THE MORNING OREGONIAN, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1914.

been productive of war as has been the accusation by people who are try-BOY RIDES ON AIR BRAKE Flooks, a rural postman.

wonderful preparedness that the world wonderful preparedness that the world moted with wonder when the present war began has existed for 44 years ing to make the world feel that this war began has existed for 44 years and yet Germany has kept the peace. Germany holds the record in all the world for continuous peace, for there has never been in the world another empire of equal strength that has kept peace for 14 years. And yet they will dare to say that German militarism is a menace to the world."

He attacked the argument that the erman system of militarism has been n unbearable drain on the resources an unbearable drain on the resources of the country, producing statistics to show that of the four great powers. England, France, Germany and Russia —the German empire spends several hundred millions of dollars a year less on per military system than the others. In Germany the per capita cost of na-tional armament, he said, to be 16 marks, in France 29 and in England 29. "There is, perhaps, only one draw-back that can be found to the German military system," he said. "It may be that it still fosters a slight tendency to foster caste and privileged classes. But these things are very diagreeable enjoyed the trip.

But these things are very disagreeable to the educated people of Germany, and we will get rid of them soon, for this war is developing, not a strengthening of the lines of caste and privilege, but of the lines of caste and privilege, but a democratic spirit, and this last small prejudice that may stand against Ger-man militarism is fast disappearing. "The German army is and always has been the greatest educator of the peo-pie. The wonderful growth of German industries is as much due to the disci-pline learned by the workmen in the army as to the scientific advance of our industrial leaders. industrial leaders.

industrial leaders. "Strange as it may seem, the social-istic movement owes its strength and solidarity to the army. For it was there that the Socialists learned the disci-pline, the unity of action, the subordi-nation of the individual to the idea." In the first part of his address Dr. Kuchnemann devoted his time to a refutation of atrocities that have been advanced against the Germans.

Atrocities Held Impossible.

very efficiency of the German which demands iron discipline, army, which demands iron discipline, he held to be enough to make atrocities on the part of individual soldiers im-possible.

"Moreover," he said, 'the world should know that there is no other army in the world that has so many good-hearted and highly civilized men in it as the German army, for the German army is the German nation in arms, and its character is the character of the German people." In contrast to this, he pointed out that the other nations have called to their assistance savages from all parts of the world. The accusations of of the world. The accusations of atrocities made against the Germans he asserted to be due to the desire of the other nations to have something to set off in excuse against the atroci-ties of their own levies of savage

'All of those abominable acts done "All of those abominable acts done officially by the Russians against the wounded and the doctors and nurses and those things that are done by the Turcos and the Senegalese, things that couldn't be told in civilized society, they now accuse against the Germans so that in time of peace when the truth of what their own soldiers have done shall come out, the impression it

GEORGETOWN, Del., Dec. 3.-Frank Robinson, a small boy of Lewes, took an uncomfortable ride to George-town recently, but notwithstanding the GEORGETOWN, Del., When the train solled into Georgewhen the boy awas found perched on the back of the last coach, astride the rubber pipe of the air brake attach-ment and with his feet almost drag-ging on the ties. With the wind whis-tling around him, he was liable at any moment to have been swent from his moment to have been swept from his seat. Instead of being overcome by the exposure, Robinson claimed to have

....... ACTOR TALKS TO MULTNO. MAH LEGISLATIVE DELE-GATION.

"Billy" B. Van.

By special invitation from Ben Selling, members of the Multi-Selling, members of the Multno-mah delegation of the Oregon Legislature listened iast night to an address by Billy B. Van. president of the theatrical branch of the Travelers' Good Government Association of the Government Association of the United States. It was the purpose of the address to interest the Oregon Legislature in the adoption of an amendment to the election laws of the state enabling traveling salesmen and actors, absent from their voting precincts on election day, to have a voice in the selec-tion of officials and vote wher-ever they might be. Several who heard the address expressed a desire to have such a law en-acted.

Industries Would Provide Em-BY LEONE CASE BAER If daringly taking liberties with his tory means for us such a splendidly enjoyable evening as that excellent at the Heilig in Louis N. Parker's at the Hellig in Louis N. Parker's women employed, pause at 16 o'clock "Disreacli," then let us see to it that next Monday morning and resolve to no stickler for mere accuracy seek to buy Made-in-Oregon products when-curtail the imaginative genius of play- ever possible, price and quality being commensurate.

......Herbert Ranson

wrights. The play is a picture-trame in which is hung a portrait finely painted with marvelous skill, the work, more of the actor Arliss than the author Parker. The versatile and fascinating personality of the inimitable Beasonsfield. whose Orientalism made him the most picturesque figure in British history of the last century, affords Mr. Arliss ample scope for the display of his ex-quisite art in characterization. There is in the Arliss portrayal of Disraeli a delicacy that calls to mind the misty loveliness of fine old lace. His is in-deed a rare and precious art, and we marvel quite as much at its technical precision as for that intimate charm of perfection that makes its most potent and entire appeal to those who see. picturesque figure in British history beautiful woman. Disraell's purchase of the Khedive Ismail's Suez Canal shares may not sound like a promising theme for a popular play, but it is all that. From the moment when the prime minister walks into the room with a quip about the peacocks he has been feeding until the close of the piece, when we see him turn toward the door that lads to him turn toward the door that leads to audience sat absolutely enthralled.

him turn toward the door that leads to audience sat absolutely enthralled. There is little, in the ordinary sense, dramatic to be discovered in Disraell's career. There could be no love story in the center of the plot, but this de-ficiency has been beautifully put by by setting forth very charmingly sev-eral sweet domestic scenes which ex-hibit the affection he holds for the con-siderably older woman to whom he is happily married. Too, he is permitted to assume, in the story, a personal in-terest in the love affair of a charming young girl who comes under his pro-tection.

tection. The flesh-and-blood portrait which Mr. Arliss gives of the famous English statesman of Jewish faith is marvelous in its likeness to portraits of Disraeli. His carriage, too, is true to the life in its suggested effort at simulating a ployment for 25,000 More. If you are "with" Oregon and the movement to upbuild the state and artist George Arliss gave us last night keep the majority of its men and commensurate. This is the text of a request being sent broadcast by F. T. Hyskell, secre-tary of the Oregon Industry League, which is inaugurating a movement to increase the home consumption of Made-in-Oregon goods. The movement is launched at this time particularly to induce Oregon people to buy Oregon-made goods at their Christmas shopstubborn cases.

ertion Is That Patronage of Hon

potent and entire appeal to those who see. Arlias Has Opportuality. The author's delightful task, first of all, has been to give Mr. Arlias an adequate opportunity to be Disraell on the stage. The exquisite art of Arliss cried out to represent the elusive per sonality of Beaconsfield, and the author with his capacity for tender and loving reminiscences of the past was commis-sioned to recall a picture of mid-victorian society, with Disraeli's coup, which secures for England the control of the Suez Canal and made Victoria Empress of Italy. To achieve this high and patriotic purpose the prime minister, Disraeli, must circum-vent the machinations of two Russian spies, one of whom is a clever any not

Duy Him One for Christmas Aluminum Cooking Outfit (for auto)

Pocket Knives (big assortment) Kanner Razor Strop (finest ever built-new)

And a Fine Stock of

Gillette Razors and Blades

Ask for "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps

Columbia Hardware Co. Fourth St., Bet. Washington and Stark

Use of Mayr's Wonderful Stom-ach Remedy Brings Surpris-ingly Quick Results.

ATLANTIC EXPRESS

If you want to feel well quick be sure that your stomach is all right. A very large part of human ills are centered in the stomach and the digestive ap-

If you want to feel well quick be sure that your stomach is all right. A very iarge part of human file are centered in the stomach and the digestive ap-carting the stomach and the digestive ap-parture. Thus the stomach and the digestive ap-parture. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, found the way to health in the use of found the way to health in the use of truly remarkable remedy. The first does proves what it will do-and there is no long treatment. Here is what some Oregon people say of the ram-ery. MRS. W. H. HELLMAN, 222 Ains-worth street, Fortland, Cr., wrote: "I m beginning to feel like a different about your wonderful remedy." W. H. GERRISH, Albany, Cr. wrote: "It it had not been for your medicing i

0

