Letter Bears Approval of Secretary Lane on Allotment of $450,000.

MANY THINK ERROR MADE

Reclamation Authorities Express Belief That Cabinet Officer Has Lost Track of Oregon Case and Will Change View.

Further proof that Secretary of the Interior Lane's present position that the Oregon Legislature must appropriate an additional $450,000 before a similar sum already allotted by Government will be made available for expenditure in Oregon does not tally with his past utterances and intention, was unearthed yesterday in the fiscal programme of the Reclamation Service

The official documents of that report, which bear the approval of Secretary of the Interior Lane, containthe plain statement that $450,000 will be required for carrying forward co-operative work in Oregon in accordance with the agreement previously entered into between the Government and the state of Oregon.

Oregon Programme Approved. By a letter dated January 29, 1914, the approved statement for the calendar year 1914 shows that the Secretary of the Interior approved the following

In considering place for operations on sec-ondary projects during the calendar year 1914 it is found that an additional allot-ment of $450,000 will be required for con-tinuating operations on the Oregon co-operative work in accordance with the agreement with the State of Oregon dated May 5 152 May 5, 1913 contemplated expenditures . . . are ows:

in present allotment....$ 22,916.90 to be expended through nal alletzient recommended 450,000.00 Additional allothiest recommended southways approved contemplated the possibility of expending $450,000 during 1914, as a matter of fact none of this money was expended other than a comparatively small amount for investigation purposes.

The hope is expressed by those conversant with the reclamation situation in Oregon that Secretary Lane has sim-ply lost track of the fact that Oregon has already done its share by appropriating and spending $450.000 with the understanding that a similar amount was to be spent by the Government and that he will discover his mistake as soon as the subject is brought to his attention by the Oreston. attention by the Oregon representa-tives in Congress.

Allotment Due Under Pact.

"There is no quest'on about the fact that the allotment of $450,000 by the Government was in recognition of the appropriation already made by the state of Oregon and not in anticipation of a possible future appropriation, said C. C. Chapman, secretary of the Oregon Development League, yesterday.

Oregon appropriated $450,000 for "Oregon appropriated $450,000 for construction of a project in the Deschutes Valley, being the first state of the Union to make an appropriation for reclamation work. In recognition of this appropriation and the precedent it set on behalf of a state, Secretary Lane confirmed an allotment of a like amount—$450,000—to be expended by the Federal Government in the Deschutes Valley upon such a project as chutes Valley upon such a project as might be selected by the Reclamation Service after the state and Government engineers made their reports.

"The Government and state engineers

"There has been no time until the present when the $450,000 of Government money could have been expended under the conditions of the original allotment, as the expenditure was to be based upon the reports of the joint Government and state survey, which reports have only just been filed. "It is universally admitted that Fed-

"It is universally admitted that Federal expenditures for reclamation purposes in the state of Oregon have been so small in proportion to expenditures in other states and in comparison with the contributions from the public lands in the various arid-land states that Oregon has been unjustly discriminated against."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WANTS IT TO BE MADE "FREE PORT."

One-Cent Postage, Removal of Government Shipbuilding and Map of

The Portland Chamber of Commerce decided yesterday to begin investiga-tions looking to co-operation with the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in a campaign to make Manila instead of Hongkong the commercial metropo-lis of the Far East. The first step in the campaign as outlined by the San Francisco Chamber is to have Manila made a "free port."

The trustees of the chamber also decided to participate in the movement in behalf of 1-cent postage, urging that each class in postal matter be obliged to pay for the cost of services in handling it, the contention being that the profits on one department are eaten up by deficits in other departments of the postal service.

YEARLY DAMAGE IS $5000

Inoculation With Poison, to Which Only Rodents Are Susceptible, Method Adopted and Extermination Is Predicted.

Baiting bread with a bacteriological preparation to give them a disease that is declared can only be contracted by rats and mice, is the latest attempt eing made along the waterfront to exterminate rodents that annually draw tremendous toll from grain docks, steamships and other places, besides being a menace to health. Harbormaster Speler and Dr. Stickney, of the municipal health bureau, were present when tests were started yesterday and in a week or 10 days results are promised. Previously a small batch had been mixed and tried at a poultry-yard on the East Side waterfront which was infested with rats, and for a week it was said not one had for a week it was said not one had been seen. Infected animals are said to pass the disease to others through contact. The suffering pests seek air and water on being theroughly inoculated, so the dead are easily disposed of. The results are to be watched closely and if it is shown that rats are diminished materially a general campaign may be inaugurated.

During the Summer the Health Bureau caused numerous traps to be set on grain and general cargo docks and many rats caught were examined for rodent plague, but it was reported that not a single specimen showed any sign of the malady. Satisfied on that score the authorities have been casting about for an exterminator, as the numerous ships discharged and the numerous ships discharged and loaded from all ports of the world are regarded as a menace while bubons plague exists in some countries. Every precaution has been taken in the way of insisting that ships use rat guards on all lines and at night gangways are raised to prevent the animals reaching shore.

Aboard vessels fumigation has been carried on, but even with that rats docks and the damage wrought each year is considerable. One dock super-intendent estimated that with sacks damaged, grain destroyed and time re-

Numerous cats and some dogs are kept on docks, while traps are in service also, and other methods have been tried, but none has given promise of exterminating the rodents.

The virus has been introduced as a product of the Pasteur Institute, in Paris, and waterfront men feel that it will be helpful in a general campaign.
