Statistics Indicate Small Surplus for Season.

LARGE TIDEWATER STOCKS

Market Is Firm With Farmers Refusing to Sell and Speculative Holders Confident of Future of Prices.

It is not so certain that the wheat supply in the Pacific Northwest will be exhausted this seasce, in spice of the strong war demand from Europe Statistics based on Shipments to date, the movement during the remainder of the season as indicated by tonnage engagements, and the probable Coast requirements, make it appear that an excess of about 7,500,000 bushels will remain. This surplus, however, may be eliminated, as some reserves will be carried into the new Shorts 24.50 Fatures— This surplus, however, that be curried into the new Bran season by millers in the shape of flour and Suborts season by millers in the shape of flour and January buestem more or less will go to the Orient during January buestem the Winter and Spring. TURKEY MAY NOT SHIP MOHAIR Spring Market Will Also Depend on Condition of Goods Trade.

Mohair dealers are beginning to figure on the effect on next years market of the stoppage of shipments of Turkish hair to England. Much will depend, however, on the domestic trade in the manufactured product. Unless conditions change materially plush buying by railroads will not be much of a factor in the market. The character of the dry goods trade is as yet an uncertainty.

Commenting on the Eastern and European markets for hair, the Boston Commercial Bulletin says;

There has been absolutely nothing new in the local market so far as mohair is concerned. Local handlers report the mar-ket extremely dull and uninteresting. Prices are hardly more than nominal on any grade Milzabeth are now very well sold up, it is said. Most of this hair is understood to be destined for English consumption, as the heavy woolen district is now using more or less of this material in army goods. Some of the buying, however, is reported to be on designed accounts.

BOND DEMAND IS BROADER

European Governments Arranging to Place Additional Credits in This Country-London Financial Markets Are Cheerful.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Continued broad-ening of the demand for high-grade se-curities was the conspicuous feature of the ity moved irregularly. In the stock list submitted by the exchange the weakest fea-ture was New York Central, which re-flected yesterday's dividend aunouncement. fiected yeaterday's dividend announcement.

Boutine news included the November tonnage statement of the United States Steel Corporation, which was more favorable than most forecasts and the Government cotton report, which estimated the 1914-15 yield at almost 15,00c,000 bales without linters. Should this promise be fulfilled, the crop will be the largest in the history of the country. Cotton options broke precipitately on publication of the report.

The leading steel mills, according to fenert, have increased their production thus far this month. Negotiations for the expertanten of large quantities of rails and ties were still pending, likewise the filling of some substantial domestic orders.

Bankers again were in conference with representatives of European governments planning the placing of additional credits in this market. For the first time in several days reichmarks failed to show increasing strength. London's markets were cheerful and the Bank of England statement showed improvement over recent weeks.

STATE MAY CHARGE FEES Opinion on Employment Agencies Given in Washington.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 10 .- Although the voters of Washington at the election last month passed an initiative measure abolishing employment agencies that charge workers fees for procuring jobs for them, the state itself may establish state employment agencies and charge fees. So holds W. V. Tanner, Attorney-General, in an opinion given today to E. W. Olson, State Labor Commissioner.

The question was raised in connection with the proposed law to be passed at the next session of the Legislature, which law would have state employ-

EMPLOYMENT FEE QUERY

State of Washington Dublous as to Right to Charge for Jobs.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 10,—(Special.)
—Whether the state can charge labor-ers fees for procuring employment, through Initiative Measure No. 8, through initiative Measure No. 8, adopted at the recent election, prohibits persons or private corporations from doing so, is the question asked Attorney-General Tanner by the commission of employers, employes, Legislators and others, appointed by Labor Commissioner Olson to draft legislation providing for a state system of employ ment bureaus,

The protest against the private agency system that culminated in passage of the anti-fee bill was not against the fees but against alleged combinations between employment agents and camp foremen.

RESOLUTIONS TO REORGANIZE CANNERY ADOPTED.

District Comittees Authorized to Solicit Canital Stock Sufficient to Establish Cash Basis.

-Members of the Benton County Growers' Association met yesterday at the courthouse in this city to disat the courthouse in this city to discues plans for the camery here. The past season has been a bad one, the overhead charges having eaten up a large part of the gross receipts. It is proposed by the board of directors that the organization be reorganized and changed to a stock corporation instead of a co-operative association.

B. W. Johnson, chairman of the board of directors, addressed the growers today, telling them "it became apparent to the board last July that unless a change in the cannery manless a change in the cannery man-agement was made there would be a decrease in the receipts of fresh prod-The Benton County Growers' Asso-successfully for two years, last year doing a business of approximately $55,000. Six hundred growers com-posed the organization, and each mem-ber had only one share of stock. Re-ports, read today, show that the receipts this year were only about one-third as much as last year's.

Growers signed confracts following the annual meeting last year more readily than the year previous, and al-readily than the year previous, and although the contracts received totaled less than the actual receipts of fresh products at the cannery, the contracts signed in 1913 totaled only a small per cent of the actual receipts.

The growers adopted a resolution indorsing a plan to reorganize the association into one having a capital stock sufficient to put the cannery management on a cash basis, or about $38,000. The board of directors was authorised to divide the county into districts and appoint a committee in each district to solicit capital stock. The committees are to report at the annual meeting in January. innual meeting in January.
