

FRENCH ADVANCE IN LA PRETRE FOREST

Germans Repeatedly Repulsed in Violent Attacks to Southeast of Ypres.

ASSAULTS ON ENDS FAIL

Kaiser's Forces Also Are Unsuccessful in Various Offensive Movements in Vosges, Says Official Paris Report.

PARIS, Dec. 13.—The following official communication was issued tonight by the French War Office:

"It is announced that two German attacks at the extreme of the front have failed. One was to the northeast of Ypres and the other against the railway station at Aspach (Alsace)."

An important advance by the French troops in the forest of La Pretre, in France, and the repulse of three violent German infantry attacks to the southeast of Ypres, Belgium, were the outstanding features of the official communication issued earlier in the day. The statement reads:

"The day of December 13 was particularly quiet. The enemy's activity was shown especially by an intermittent cannonade at different points on the front. In the region to the southeast of Ypres there were ventures, however, three violent infantry attacks, which were repulsed.

"In the Vosges the enemy attacked on various occasions the post of La Mere Henri, to the northwest of Senones, but was repulsed."

FRENCH ATTACK IS REPULSED

Engagement Over Extensive Front Is Favorable to Germans.

BERLIN (via wireless to London), Dec. 13.—Today's official communication issued by the German army headquarters announces that an attack made by the French troops over the wide area in France yesterday was repulsed by the Germans. The statement reads:

"Following their unsuccessful attack on Apremont, December 11, the French again attacked yesterday, over a large front, by way of Prieux, where they killed 600 prisoners and a large number of men killed and wounded. Our losses in this engagement amounted to about 100 wounded. The rest of the day passed quietly in the western theater."

SIMPSON CASE DELAYED

Search for Witnesses Halts Grand Jury Inquiry at Coquille.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Dec. 13.—(Special.)—Report on the Simpson case, now under investigation at Coquille, by the Coos County grand jury, was made before Wednesday. A number of witnesses wanted could not be found last week and the grand jury was sent out Friday and Saturday to summon them from the back districts.

Among the witnesses called are William Bortman, a cooper, and Joseph Coach, a chauffeur, who is living at the head of the Sixes River; Edward Black, also a former employe of Coach, who lives in the Coos County; Jesse Miller, a car driver, now working in an isolated logging camp in the southern part of the county; Timothy Hadsall, who is engaged in a tie camp below Bandon, and Charles Long, formerly a bartender in the Coach saloon at Bandon.

TWO HOMES ARE LOOTED

Police Scour City to Find Holdup Men in Cases Lately Reported.

Two burglaries were reported to the police yesterday. Frank Rickett, 727 Clackamas street, reported that thieves had entered his house through the rear door. The loot consisted of a brooch, a ring, and a pin, as well as diamonds.

W. E. Keller, 135 Twenty-third street, reported that thieves had robbed him of a kodak, a woman's gold watch and several articles of jewelry. Hyde and Howell are working on both cases.

The police are scouring the city to find the perpetrators of the recent robbery and holdups. W. M. Moran and Tom Morrison, two laborers were arrested by Patrolman Tennant early yesterday for investigation in connection with the robbery of Frank A. Taucher last week. Detectives Coleman and Snow took the men to see Taucher, but he could not identify them.

IDLE MEN APPEAL TO ROME

Great Mass Meetings in Italy Cite Need to Government.

ROME, Dec. 13.—Great mass meetings were held at various places throughout Italy today to call the attention of the government to the grave situation created by the unemployment and by the steady rise in the price of foodstuffs.

The government was urged to adopt immediate and adequate measures of relief and recommending particularly that large public works, capable of employing thousands of men, be undertaken.

Special delegates were appointed to discuss the situation with the members of the Cabinet and to devise remedies.

PATRIARCH IS BURIED

NO POMP ATTENDS FUNERAL OF LATTER DAY SAINT.

Quorum of Apostles Calls Meeting to Choose Successor and Probably Will Hear Voice of Prophecy.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 13.—Without flowers, drapery or pageantry, the body of Joseph Smith, president of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, who died Thursday, was buried here today.

In accordance with the directions given by the patriarch on his deathbed, the services were simple. A few of his favorite hymns were sung. Elder Joseph L. Smith, a lifelong friend, preached the sermon.

The body lay in state in the local temple throughout the daylight hours. During the services a reverent throng crowded the church and stood in the snow outside to do homage to the memory of the dead patriarch. It was a spirit of quiet respect, rather than deep grief, that manifested itself, for several times on his deathbed President Smith said he would rather die than be buried in a tomb.

"Don't try to keep me," he said. "I have lived my allotted years."

Immediately after the services the quorum of 12 apostles, the highest ruling body in the church, called a meeting for tomorrow morning to choose a successor to the late patriarch. Several years ago Joseph Smith announced a divine revelation that his son, Frederick M. Smith, should be his successor. It is believed the voice of the prophecy will be accepted.

PAYNE HONORS OFFICIAL

INTERNATIONAL NOTABLES ATTEND FUNERAL OF STATESMAN.

Sixty Members of Two Houses of Congress Escort Body From Washington to Home in Auburn.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The official life of the Nation today paid final tribute to the late Seneca E. Payne, for more than 30 years a member of the House of Representatives from New York. Black-garbed legislators, executives and members of the judiciary in their somber flowing robes were joined by representatives of foreign countries in the first formal funeral ceremony held in the chamber of the House in 15 years.

The cloud of sorrow hung heaviest over a little group of legislative veterans. They were the Republican "old guard," companions-in-arms of the dead statesman in the legislative battles of a quarter of a century ago, headed by "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the dead man's chief in many a hard-fought struggle of policy and statecraft.

"I swore I would never enter this chamber again until I came with a certificate of election in my hand," said Mr. Cannon, his square jaw trembling, "but I had to come to the funeral, and my body was left to lie in state until late this afternoon, when, escorted by a committee of 50 members of the House and Senate, I escorted the body to Auburn, N. Y., the home of Mr. Payne."

The special will be run, for the re-

CELEBRATED NAMES

SEEK REPARATION

Descendants of Four ex-Presidents of France Fighting With Army at Front.

MANY SEE HARD SERVICE

One Senator and Three Deputies Are Killed and Others Wounded. Celebrated Pacifist Prisoner in Hands of Germans.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Names which have become famous in recent French history appear daily in dispatches from the front. Descendants of four ex-presidents of the French republic are fighting in the armies. They are: Lazare Hippolyte Sadi-Carnot, who is a Major in an infantry regiment; Claude Casimir-Perier, who is a Lieutenant in an infantry regiment and recently was wounded; the Duke of Magenta, a son of Marshal MacMahon, a Brigadier General, and Paul Loubet, an infantry Lieutenant.

Ex-Premiers and Cabinet Ministers are represented by sons. For instance, Rene Viviani's two sons have seen hard service, one of them having been wounded. While the other disappeared after a battle in Belgium. Paul Doumer, who was a candidate for the Presidency, has served several years and one of his sons having been wounded and one of them having since died from the effects of his wounds. Sons of Theophile Delcasse and Gabriel Hanotaux have been wounded.

National Legislators at Front. Many former Ministers, Senators and Deputies have taken up active service in the army. Some of the members of the Senate and Chamber are engaged in the service either because they were called to the colors or enlisted voluntarily. One of the latter is a member of the upper House, Senator Raymond, and three Deputies, Goujon, Nourier and Prost, have been wounded. Many others have been wounded, including Andre Maginot, ex-Under Secretary of State for War, who was struck down at the battle of the Marne. Other Deputies wounded are Henry Franklin-Bouillon; Maurice Long, who holds the rank of Captain of Infantry; Paul Fugeres-Cast, a member of Frederic Passy, the celebrated pacifist, who was wounded and taken prisoner in charge of a regiment of cuirassiers in which he was serving as a corporal; Henri Labrousse, a Second-Lieutenant of infantry, who was promoted to a higher rank and held a line of battle after he had been wounded while leading his men into action, and Andre Buffet, a grandson of an ex-President of the republic, who was wounded while serving in the trenches.

Senators in Uniform, Despite Ages. Other Deputies now in uniform are: Emile Bender, who is a sergeant of infantry; Paul Fugeres-Cast, who is a volunteer on the staff; Henri Tournaud, who commands a battalion of infantry; Deputy Nollet, who is engaged in the army service corps; L. L. Klotz, an ex-Minister, who is a Lieutenant-Colonel on the staff; Claude Cochin, an infantry Lieutenant; Marcel Bouilloux-Lafont, an artillery sergeant; Louis Deschamps, an infantry adjutant; Deputy Prat, a private in an infantry company; and Joseph L.
