ounces blanched pistachio nut-meats (if available). The greater the body of nut is used, the more uniform it may be kept as to moisture. The soil should come to within an inch and a half to two inches of the top of the box.

The indoor window box should be made to fit into the window. To get as much light as possible it should be level with the window. It may be fastened with brackets or placed on a table, or have legs made for it. There either with a drip-pan beneath it, or water from soiling the floor. The box may rest directly above the drip-pan on legs half an inch to an inch high, as a rule it is better to water lightly and frequently than heavily and infrequently.

The top of the soil should be allowed to become quite dry once in a while. The results of watering will teach the owner to regulate the supply. Boxes may need watering in sunny weather (especially toward the rear) daily or at least every other day; in cloudy mid-winter not more than once a week, will speak. Several important topics will be discussed.

The Oregon cactidars, prepared by the Portland Psychology Club, are now ready and will be distributed by Mrs. J. H. Mackenzie, at Portland Photo Supply Company, 149 Third street, Friday afternoon.

Central Women's Christian Temperance Union held an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the Dekum building. Mrs. Nora Bingley, teacher at St. Elizabeth's house, gave a talk on the good work being done in that institution for the reclamation of wayward girls. Short discussions on various phases of W. C. T. U. work were presented. Miss Anna Leaser, of Echo, Or., gave an informal address. Parliamentary drill was given in a concise and capable manner by Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden. Refreshments and a social hour concluded the programme.

The principal meeting of tomorrow will be that of the Portland Woman's Club, which will be held in the Women's Woodcraft Hall. An interesting programme will be given. Among the features added to the scheduled programme will be a talk by Mrs. Alice Webster on "Stories and Art."

Miss Sarah Jacobs will be chairman of the programme for the next meeting of the Council of Jewish Women, which will be held in B'nai B'rith Hall on Wednesday afternoon. Henrietta W. Calvin, dean of domestic science at Oregon Agricultural College, will speak and Miss Irene Kessler will play.

Students of literature and history among the society and clubwomen of the city are looking forward to the current history classes that are being organized and will begin to meet on December 1 at 11 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church house. Mrs. George Lane Taneyhill will be the leader. She is a college woman and has been known in the East as a writer and lecturer. The classes will meet fortnightly until Lent, when they will meet every week. The patronesses of the classes will be Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Jr., Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. H. C. Cabell, Mrs. E. C. Shelvin and Mrs. Frederick Eggert.

Winter Care Of The Garden

The Indoor Window Box.
THE indoor window box, properly planned and tended, will afford much pleasure and satisfaction to the housewife who misses her out-of-door garden during the winter months. It is a mistaken notion that plants, when kept in living rooms, use up certain elements of the air in such quantities as to make it unhealthy for individuals using the room. It is much harder than for people to be in a room with growing plants. Plants, indeed, use air, but use such a small proportion that the effect of the plant in the room is negligible if the room is ventilated at all. This also holds good for cut flowers or plants in a sick room, although the odor of some flowers may be depressing to the patient, and bad for that reason.

BRIDGE DECISION TUESDAY

Report of City Engineer on Need Meets Bigelow's Objection.

Whether or not the Steel bridge owned by the O. W. R. & N. Company will be kept open for traffic by the city after December 9 will be decided by the Council Tuesday afternoon. At a meeting, which officials of the company will be asked to attend, Commissioner Bigelow objected to the plan. Assistant City Engineer Holmes prepared a report covering the need of the bridge.

As the bridge proposition stands now, the city has offered the company $18,000 a year for use of the bridge street deck. The company under the arrangement would pay all costs of maintenance and operation. The company has asked $52,000 for the service.

CITY SUPPLIES FOR POOR

Mattresses and Blankets Not Needed by Firemen to Go to Charity.

Many mattresses and blankets for which the city has no further use will be donated to charity. A report was made by Fire Chief Dowell yesterday by Fire Chief Dowell showing that there are mattresses and blankets in the city which are of no further use. Chief Dowell asked for the supplies for donation to families he knows to be in need.

EXCELSIOR WOOD PLENTY

Black Cottonwood in Washington, Oregon Placed at 47,000,000 Feet.

The Portland office of the United States Forestry Service, through George H. Cecil, district forester, has been making experiments with various woods to determine what wood growing in this vicinity might be used for excelsior. The result is that it is known that in the National forests of Washington and Oregon there is approximately 47,000,000 feet of black cottonwood.

In the two states there are seven mills manufacturing excelsior, and black cottonwood is the only wood used. In Washington 6,400,000 feet a year has been used by these mills and Oregon mills have consumed 4,320,000 feet.

COURTLY AIR MAY SAVE

M. J. Leary's Manners May Free Him of Charge; Sanity Doubted.

M. J. Leary's Chesterfieldian manners may save him from prosecution on a charge of attempting to pass a worthless check for $9 at the Mallory Hotel. Investigation into his sanity may be started by physicians.

Complaints at the police station said that Leary wandered about the streets, bowing politely to strange women as he passed them. None of the women was angry as they seem to have admired the courtly way in which he addressed them on the street.

The complaints reached the station about the time that Detectives Royle and Moloney arrived with the prisoner.

By and by when he felt sure no one was watching him, Mr. Fox put the crutch over his shoulder and walked away. "Well, I never," said Jack Rabbit, when he saw this, "he isn't lame a bit, he's a good deal better." Jack Rabbit was so surprised that he almost forgot to follow until Mr. Fox was almost out of sight; but he had to get up to him. But he did pretty soon, and just before Mr. Fox reached the farmhouse he began to limp again and use the crutch.
